NOTIFICATION.

The 12th November 1878.—The following application made by the Commissioners of the Municipality of Darjeeling, under the Public Works Loan Act, 1871, for a loan of one lakh of rupees required for the purpose of improving and increasing the water-supply of the Municipality of Darjeeling, is hereby published for general information :—

D. BARBOUR,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Application made by the undersigned Municipal Commissioners of Darjeeling for a loan under the Local Public Works Act of 1871.

1*st.*—The loan is required for the following purposes, viz. :—

The increase and improvement of the water-supply of Darjeeling, which is insufficient for the purposes of the station during four months of the year by tapping springs on the western slopes of the Sinchal range ; the estimated cost being Rs. 1,32,000.

2*nd.*—The amount of the loan applied for is one lakh of rupees (Rs. 1,00,000) the balance of estimated cost being met by a special grant from Government.

3*rd.*—The security offered for the above loan will be as follows :—

		Rs.
I.—Proceeds of house tax estimated to yield at 7½ per cent.	...	10,500
II.—Horse and pony tax		500
III.—Rent of locations		4,000
IV.—Bazar rents, &c.		15,000
V.—Native village rents		3,000
VI.—Pound fines		500
Total	...	33,500

4*th.*—The house and horse tax are levied under Act V (B.C.) of 1876.

The rents of location (with which those of the native villages are to be closed) were first assigned to the use of the Sanitarium in 1838. This was confirmed in 1854, again in orders No. 217 of the 14th January 1864, and finally in the Resolution of the Government of Bengal, dated 27th June 1873.

The bazar rents are derived from buildings erected by the Municipality out of its revenues and situated on land made over to it by Government.

The pound fines were made over to the Municipality under orders dated 14th October 1862, contained in letter No. 3625 from the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Superintendent of Darjeeling.

5*th.*—It is proposed to take the whole sum at once, as the works should be completed before the 1st April 1879.

The Commissioners undertake to repay the loan in equal half-yearly instalments together with interest at 4½ per cent. in thirty years, viz. Rs. 3,053-8 on the 1st April and the 1st October in each year.

6*th.*—As the value of the property owned by the Commissioners annually increases, an estimate framed on a three-years' average would be considerably below its proper value, but the following table shows the actual proceeds of the various sources of income for 1877-78 :—

			Rs

1. The Bench shall try such cases as may be referred to it by either of the Stipendiary Magistrates, subject to the provisions of rule 8: provided further that no case triable by the High Court only shall be so referred.

(Here insert dates and time of sitting.)

3. The Honorary Magistrates will sit in the rotation arranged by the Commissioner of Police, but any Magistrate not named may sit, unless the Chief Magistrate otherwise directs.

The Stipendiary Magistrates shall be ex-officio members of benches.

When an Honorary Magistrate, named for a particular day, fails to attend owing to illness or from any other cause, the Chief Magistrate may, at his discretion, summon another member or direct that the Bench may proceed without the absent member; provided that no case set down for hearing before the Bench shall proceed unless a Stipendiary Magistrate, or, in his absence, two Honorary Magistrates be present.

8. The Bench may hold one or more adjourned sittings, if this be found necessary for the disposal of business, or of part-heard cases; but it shall be open to the Bench at the close of its regular sittings either to refer unheard cases back to the Magistrate under whose order of reference they received them, or to postpone them to some other day as may seem most convenient. Any part-heard case postponed to a further sitting of the Bench may be proceeded with if any member of the Bench has been present at the previous hearing in the case, but subject to the provisions of section 156 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act.

Any part-heard case may, however, be sent back to the Magistrate under whose order of reference it was received, should it appear unsuited for trial by a Bench. In such cases the Magistrate shall recommence the trial.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under section 16, or making a reference under section 17, of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the village channel, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary exceeds two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a village channel so constructed and maintained, that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a)—the water will pass without wastage;

(b)—the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water to any cultivator whose fields have not been prepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than one cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water channels as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

6. The above rule shall only apply to those cases in which the non-observance of it has been discovered previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 38.

7. Persons desirous (i) of constructing a village channel, or (ii) of taking water therefrom, or (iii) of taking water from any outlet provided by Government, shall prefer a written application to the Divisional Canal Officer, or to some officer duly authorised by him to receive such applications. In the first case (i), if the application be received by an officer subordinate to the Divisional Canal Officer, it shall be forwarded to him for orders.

8. An application under Rule 7 shall, if granted, and unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation, without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants appoint a headman, known or ascertained, to be a substantial person possessed of property, to attend to their interests, to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the village channel according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the village channel. His appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer and of the Collector, and he shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Divisional Canal Officer shall appoint a headman, whose appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Collector.

(f)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (Appendix A) to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (Appendix B) from such officer.

(g)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates that there is likely to be difficulty in the realization of the water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector, in whose option it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(h)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the village channel, may, subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer, be admitted as shareholders in it, on paying their proportionate share of the first cost and maintenance thereof, to be determined by the amount of irrigable land held by them.

(i)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or appointment of headmen, shall be reported to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

11. The allowance to the headman of a village channel for collecting the water-rates shall be 4 per cent. on the amount actually paid in by him. If the headman shall satisfy the Collector that arrears have not accrued through any negligence on his part, it shall be within the discretion of the Collector to pay him the allowance on the whole or on any part of such arrears.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headmen of village channels. For longer closures the authority of then Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Canal Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries, or other channels, shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission of water-rates, under section 76 (b), shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss, the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the rates. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made in writing by the parties concerned, either in person or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop. 18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

26. When the lease under Rules 20 to 25 is for the supply of water to khurreef crops, or to all irrigable rubbee crops in the village, a list in Form E should be submitted with the application, showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field crop to be grown, and amount payable, and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area for which the water-rates shall be calculated shall never be less than the area specified in the three-years' lease. Should more land be irrigated than is specified in the three-years' lease, the same shall be chargeable with annual water-rates.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (Appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor, the Divisional Canal Officer shall, under section 82, furnish such contractor with a written authority to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under Rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Divisional Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in Rule 10. Such headman shall receive five per cent. on the assessment, but the Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule and of Rules 29 and 30.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz., five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower rate if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the collection of the amount of charges so imposed.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a field, irrigated by the canal water, fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates shall be levied on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments and by the addition of small water channels as prescribed in Rule 6, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer must certify that the field was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The statements of the amounts demandable for water-rates levied under the rules in force shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," as herein below stated, and shall be paid within one month of such dates :—

Water-rate on sugarcane and spring crops, wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—15th April.

Water-rate on summer crops, cheena, &c.,—15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops, early rice, Indian corn, murwa, &c.,—30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops, aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—31st January.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents, in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rate shall be made by the Collector in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer.

43. Objections to the demand addressed to the Collector shall, if remission be claimed on the score of short supply or of any matter affecting the Irrigation Department, be referred for orders to the Divisional Canal Officer. The collection of the demand shall not be suspended on account of any such objection.

44. Claims for remission referred by the Collector and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

45. A remission statement signed by the Superintending Canal Officer shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

46. If the Divisional Canal Officer reject the claim, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

47. In special cases not otherwise provided for by these rules, and in cases in which water-rates are not recoverable owing to the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, the Collector will obtain the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the remission of such sums as he may deem irrecoverable. The details of such remission shall be communicated at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

48. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the khatianni, whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift," or as to the measurements and entries of class of crop, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the headman of his water-course, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop.

49. No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, pass, or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

50. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

51. The ameen appointed to measure up the area irrigated in any village shall, before leaving it, make over the khusras to a mohurir, who will then compile the khatianni. A copy of the khatianni will be taken by the putwaree, who must as a rule make it himself; but if he cannot from any cause do so, the mohurir must make it, and the putwaree is to be held responsible that he gets a copy.

52. The copy of the khatianni thus made shall be hung up in some conspicuous place in the village, and slips in the prescribed form (Appendix F), showing the amount he will have to pay, area irrigated, &c., shall be prepared by the putwaree and given to each ryot.

53. The allowance to the putwaree for the above work shall be 2 per cent. on the collections, and shall be paid to him by the Collector on his being satisfied that the work has been properly done. No allowance will be made to putwarees in leases granted under Rule 25.

54. The measurements of each crop irrigated shall be made as soon as practicable, and every care should be taken to have the khatianni hung up in the village at least fifteen days before the crop is cut, so that the ryot may make his complaints, if he have any, in good time.

55. In case of any subsequent alteration of the khatianni owing to correction of clerical errors, &c., such alteration shall be at once communicated to the putwaree to enable him to correct the village copy and slips accordingly.

56. The zilladar shall submit his check measurements in a form (Appendix G) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall also check the ameens' measurements as often as he possibly can. If it be found that any ameen systematically makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal, and shall be declared incapable of obtaining further employment under Government.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 29th October 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for 1877-78.

The circumstances of the year 1877-78 were favourable to the progress of education. The financial position of the Government no longer compelled it to enforce those reductions in expenditure which had to some extent crippled the operations of the previous year, and the educational grant was raised from Rs. 24,67,236 to Rs. 25,10,940. The removal of this absolute limitation of expenditure stimulated and developed private effort in a corresponding degree, and while the gross expenditure from Government treasuries advanced from Rs. 24,61,599 to Rs. 25,19,861, the departmental receipts were raised from Rs. 4,71,814 to Rs. 5,19,803. The net Government expenditure amounted, therefore, to Rs. 20,00,058, showing an increase of only some Rs. 10,000 over the net expenditure of the previous year. It is a source of just satisfaction to the Government to find that its efforts in promoting education are so promptly and efficiently seconded by corresponding exertions on the part of those for benefit the department of education chiefly exists, and that three-fourths of the additional expenditure which the Government was prepared to incur have been met by increased contributions from the people at large.

2. The figures of receipts adopted above are those furnished by the Accountant-General, and they refer only to those sums which have been credited in Government treasuries. The departmental return of receipts and expenditure, which includes the charges on account of medical education (Rs. 2,24,000) and of buildings constructed by the Public Works Department (Rs. 72,000), shows also the amount of private contributions in schools of all classes. From this statement it appears that out of a total expenditure on education of, in round numbers, Rs. 44,85,000, the Government contribution amounted to Rs. 22,85,000, while the people paid Rs. 22,00,000, their contributions in the previous year having been Rs. 19,82,000. Hence the Government contribution to the total cost of education, which amounted in 1875-76 to 57 per cent. and in 1876-77 to 53 per cent., has again decreased during the year 1877-78 to 51 per cent. of the gross expenditure. The Director points out that, owing probably to different principles of classification, the statement of expenditure furnished by the Accountant-General differs to some extent in the total, and to a large extent under separate heads, from his own departmental returns. He will be requested to place himself in communication with the Accountant-General, with the view of assimilating the principles on which educational receipts and charges are classified in the public and the departmental accounts.

3. In the Resolution on the Director's report for 1876-77, it was shown that, while there had been some increase in the number of schools of organized instruction and a slight decrease in the number of pupils in those schools, the increase had been confined to the department of primary instruction, while nearly every branch of secondary instruction had suffered loss. At the same time it was shown that the total number of schools, aided and unaided, which were known to the department, had advanced from 17,850 to 21,478, and the number of pupils in them from 535,804 to 589,351. The returns for the year 1877-78 show that education has entirely recovered from the temporary check to which it was exposed in the previous year. The increase in the number of schools is not only as great in extent as in that year, but is much more satisfactory in character. On the 31st March 1878 the total number of schools had increased from 21,478 to 26,218, and that of pupils from 589,351 to 641,400. Practically the whole of this increase has taken place in schools of organized instruction, that is, in those which are supervised more or less effectively by officers of the Education Department, and which receive or compete for Government aid on certain fixed conditions. The number of such schools has increased from 15,848 with 468,579 pupils to 19,752 with 531,168 pupils; and the increase has been spread over all branches of instruction and over every class of schools. Unaided schools, which, though not under the inspection of educational officers, have furnished returns to the department, have increased from 5,630 to 6,466, while the number of pupils in them has diminished from 120,772 to 110,232. The cause of this decrease is explained in the following manner. Indigenous schools have been discovered in Behar in numbers large enough to make up, and more than make up, for the loss in other divisions; but as the average number of pupils to each such school in Behar is only 11, or less than half the corresponding number in Bengal, the net result has been a decrease in the number of pupils.

4. The detailed figures are shown in the following table, in which the schools are classified according to the source of their income and the grant by which they are maintained :—

5. An examination of this table shows that, while Government schools have suffered loss (owing to the closing of seven normal schools), the number of their pupils has steadily increased. Grant-in-aid schools have undergone a reduction of 78, of which some were mission primary schools, closed on account of diminished contributions from the parent societies and the consequent contraction of educational operations in India; while from others the grants were withdrawn on the ground that they had for years past been in an unsatisfactory state, and no hope could be entertained of their improvement. The loss in circle schools, which exist chiefly in the Presidency and Dacca Divisions, is confined to the Presidency Division, and more especially to the 24-Pergunnahs, in which district the circle grant appears to have been administered much less successfully, as regards both the quantity and the quality of the instruction, than in Dacca and the neighbouring districts of Eastern Bengal. In those districts the circle grant is almost exclusively devoted to secondary education, as it was intended finally to be, and some of the very best of the middle schools or circle schools; in the Presidency Division, on the contrary, the number of circle schools above the primary stage is insignificant. The administration of this grant has by recent orders been transferred from the Magistrates to the Circle Inspectors, who will doubtless bear in mind the fact that the circle grant was expressly intended to create middle vernacular out of primary schools at small cost. Of the increase of 4,000 in the number of primary schools, the chief share is contributed by the divisions of Burdwan and Orissa, in certain districts of which the system of payment by results has been either introduced or largely extended during the past year.

6. Adopting the nomenclature recently sanctioned by Government,* the following table shows the progress of education for the last two years, the class of instruction being now taken as the basis of classification:—

Though one unaided college has ceased to furnish returns, the number of pupils receiving collegiate instructions shows a marked and satisfactory increase. Under the head of secondary instruction there is a gain of 90 schools and 827 pupils; this, however, does not measure the whole extent of the increase, since schools for the education of Europeans and Eurasians, which up to last year were merged in the general body of secondary schools, middle or higher, have now been rightly entered as a separate class. If these schools be taken into account, there is a total gain under secondary instruction of 126 schools and 4,256 pupils. The loss in higher English schools is only apparent, those for the education of European boys being now transferred to their proper class. Lower English schools, of which in the previous year there were 112, have under late orders of Government† disappeared from the returns. They no longer exist as a separate class; and the individual schools have been transferred, some to the class of middle English schools, others to that of middle vernacular schools, and others again to that of lower vernacular schools out of which they originally sprung. All these classes of schools manifest considerable progress, both in numbers and in attendance, the extent of which is by no means explained by the transfer just described, but affords convincing proof of the vitality, no less than of the stability of this important branch of education. The Lieutenant-Governor observed, in the Resolution upon the last report, that the middle schools were the weakest part of our educational system, and that special efforts should be made to strengthen and improve them. He is glad to think that the operations of the year have tended in some degree to bring about this desirable result.

† Resolution No. 3005, dated 16th October 1877.

7. The primary schools supported or aided by Government have increased during the year from 12,272 with 302,550 pupils, to 16,042 with 360,322 pupils. Towards the maintenance of these schools the Government contributed a sum of Rs. 2,72,000, out of a total expenditure from all sources of Rs. 7,81,000. It follows, therefore, that for the support of each primary school, with an average of 22 pupils, the Government pays Rs. 17 a year out of a total cost of Rs. 49. The figures showing the private expenditure on these schools cannot of course be regarded as trustworthy in any high degree; but they at least point to the conclusion that, taking one district with another, the policy of Government with regard to these schools is being understood and acted on; that the schools are village schools established and maintained chiefly by the people for the people; and it is believed that the Government contribution is now known to be of the nature of a subsidy, paid to the schoolmasters as an inducement to them to teach, and as a reward for teaching, those subjects of elementary liberal education which find no place in the ordinary course of the village pathsala.

8. In his report for 1876-77, the Director expressed at length his views upon the character of the instruction imparted in the indigenous schools of the country, the effect of the impulse given to primary education by the orders of 1872, the present position of the aided schools with regard to the unaided schools of the country, and the relation and duties of Government to both classes of schools. These views received the general approval of the Lieutenant-Governor, and the experience of another year has established their soundness. In brief, they were as follow:—

(1.) That throughout the country there is an 'outer circle' of indigenous pathsalas, maintained by the independent efforts of the people, within which lies the 'inner circle' of the aided schools, identical in origin with the former, but differing in character since Government has taken them in hand.

(2.) That the margin between the inner and the outer circle is greater or less in different parts of the country, but that up to the limits of the outer circle the spread of popular education is possible.

(3.) That the question of extending education beyond that outer circle has no practical interest for the present generation.

(4.) That the difference between the indigenous pathsalas and those which Government has taken in hand is mainly the difference between a technical and a liberal education, that of the indigenous pathsalas being confined to the needs of a cultivator's or artizan's daily life; and that it is by liberalising to some extent the education imparted in those pathsalas, without removing their technical character, that they are made available for elementary popular education.

(5.) That while the necessary result of the action of Government is to modify the course of instruction in all schools which come under its influence, yet that their character as village schools should not be lost sight of; that the Government grant must not be regarded as their chief means of support, nor must the Government standards displace those useful subjects of instruction which have given the pathsalas their chief value in the eyes of successive generations.

9. These principles, which have already been accepted and carried out in many districts, the Lieutenant-Governor desires again to impress upon all officers concerned in the management of primary education. They seem to lead naturally, if not necessarily, to the general adoption of the system of payment by results, which the Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction has now been introduced, in one form or another, into nearly half the districts of Bengal. Without wishing to bind district officers, who have, as a rule, administered the primary grant entrusted to them with considerable ability and success, to any one mode of administration, and while fully recognizing the different treatment which is called for by the circumstances of different districts, Sir Ashley Eden desires to call the attention of district officers to those paragraphs (44 to 100) in the Director's report in which the state of primary education in each district of Bengal is described, and the different systems in force discussed. And in reference to the difficulty which some officers have felt in introducing a system of payment by results, whether owing to the dearth of inspecting officers, or to the special character of the district and its population, the Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs in the opinions expressed by the Director in the following passage which refers especially to the district of Dacca:—

"The practice of paying a rupee for an annual return, even without any examination of pupils, has this advantage that it helps pro tanto to bring schools into existence, or at least to preserve them; that it forces them upon the notice of the inspecting officers who therefore cannot help learning the extent and character of the 'outer circle;' and that it finally makes it an easy matter to introduce a system of payment by results in strict accordance with the merits of the pathsalas and the proficiency of the pupils, the goal to which all our efforts should tend." The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the system of payment by results will, if only in its simplest form, be now tried in every district.

10. The Director refers to the need of a definite method of classification of primary schools, wherever the system of payment by results has been introduced, and points out that schools of precisely the same character are classed in one district as aided and in another as unaided. Pathsalas, in fact, that are in any way affected by the Government system are of three classes: firstly, stipendiary pathsalas, or those whose teachers receive a definite monthly payment; secondly, rewarded pathsalas, which are under inspection, and whose teachers or pupils receive rewards in accordance with the results of an annual or other periodical examination; thirdly, registered pathsalas, in which the teachers receive a small fixed sum, generally one rupee, for the submission of annual returns. Beyond all these lie the indigenous pathsalas of the country, those of them, that is, which as yet stand aloof from the Government system and are unaffected by its offers. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the three kinds of schools above named should be classed together, even though the only aid which some of them may receive is the small retaining fee for the submission of returns. The important fact with reference to all of them is that, in a greater or less degree, they come under the influence of the Government system. It is true that the results of that influence belong to the future rather than to the present, but it is not the less certain that schools of the simplest kind, when brought under inspection and control, and presented with a new incentive to progress and a new aim, will improve in course of time. All such schools belong essentially to one system of organization; the fact whether any given school in any single year earns or does not earn rewards by the performances of its pupils is comparatively unimportant; and all the necessary information required by Government can be given in a separate statement showing the number of schools under organization and the number of those that succeed at the central examinations.

11. From what has preceded, it will be understood that the increase of 4,000 in the number of primary schools means not that this number of absolutely new schools has been established, but that that number of schools already existing, but hitherto unaided, have been taken up into the Government system, have been placed under the supervision of officers of the Education Department, and have offered themselves for future examination, either in the subjects which they have all along taught, or in those additional subjects which the Government desires to introduce. The chief increase has taken place in the districts of Burdwan, Midnapore, and especially Cuttack, which add 600, 500, and 2,300 schools respectively to the number of the previous year. Mr. Larminie has introduced into Burdwan the system of small stipends and large rewards which last year proved so successful in his hands in Bankoora. To introduce this system into Burdwan was, as the Director points out, to revolutionise primary education there; for Burdwan was the district, above all others, in which the pathsalas had been 'improved' to an extent which seemed seriously to impair their popular character. In Cuttack the example set last year in the adjoining district of Balasore has been followed, and in some respects improved upon, with the result that 14,102 pupils from 2,650 pathsalas presented themselves for examination in November 1877, and that 6,983 candidates passed by a higher or lower standard in reading and writing, and 4,271 in arithmetic. The district of Midnapore has now regained its position (wrested from it last year by Bankoora) at the head of the list as regards the proportion of pupils to population in all schools coming under the cognizance of the department, the numerical ratio per thousand being for Midnapore 28·75 and for Balasore and Bankoora, which most nearly approach it, 27·79 and 27·15 respectively.

12. Other districts show a large increase in the number of schools under organization, though the increase is in no case so striking as in those which have been named. The system of rewards introduced last year into the 24-Pergunnahs is now fully established; but the Director's report points to some shortcomings of the scheme which deserve the Magistrate's careful attention in consultation with the Circle Inspector. The Magistrates of Hooghly and Howrah have, at the instance of the Circle Inspector, introduced a somewhat different, but very simple, system into their respective districts. In Moorshedabad, in which district the margin of unaided indigenous schools seems to be exceptionally small, a system of payment by results has likewise been introduced. Experiments in the same direction have been attempted, though as yet to a limited extent, in the districts of Rajshahye and Dinagepore. In Rungpore the introduction of the system is said to have been attended with failure, the number of aided primary schools being less than half what it was in 1876. The circumstances are fully set forth in the report, and should receive the serious consideration of the officers concerned. The Director is of opinion that the failure may be ascribed to two causes: firstly, that the examinations for rewards follow each other too closely, thus leading the teachers to look to Government, rather than to the people, as their chief source of support, and perpetuating the disadvantages of the stipendiary system without the comparatively large stipends which made it attractive; and secondly, that the rewards when earned are not punctually paid. Throughout the division of Dacca, with the single exception of the Backergunge district, the old system of payments is still in force. The efforts of the local officers have been directed to the improvement rather than to the extension of popular education. The Director remarks that under the present system the aided schools in the Dacca district are probably surpassed by none in any part of the country. What seems now to be most needed is some scheme for fostering and liberalising the indigenous schools of the country, between which and the aided schools a gulf is fixed that grows wider year by year. In Chittagong, the present state of primary education is described as unsatisfactory; "yet," adds the Director, "the permanent economical conditions of the district are very favourable to progress, and only two years ago Chittagong occupied a very high rank in regard to primary education."

13. In the division of Patna the event of chief importance has been the attempt, more or less successfully carried out in different districts, to collect statistics of unaided schools, which have now been registered to the number of 1,600. Thus the first necessary steps have been taken to extend the limits of the 'inner' to those of the 'outer' circle of primary instruction. Throughout the division of Bhagulpore the Circle Inspector, with the cordial support of the Commissioner, has secured the introduction of a system which utilises the leading gurus of each district in the work of inspection, instruction, and examination. The result of the introduction of the system into Monghyr is described by the Director as startling; but he seems to feel some doubt whether the results have not been in some measure exaggerated. In Maldah the transition from the old to the new system has been attended with a certain degree of disorganization, although the circumstances furnish no ground for apprehension as to the future.

14. Of the state and prospects of primary education in the backward province of Chota Nagpore, a very hopeful account is given. The Director cites with approbation the remarks of the Deputy Inspector of Hazareebagh, who points out that in former days, if there were schools in the province, the poor cultivator at any rate had no share in them. "I can venture to state," adds the Deputy Inspector, "from my experience of 11 years in the province, that, before the introduction of the now celebrated scheme of Sir George Campbell, one might go from village to village for many miles without meeting a man or a boy who could read him a letter in Hindi. But what changes have been wrought in the short period of five years! Wherever you go now, the first thing that attracts your notice is the rural pathsala, and there is scarcely a village of average population in which you have not the institution, and in which you may not come across at least five or six lads who are able to read and write."

Unlike Chota Nagpore, the province of Orissa abounded, from very old days, in village schools of an elementary and thoroughly popular kind; and this circumstance has made it peculiarly easy to introduce with success, in two out of the three districts of the province, the system of payment by results. It is a source of gratification to the Lieutenant-Governor to observe that in the three most backward portions of Bengal, namely in Behar, Chota Nagpore, and Orissa, the want of vernacular school-books of every class, which is the great and permanent obstacle to the progress of primary education, is being successfully overcome.

15. At the primary scholarship examination, the standard for which was generally kept at a high level, 12,985 candidates from 4,474 schools competed, and of these 5,647 from 2,996 schools passed. The increase in the number of candidates and in that of successful candidates manifests the sound development, and the steady growth of a system which is now thoroughly engrafted on the indigenous stock of primary education. The extent of that development is measured in another way by the fact that the number of pupils in primary schools throughout Bengal, who are able to read, write, and understand easy sentences in their mother-tongue, has advanced during the year from 103,000 to 153,000. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to concur in the Director's opinion that the district officers, working through the Deputy and Sub-Inspectors, and with more or less assistance from the Circle Inspectors, may well be congratulated on their successful administration of the primary grant. At the same time the circumstances of some districts seem to make it advisable to repeat the warning of last year, that the chief function of the primary grant is to promote primary education, not to force people out of their natural social position by giving them an education which unfits them for the ordinary duties of such a life as is open to them; that the occasional development of a primary school into one of a higher class, though it need not be repressed, is to be left to come naturally and only as the result of an actual demand; that no forcing is to be attempted; and that the sound progress of a district in primary education is to be tested only by the proportion of pupils who can read, write, and cipher. In the last year's resolution on this subject doubts were expressed whether the primary scholarships were chiefly won, as it was intended they should be won, by pupils of the humbler classes. It is satisfactory to find that these doubts are unfounded. The Director has taken steps to ascertain the social position of those candidates to whom scholarships were awarded at the last examination. Of 403 scholarships, 127 were gained by boys of the middle class, and 275 by boys of the lower, including 171 sons of cultivating ryots. In other words, the lower classes, who form 81 per cent. of the pupils of the pathsalas, hold 68 per cent. of the scholarships, a result which must be regarded as satisfactory.

It is also noticeable that half the number of scholars in the lower classes of society are also of the lower castes of Hindoos. The Mahomedans at present win only half their proper share of scholarships, looking to their numbers. But in the Rajshahye Division they gained nearly their full number, while in the 24-Pergunnahs the pupils of Mahomedan gurus were particularly successful.

16. The area of secondary instruction has been narrowed during the year by the abolition, as a separate class, of the schools ranked as lower or intermediate English. The policy that Government has followed with regard to the teaching of English in schools below those that read to the Entrance standard of the University may be described as a return to the principles affirmed successively by Sir John Grant and Sir Cecil Beadon. According to those principles, the middle vernacular schools established by Government were to be regarded as model schools for the advancement of education among the rural classes, who must always remain strangers to the English language and literature. Side by side with, and attached to, these vernacular schools, there sprang up, however, in many places English classes, whose object was to give those who read the full vernacular course some additional instruction in English. In course of time, the English teaching, originally intended to be supplementary and subordinate to the vernacular course, assumed an unduly prominent position. History and other subjects were read in English, and the vernacular was proportionately neglected. It followed, therefore, that all students in such schools, except those few who were afterwards to proceed to a higher English school, received from masters, themselves ill-instructed in English, an education which was imperfect, and in too many cases worthless, both on its vernacular and on its English side. The late orders of Government declare the necessity of re-adjusting the mutual relations of English and the vernacular by reconstituting middle English schools on a true vernacular basis. The middle English standard, which in course of time had come to vary widely from that of the vernacular scholarship, has been again identified with it; the only, and sufficient, difference being that candidates for the middle English scholarship are now required to take up English in addition to the full vernacular course. This condition being understood, any school that teaches effectively the vernacular scholarship course is at full liberty to add an English class, and hence it follows that the sound study of English has been really promoted and encouraged by the orders that have been issued. But the logical corollary to those orders was the abolition of the class of lower English schools. If English was only to be taught as a sequel to sound instruction in the vernacular up to a certain standard, it followed that English should be rigorously excluded from schools that could under no circumstances teach to that standard. Of those classed in the last report as lower English, some of the best have become middle English schools; others have abandoned the teaching of English and classed themselves, according to their proficiency, as middle or lower vernacular; while some few have disappeared.

17. Lower vernacular schools have increased from 1,501 to 1,604, the increase being exclusively due to the rise of schools from the class below, hitherto classed as primary. The great majority of this class of schools are supported from the circle and primary grants; and the principle has been acted on during the past year that, if a lower vernacular school claims aid under the grant-in-aid rules, the amount should be limited to that of the maximum pathsala stipend, or Rs. 5. The results of the lower vernacular scholarship examination, the second that has been held, were satisfactory. Of 1,604 schools of this class, 993 sent candidates to the examination, and from 702 of those candidates passed. It is not of course to be expected that schools originating, as these do, from very humble beginnings will at once or very soon reach the full standard of their class. Each lower vernacular school is supported at an average cost to Government of Rs. 51 yearly.

18. The number of middle vernacular schools has increased from 1,045 to 1,087. The increase is due partly to the transfer of lower English schools, and partly to the conversion of weak middle English schools to this class. On the other hand, the addition of an English class to a certain number of vernacular schools has made the increase less than it would otherwise have been. The condition of these schools is generally satisfactory. In Eastern Bengal and in the division of Rajshahye their high character and great popularity are especially noticeable. As might be supposed, it is in the more backward districts that these schools chiefly need support. In Behar the vernacular is not much valued; English is the only language that can successfully compete with Persian; and hence the new orders sanctioning the introduction of English into vernacular schools may be expected to have marked effect. It is the same in Orissa. For the wants of the people these schools are either too high or too low; they are too high for the ordinary requirements of a rural population, and they are too low for those who look to Government or professional employment.

19. The number of middle English schools has advanced from 511 to 572. The increase has been general throughout Bengal, and is due to the two causes already mentioned, namely the abolition of lower English schools and the addition of English classes to vernacular schools. It is satisfactory to learn that public opinion has been practically unanimous in favour of the change that has been made in the constitution of English schools and the basis of English teaching. Attention was called in the resolution on the last year's report to the extremely unsatisfactory character of a large number of middle schools, English as well as vernacular, which were distinguished by inability or neglect to appear at the examinations of their class. In the last middle vernacular scholarship examination, out of 1,087 schools of this class, 887 sent candidates to the examination, and 637 schools were successful, passing altogether 1,573 candidates. At the middle English scholarship examination, out of 572 schools 308 competed, and from 247 of these schools 934 candidates passed. These figures mark some advance over the results of the previous year, but it is evident that the 'inefficient margin' of middle schools, and especially of middle English schools, is still very wide. The Director has called the special attention of all Circle Inspectors to this class of schools, pointing out that the permanently unsuccessful schools are the reproach of educational administration. Much improvement may be expected from the instructions that have been issued, and from the action that has already been taken; but the Lieutenant-Governor must express the hope that the Director will lose no opportunity of enforcing the principles by which the constitution of middle schools is henceforth to be determined, and their character improved.

20. The class of higher English schools shows but little variation. The number is 176, against 180 returned in the previous year; the apparent loss of four schools being due to the separation of European and Eurasian education. This important class of schools continues steadily to advance in efficiency and in public favour; and the Government schools alone show an increase of 640 pupils. The proportion of schools whose pupils fail to pass at the Entrance Examination is small, and some of the weaker schools of this class are now undergoing reduction or reorganization. Others, again, as the Director points out, are maintained chiefly on account of the dignity bestowed by the proprietorship of a higher class school; they occasionally send a candidate to the examination, but the real work they do is that of a good middle school, and the grant they enjoy is a middle school grant. If they do not always reach the standard at which they aim, they at least carry instruction beyond the middle standard, and at no greater cost to Government.

21. For the Entrance Examination of December 1877, 176 schools sent up 1,991 candidates, of whom 844 passed, 17 per cent. of these being placed in the first division, 46 per cent. in the second, and 37 per cent. in the third. Of the whole number of candidates, 42 per cent. were successful; but while among the candidates from private and aided schools 36 and 34 per cent. respectively passed, among those from Government schools the proportion of successful candidates was as high as 54 per cent. Each Government school, with an average of 288 pupils, costs Government Rs. 2,720 a year out of a total expenditure of Rs. 8,396, while each aided school, with an average of 112 pupils, costs Government only Rs. 580 a year out of a total expenditure of Rs. 2,340. It is therefore to be expected that the former class of schools should be stronger and more successful than the latter. A detailed criticism is given in the report of the success and shortcomings of the several zillah schools. The Hare and the Hindu schools and the Sanskrit Collegiate school in Calcutta take the highest place, and the collegiate schools of Hooghly, Dacca, Kishnaghur, Patna, and Midnapore obtained a fair measure of success. The Director points in more than one instance to the fact that failure in the examination has been due to improper promotions to the highest class. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware of the pressure that is often put upon headmasters by parents of pupils, in order to secure the promotion of their sons; but these considerations should be allowed no weight. Even if pupils are withdrawn from the school, and fee-receipts are in consequence reduced, that is a result of very trifling importance compared with the advantage of keeping up the standard of acquirements in each class, and, above all, in the Entrance class to the highest possible level.

22. The system of net grants to zillah and collegiate schools, and to madrasas, has secured the financial prosperity of those institutions. The total amount of the balances at credit of net grant schools on the 31st March 1877 was Rs. 82,564, which was re-granted to those institutions during the following year. In the course of that year expenditure to the amount of Rs. 22,349 was sanctioned from the balances, and a further sum of Rs. 15,766 from invested funds arising from the savings of previous years. Yet it appears that the total amount to be re-granted by Government as the surplus balance in favour of those schools on the 31st March 1878 was Rs. 78,774, showing a reduction, notwithstanding the expenditure incurred in the interval, of only Rs. 4,000 upon the surplus balances of the previous year. It follows, therefore, that the schools worked during the year at a profit of some Rs. 18,000. It is very satisfactory to notice that, out of the whole sum expended upon net-grant schools out of their surplus funds, nearly Rs. 25,000 were expended upon buildings, thus causing a saving to the same extent in the expenditure of the Public Works Department. Still the total net grant appears to be considerably in excess of the necessary requirements; and when the period of three years for which the grants run comes to an end in March 1880, it is probable that large reductions can be made.

23. The total number of colleges teaching to the standard of the B A Examination is now seven, the Beauleah High School having been raised during the year to the status of a full college, under the title of the Rajshahye College. The permanent establishment of this college is as yet undecided, as it is still somewhat doubtful whether the districts of Northern Bengal will supply the college year by year with a sufficient number of pupils to justify the outlay involved in maintaining a large staff of professors. At present the bulk of the expenditure is borne by the Rajshahye Association, who have contributed funds amounting to Rs. 1,50,000, the whole of which will shortly be invested. Second grade colleges, teaching to the First Arts standard, now number five. The aided colleges are six, as in the previous year, and there are three unaided colleges. The number of pupils in all colleges has increased during the year from 1,792 to 2,003. But the intensity of the desire that exists for collegiate education is best illustrated by the fact that the number of college students is now nearly twice as great as it was in 1874, when it amounted to 1,083 only. During these four years the Government and the High Court have, by various steps, raised the standards qualifying for admission to the executive and judicial services, and to the legal profession, and have offered considerable inducements to those whose abilities were attested by University degrees. The senate of the University has moved in the same direction. Students who have passed the Entrance Examination find it yearly more difficult to qualify themselves for any profession unless they go forward to a University degree. The eager desire that has been manifested in many parts of the country for the establishment of new colleges affords a convincing proof of the value attached to collegiate instruction.

24. For the First Examination in Arts 613 candidates appeared and 184 passed. The proportion of successful candidates was much lower than in previous years—a result which is ascribed, as regards Government colleges, to the fact that the vacancies in the graded list caused by the casualties of 1876 and previous years, which had never been fully supplied, made it quite impossible to bring the staff of the Government colleges up to the requisite strength, and also made it necessary to transfer officers in a way very detrimental to efficient teaching. For the B A Examination 163 candidates appeared and 51 passed. The Government colleges to some extent recovered their position, passing 40 per cent. of their candidates; while aided colleges passed only 29 per cent. The Kishnaghur College redeemed its failure in the First Arts Examination by considerable success in the examination for the degree. The Cuttack College, in this the first year of its competition for the B A degree, failed altogether. The experimental establishment of this college was designed rather to test the desire of Uryas for high education, than to try the possibility of carrying on a full college with a staff of ungraded officers. The dearth of graded officers has hitherto prevented the strengthening of the establishment of the Cuttack College, and has interfered a good deal with the efficiency of the other colleges. For the M A Degree Examination there were 28 candidates, of whom 15 passed. The Director re-affirms the high opinion which he expressed last year of these candidates, as in all respects the most satisfactory outcome of the University system; and it has gratified the Lieutenant-Governor to have been able to select several such students during the past year for responsible and honorable employment under the Government of Bengal.

25. The department of special instruction comprises the subjects of law, medicine, and engineering, surveying schools, industrial schools, and the School of Art. The number of law students in the classes attached to five Government colleges has increased from 222 to 316; but in every other branch of special instruction the number of students has seriously declined. In the Medical College of Calcutta they have fallen from 176 to 145; in the Engineering Department of the Presidency College from 124 to 87. As regards instruction of a lower class, the pupils in vernacular medical schools have declined from 862 to 686, while in vernacular survey schools the number remains constant at 160. Technical schools number 148 pupils, against 116 in the previous year. The attendance at the School of Art has fallen from 119 to 89. The causes of this general decline have been in operation for some time past. Fewer students enter the Medical College than in former years, owing to the substitution of the First Arts for the Entrance certificate as the qualification for admission. The Government demand for trained Engineers is not great enough to absorb the supply of graduates from the Civil Engineering College, and the private demand is still small. The novelty of the vernacular medical schools has, to a certain extent, worn off; new pupils are admitted in smaller numbers than before, and many of the old pupils have ceased to attend. No doubt, however, can be entertained of the ultimate success and permanent usefulness of some of these schools. It is the same with the vernacular surveying schools. The pupils are generally well taught, and become efficient surveyors. The present report shows the result of the first examination that has been held for the final certificate, and from one school at least (Dacca) the passed candidates have found employment without difficulty.

26. The scope of the artisan school at Dehree has been enlarged during the year, and its standard considerably raised. The Government of India required that the course should be so framed as to qualify the pupils for the position of foremen mechanics in a workshop rather than for that of overseers in the Public Works Department. The standard has been revised in accordance with these instructions, and comprises a theoretical course of considerable depth, in addition to practical work in the shops occupying six hours a day; and if, with the existing staff, that standard can be reached, there can be little doubt that the Dehree school will turn out a body of young men qualified to take charge of workshops. The Government of Bengal have taken further steps during the past year to establish schools of technical instruction. A committee was appointed to examine and report upon the means of providing thorough technical instruction to those who wished to adopt one of the branches of engineering as a profession. It was fully understood that, if such a school were established, it must be attached to a workshop on a large scale. For such an enterprise a mere toy workshop is of no service; if useful and thorough instruction is to be given, the school must be attached to a real workshop conducted on sound business principles, and fulfilling its own purposes quite independently of the school. The submission of the report has been delayed pending the decision of the scale on which the new Government workshops are to be established. That question once decided on independent grounds, there will be no difficulty in establishing a school in connection with the shops; and the Director reports that the committee have determined the general outline which such a scheme will take. It is hoped that the difficulty regarding a new site for the workshops and schools attached has now been overcome. The Civil Engineering College already turns out two classes of students—those who are qualified to become engineers of roads and bridges, and those who aspire to subordinate appointments of the same kind. The proposed school or college, similarly, will comprise two courses for two separate classes of students; the upper course for those who desire to become mechanical engineers of the highest class, and directors of large manufacturing establishments; and the lower course for the training of overseers of shops and factories, foremen of works, &c. While theoretical and practical training are combined in both, the upper course will carry theoretical instruction to a much higher standard. For neither of these two purposes is special proficiency in a single trade needed; it will be sufficient if a man has such practical skill as may be gained by four years' work with his own hands alternately in the pattern-shop, the forge, the foundry, and the fitting-shop. These proposals do not involve the training of mechanics, that is, of men skilled in particular trades only. It is thoroughly understood that, in order to produce workmen of this class, nothing can supersede the ordinary mode of apprenticeship. No school is needed for this purpose ; the only school in which a man can learn his trade is the workshop. But the Lieutenant-Governor, in proposing to establish a school for technical instruction, hopes not only that students will come forward in sufficient numbers to acquire an education which will now for the first time be placed within their reach, but also that, having acquired that education, they will find abundant opportunities for turning it to practical account. The absence of any future career for students so trained has been sometimes urged as a reason why Government should not enter upon the field of technical instruction ; but the Lieutenant-Governor is confident that, if the training given to students is good of its kind, the supply will create the demand ; and that employers of skilled labour of the highest kind will find their advantage in securing upon the spot, and at a comparatively cheap rate of remuneration, engineers and foremen whom they have hitherto been compelled to import at great expense from Europe. The demand for this class of labour is daily increasing, and must extend with the development of railways and factories which is now going on.

27. The School of Art has lost 30 students, the number on the rolls at the close of the year being 89. The number has been steadily diminishing since 1875, when it amounted to 169. In that year the monthly fee was raised from Re. 1 to Rs. 3, and the school is consequently attended only by those who have a genuine desire to follow one of the branches of art as a profession. Under the present regulations, students not only leave the school much less capriciously than in former years, but they remain for a longer time. The work done by the pupils is gradually gaining in public estimation, as its character becomes more widely known. Designs for cotton goods, which were made for the Indian market by students of the school at the instance of a mercantile firm in Calcutta, have been described as most successful and much better adapted to the purpose than English work of the same kind. The same favourable opinion was recorded of some lithographic work turned out by the school. A large number of surgical and anatomical drawings were made by two of the students of the school, under the supervision of the late Dr. Gayer, for the illustration of lectures in the Medical College. They have been found to be admirably suited to their purpose. The Lieutenant-Governor is very glad to acknowledge the value of the services rendered by Mr. H. H. Locke, the Principal of the School of Art.

28. The Art Gallery, which was opened in 1876 in connection with the School of Art, has now been placed upon a permanent basis, an annual grant of Rs. 10,000 being set apart for the maintenance of the establishment and the purchase of works of art. A committee of gentlemen interested in art has been appointed to work with the Principal of the school in carrying out the objects of the gallery, and steps are being taken to procure such copies and original paintings from Europe as may best tend to cultivate the taste and inform the minds of the students of the school. The gallery is also open to the public.

29. In accordance with the policy explained in previous resolutions, the number of normal schools was reduced during the year from 31 to 24, and further reductions have since brought the number down to 17, of which seven only are of the first grade. Normal schools of the lowest grade, designed to supply teachers to primary schools, are now only maintained in those backward parts of the province where the natural supply of qualified teachers, as tested by the primary scholarship examinations, is found to be insufficient. Even in backward districts, however, the system of payment by results is found to increase the natural supply of competent gurus, and makes the maintenance of normal schools less necessary. The number of first grade normal schools has to be regulated so as to supply trained pundits to the whole of the middle vernacular schools of Bengal, and this principle has been followed in determining their local distribution. The only second grade school remaining is that at Chittagong. The best of the first grade normal schools is that of Hooghly. The Calcutta school failed conspicuously in the final examinations, and there would be no reason for maintaining it beside the very flourishing institution at Hooghly, but for the fact that the model school attached to it is so well attended and prosperous that its profits help to pay the expenses of the normal school. There were altogether 224 candidates for certificates at the vernacular mastership examination, of whom 150 passed against 163 out of 278 in the preceding year.

30. The following figures show the progress in native female education during the year. The number of schools increased from 464 with 10,492 pupils to 510 with 11,964 pupils, but the number of girls in boys' schools decreased from 9,794 to 9,623. Altogether there were 21,587 girls under instruction against 20,286 in 1876-77. The improvement in numbers is seen in all the stages of progress, though of course greatest in the lower primary stage.

31. The reports of Mrs. Monmohini Wheeler, Government Inspectress of Schools, have thrown much light upon the character of the teaching given in the schools and classes visited by her. In Calcutta she examined 23 schools with 1,042 pupils and 97 zenana classes with 117 pupils. She also reported on the zenana pupils and schools in the districts of Dacca, Tipperah, Backergunge, and Furreedpore. Government is paying for zenana teaching in Calcutta and the mofussil Rs. 16,420, of which Rs. 14,804 are expended in Calcutta alone, almost entirely in grants to missionary societies which themselves contributed to this object Rs. 46,500. Of the total receipts only Rs. 7,986 were raised by fees from 1,827 pupils, less than six annas a head per month. It is found that the zenana teachers employed by the missionary agencies are very frequently quite unfit for their work, and that the great majority of the pupils have had none of that preliminary instruction in school to complete which is the object of the Government grants in aid of zenana missions. The time given by the teachers to each house averages moreover only two hours a week, including the time devoted to Bible stories and needle-work. Much of the unfavourable result appears to be due to the pressure brought to bear upon the missions from home to show increasing numbers under instruction year by year. It is, however, absolutely necessary that the principles upon which Government aid is given to these agencies should be reconsidered. There must be, as the Director remarks, at the outset some guarantee of ability in the teachers. They must subject themselves to examination and obtain certificates of fitness. Then, to test the work of these certificated mistresses, there must be graduated standards and examinations for the pupils, and the Government grants must be rated on the results of these examinations. If there could be more co-operation between the societies, or if in other ways zenana pupils could be concentrated and brought together so as to admit of their receiving more continuous instruction, another great advantage would be gained. At present there is much connected with this work which is not real and genuine.

32. In the Dacca Division the plan inaugurated under native management of encouraging zenana teaching by rewards after examination has also practically failed, there being strong grounds for believing that the answers were frequently written by the husbands of the girls under examination.

33. Excluding zenana classes, the aided girls' schools throughout the country increased by 21 with 334 additional pupils, the increase being in girls' pathsalas. Grant-in-aid schools have fallen from 157 to 151. All other descriptions of girls' schools are stationary, except those aided from the primary grant, which rose from 128 to 151, the increase being chiefly in the Dacca Division. There are, besides the aided schools, 73 unaided schools for native girls, 51 of which are under missionary management. The Lieutenant-Governor would like to see steps taken by district officers and sub-inspectors to encourage the attendance of girls at boys' pathsalas. Both Mrs. Wheeler and the Inspectors generally consider the mixed pathsalas to be most successful. Possibly the establishment of mixed pathsalas might be encouraged by paying the gurus a higher rate per head for girls passing a certain standard.

34. The statistics of European and Eurasian schools are separately submitted in the report. There were 36 aided schools of this class, with 3,389 pupils; and 12 unaided schools submitted returns showing 1,166 pupils in their classes. In future it is intended to classify these schools according to their standards of instruction, as is done in the case of schools for native education. Government gave Rs. 76,246 in aid of schools of this class during the year, and their total cost was Rs. 2,53,255.

35. There was a satisfactory increase in the number of Mahomedans under instruction, though, owing to the great increase of Hindoo pupils in Burdwan and Orissa, where the Mahomedan population is small, the percentage of pupils of this class was lower on the whole. Out of 528,748 pupils of all creeds in Government and aided schools on the 31st March 1878, 86,847, or 16·4 per cent., were Mahomedans; the percentage of Mahomedans in the total population of Bengal being 31·5. The increase over 1876-77 amounts to 5,262 pupils. Taking all classes of schools, aided and unaided, there were 111,645 Mahomedan students, against 106,590 in the preceding year.

36. In accordance with the orders of Government last year several new scholarships were given from the Mohsin Fund to enable Mahomedan students of the Mofussil Madrasas to continue their English studies either in the Calcutta Madrasa or at other Government institutions. The total expenditure from the Mohsin endowment on Mahomedan education is now Rs. 56,532. The Calcutta Madrasa has suffered a serious loss in the death of its Principal, Mr. H. Blochmann.

37. The following table exhibits the distribution of funds under the grant-in-aid system for the last two years: —

* Inclusive of European girls' schools.

The only loss is in primary mission schools, schools of other kinds showing an increase of 15. The grants are periodically revised, and it is found that the people are now able and ready to maintain schools on much smaller grants than were formerly deemed necessary. The improved system of inspection which is now being introduced along with the reduced areas allotted to each Inspector will enable the supervision of the grant-in-aid system to be made more close and effective than it has hitherto been. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely endorses the Director's remarks as to the inexpediency of introducing sudden and sweeping changes into the relations between the aided schools and Government, but he would be glad to see an attempt made in suitable places to introduce in this class of schools a system of payment by results such as has proved so successful in other parts of India.

38. The aim of the department and of Government during the year has been not so much to extend education as to systematize it, to secure the best possible application of the funds available, and to bring the secondary education of the country back to the sound principles on which it was originally based. At the same time there has been considerable and satisfactory progress. The people show themselves more anxious to get education and more willing to pay for it, and there is gradually being extended all over the country a network of primary schools that must, as the numbers passing through them year by year increase, very shortly affect materially the standard of intelligence among the lower classes.

RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVS. 10	Dinagepore, „ 8 „	0·94	Rain fell on the 6th and 7th instants. It will improve the condition of the growing rice. Cultivation for the cold-weather crops is in progress.
11	Rajshahye, „ 9 „	1·73	There has been slight rain in most parts of the district during the week The state of the ropa dhan crop continues to be satisfactory, but rain is still wanted. The rubbee crops are being sown, and the plants are thriving. Kalai is still in good condition. Public health is good.
12	Rungpore, „ 8 „	1·26	Rain fell on the 8th instant; for two or three days before this the weather was cloudy. The prospects of the amun crop are good, and the rain will be beneficial as regards it. Fever of a mild type is somewhat prevalent.

A few cases of cholera were reported from Shariakandi during the week.
14	Pubna, „ 9 '78	1·34	Weather—showery, cloudy, close and damp. The prospects of the amun rice crop continue good. Cholera has appeared in thanas Shazadpore and Serajgunge There is also some fever about.

RAJSHAHYE & COOCH BEHAR DIVN.—contd. 15	Darjeeling, ...	.....	Return not received.
RAJSHAHYE & COOCH BEHAR DIVN.—contd. 16	Julpigoree, Nov. 9 „	Nil	For the last few days the weather has been very close and sultry, and heavy clouds hanging about, but no rain to speak of, only a few drops on the 8th. The crops are all that can be desired, but rain is wanted. There is distress reported in places in the Buxa sub-division owing to quantities of rice having been exported. This will continue till the haimanta dhan comes into the market in about three weeks' time. A good deal of fever about in the district.
	Cooch Behar, „ 7 „	Nil	Weather—fair and cool. It is feared that, owing to the want of rain in October, the outturn of late rice will not be satisfactory. Tobacco seedlings are being transplanted The price of coarse rice varies from Rs. 3 to Rs. 5 in different parts of the State. Some cases of cholera have been reported.
	Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN. 17	Dacca, Nov. 9 '78	1·68	Clouds and occasional rain all the week. Weather close and sultry. On the 9th there were signs of clearing. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable. The rain has done good both to rice and such winter crops as are in the ground, and has allowed the ryots to plough for the later crops.
	Moonsheegunge (for week ending 6th.)	0·62
	Manickgunge (for week ending 8th).	2·1
DACCA DIVN. 18	Furreedpore, Nov. 10 „	2·59	Weather—cloudy and stormy. South wind blowing. The state and prospects of the crops are excellent.
	Madaripore ...	1·12
DACCA DIVN. 19	Backergunge, „ 7 „	2·41	Weather—cloudy, with frequent showers. Prospects continue favourable. No more rain is wanted for the rice crop. No change in prices. Fever is still prevalent.
DACCA DIVN. 20	Mymensingh, „ 8 „	1·58	Weather—cloudy and cool. The crops generally promise well.
DACCA DIVN. 21	Tipperah, „ 8 „	1·41	Weather—unseasonably hot and oppressive. Sky cloudy. During the latter part of the week there was rain without wind. Further fall of rain is probable. Amun dhan is in a flourishing condition.
	Brahmunbaria ...	0·54
	Chandpore ...	0·68
CHITTAGONG DIVN. 22	Chittagong, „ 7 „	3·17	Weather—cloudy and sultry till 5th and 6th, when there was heavy rain. The cloudy weather has fostered insects in paddy, and the heavy rain has beaten it down a little. The crops which were forward will suffer a little, but those which were backward will benefit.
CHITTAGONG DIVN. 23	Noakholly „ 7 „	3·29	Weather—cooler since the night of the 4th, when there was very heavy rain. It continues unsettled. The amun crop is progressing favourably. The rain is beneficial. The prices of grain have fallen.
CHITTAGONG DIVN. 24	Chittagong Hill Tracts „ 5 „	3·15	Weather—rainy on the 5th instant. The prospects of the plough cultivators' paddy crop are good. Land is being ploughed for mustard. Owing to the unusual fall of rain the cotton pods are being slightly damaged.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	Hill Tipperah, „ 6 „	0·89	Weather—occasionally cloudy and rainy, but on the whole not unfavourable. Prospects continue good. Paddy is being cut and gathered.
	BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN. 25	Patna, Nov. 9 '78	0·80	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are good. The rain has much benefited the sowing of the rubbee crop.
PATNA DIVN. 26	Gya, „ 9 „	3·34	The appearance of the sky during the week was partly cloudy and partly clear The thermometer in the shade was 90·5°. There was a heavy fall of rain on the 7th, which, if general all over the district, must have been beneficial to the rubbee crops. The health of the people is generally good. The health of the plough cattle is also good.
PATNA DIVN. 27	Shahabad, „ 9 „	0·75	Weather—warm in the first part of the week; cloudy on the 6th, 7th and 8th Rain on the 7th. The sky has cleared up on the day of report (9th). The rain of the 7th will be of great benefit to the rubbee, but it was too late for the aghani crop. Poppy sowings have commenced. Public health is fair.
PATNA DIVN. 28	Durbhunga, „ 9 „	0·10	Weather—cool in the morning and evening, but the day is hotter than usual for the season. The prospects of the aghani crop are generally good, but rain is still wanted.
PATNA DIVN. 29	Mozufferpore, „ 9 „	0·80	Weather—cool and cloudy. The prospects of the crops continue favourable. The rain that has fallen will do immense good to the young rubbee crops, as also to the dhan crop which is now budding.

BEHAR.—(Contd.)
PATNA.—(Contd.) 30	Saran, Nov. 9 '78	0·39	Weather—cloudy, with easterly wind. There has been slight rain in most parts of the district, and heavy rain in the east. Paddy on the high lands has withered, and is being made use of as fodder for cattle, while what little has been kept alive on the low lands is greatly improved by the late rain. Rubbee is doing well. Prices have slightly fallen. Fever is still prevalent.
31	Chumparun, „ 9 „	Nil	Weather—warm during the day, but cold at night. No change in the prospects to report. A little rain would do good to the dhan. Prices are the same as in last week.
BHAGULPORE DIVISION. 32	Monghyr, „ 9 „	1·12	Weather—cloudy, culminating in rain The rubbee crops will be much benefited by the rain just fallen.
33	Bhagulpore, „ 9 „	3·53	Weather—cloudy and sultry, with easterly wind. The rain fell in one night There may be some damage to some crops, but both rice and rubbee have been greatly benefited by it.
34	Purneah, „ 9 „	0·89	Heavy rain fell on the night of the 2nd and 8th instants The state and prospects of the crops are favourable. Apprehensions are expressed if more rain falls. Fever is bad.
	Arrareah ...	0·42
35	Maldah, „ 9 „	2 63	There has been good fall of rain from the 6th to 8th. The last fall of rain is very favourable to the growing crops. A good outturn is expected this year. The state of the public health is bad. Fever is prevalent everywhere, particularly in thana Kaliachuk.
36	Sonthal Perghs. „ 10 „	1·84	The rain which had been long threatening came down heavily on the night of the 8th instant, with fierce thunder and lightning, but no wind. All the signs of the regular cold weather were abundant on the morning of the 10th. The harvest will be the best for many years. The late rain will also make a good rubbee crop certain.
	Deoghur ...	1·10
	Godda ...	0·31
	Rajmehal ...	1·19
	Pakour ...	0·50
	Jamtara ...	1·64
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN. 37	Cuttack, Nov. 9 '78	1·81	Rain and sunshine alternately. Weather cool. There has been more rain than was wanted, but no damage is done yet to the crops which are now in excellent condition, and a full harvest is expected. Cholera is on the decrease.
38	Pooree, „ 7 „	3·11	Weather—seasonable. The rainfall has been more than enough, and has done some small damage to those rice plants which are in flower. The state of arhar, kalai, and sugarcane crops is good. Common rice sells at 13¼ to 26¼ seers for the rupee in the district. Public health is good.
	Khoorda ...	3·79
39	Balasore, „ 8 „	2·40	Weather—cloudy and sunshiny alternately. Warm for the time of the year. The state and prospects of the crops are good More rain would cause damage to the standing crops. Fever and cattle disease prevail.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 8 '78	0·39	Weather—unseasonable; cloudy and rainy. The rain will injure the dhan which has ripened and is now ready to be cut, and also what has been cut and collected in the kallians to be threshed out, but it will enable the ryots to get in the rubbee crops. A continuance of this rainy weather will cause much damage.
41	Lohardugga, „ 9 „	0·95	Weather—unsettled; cloudy with drizzling rain. The cloudy weather and rain are unfavourable for the paddy, but will improve the prospects of the rubbee. From Palamow it is reported that the prospects of the rubbee are very bad and that the outturn of the paddy is not expected to exceed 8 annas. In the head-quarters sub-division the average outturn of paddy will probably amount to 12 annas. Ravages of locusts have been reported from the east of the district.
42	Singbhoom, „ 8 „	1·03	Weather—cool and seasonable. Rain fell during the latter part of the week. The dhan crop is in a satisfactory condition and uninjured by the rain that has fallen. The rubbee crops are also in a satisfactory state. Prices have not fallen during the week.
43	Manbhoom, „ 9 „	0·50	Weather—cloudy attended with slight rain and high wind. The high land crops are being reaped. There has been slight rain lately which did much good to the low land paddy, but on the night of the 8th there was slight rain attended with somewhat high wind which, it is feared, will do a little injury to the standing crops. The prospects of cotton teel, surgoonga, and koortee are very promising.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of the observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1° or 1½° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6° higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet in elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof. Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

1. The Bench shall try such cases as may be referred to it by either of the Stipendiary Magistrates, subject to the provisions of rule 8: provided further that no case triable by the High Court only shall be so referred.

2. Benches shall ordinarily sit for the first hearing of cases on the dates and at the time mentioned below. A special Bench may, however, be convened on any other day by either of the Stipendiary Magistrates.

(Here insert dates and time of sitting.)

3. A Bench shall ordinarily be composed of not less than three Magistrates when they are all Honorary Magistrates, or of two when one of them is a Stipendiary Magistrate and the other an Honorary Magistrate. The Honorary Magistrates will sit in the rotation arranged by the Commissioner of Police, but any Magistrate not named may sit, unless the Chief Magistrate otherwise directs.

The Stipendiary Magistrates shall be ex-officio members of benches.

When an Honorary Magistrate, named for a particular day, fails to attend owing to illness or from any other cause, the Chief Magistrate may, at his discretion, summon another member or direct that the Bench may proceed without the absent member; provided that no case set down for hearing before the Bench shall proceed unless a Stipendiary Magistrate, or, in his absence, two Honorary Magistrates be present.

6. Each member of the Bench shall have a voice in the finding and sentence. In a Bench of three or other uneven number, the opinion of the majority shall prevail. When the numbers are even, the Chairman shall have a casting vote.

7. The Chairman shall generally record the evidence and judgment in cases in which a record of evidence and a judgment are necessary; but such duty may, with his consent, be performed by any one of his colleagues.

8. The Bench may hold one or more adjourned sittings, if this be found necessary for the disposal of business, or of part-heard cases; but it shall be open to the Bench at the close of its regular sittings either to refer unheard cases back to the Magistrate under whose order of reference they received them, or to postpone them to some other day as may seem most convenient. Any part-heard case postponed to a further sitting of the Bench may be proceeded with if any member of the Bench has been present at the previous hearing in the case, but subject to the provisions of section 156 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act.

Any part-heard case may, however, be sent back to the Magistrate under whose order of reference it was received, should it appear unsuited for trial by a Bench. In such cases the Magistrate shall recommence the trial.

RULES UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under section 16, or making a reference under section 17, of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the village channel, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary exceeds two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a village channel so constructed and maintained, that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a)—the water will pass without wastage;

(b)—the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water to any cultivator whose fields have not been prepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than one cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water channels as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

6. The above rule shall only apply to those cases in which the non-observance of it has been discovered previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 38.

7. Persons desirous (i) of constructing a village channel, or (ii) of taking water therefrom, or (iii) of taking water from any outlet provided by Government, shall prefer a written application to the Divisional Canal Officer, or to some officer duly authorised by him to receive such applications. In the first case (i), if the application be received by an officer subordinate to the Divisional Canal Officer, it shall be forwarded to him for orders.

8. An application under Rule 7 shall, if granted, and unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation, without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants appoint a headman, known or ascertained, to be a substantial person possessed of property, to attend to their interests, to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the village channel according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the village channel. His appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer and of the Collector, and he shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Divisional Canal Officer shall appoint a headman, whose appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Collector.

(d)—If the Collector and Divisional Canal Officer do not agree as to the appointment of a headman under Rules 8 (b) and 8 (c), the Collector shall refer the matter to the Commissioner of the Division, whose decision shall be final.

(e)—That the headman shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed under Rule 11.

(f)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (Appendix A) to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (Appendix B) from such officer.

(g)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates that there is likely to be difficulty in the realization of the water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector, in whose wption it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(h)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the village channel, may, subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer, be admitted as shareholders in it, on paying their proportionate share of the first cost and maintenance thereof, to be determined by the amount of irrigable land held by them.

(i)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or appointment of headmen, shall be reported to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

9. The Divisional Canal Officer is empowered to pay to the headman appointed under Rule 8 the fees detailed in the rule next following, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

10. The allowance to the headman of a village channel for duties connected with that village channel, such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, seeing that no lands obtain water without a regular "permit," distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing to the outlet being closed according to the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be 4 per cent on the amount of canal-water rates assessed on the lands irrigated from the village channel under his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

11. The allowance to the headman of a village channel for collecting the water-rates shall be 4 per cent. on the amount actually paid in by him. If the headman shall satisfy the Collector that arrears have not accrued through any negligence on his part, it shall be within the discretion of the Collector to pay him the allowance on the whole or on any part of such arrears.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

If proposed for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

13. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge, and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependant on any canal, under the following conditions :—

(a)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water is to be exclusively used for domestic purposes or for watering cattle or both.

(b)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, issued on the written application of the parties concerned.

(e)—No tank shall be so filled unless the village channel used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f)—The privilege herein accorded may, by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject to revision by the Superintending Canal Officer, whose decision shall be final, be suspended for twelve months for breach of any of the above conditions.

14. The Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a)(ii), stop the supply to any village channel when he is satisfied, after inspection by himself or by one of his subordinates, that the village channel is not maintained in proper repair. Immediate report of any such closure, with an explanation of the special ground for stoppage, shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headmen of village channels. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Canal Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries, or other channels, shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission of water-rates, under section 76 (b), shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss, the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the rates. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made in writing by the parties concerned, either in person or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop. On receipt of such application, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, after due local inquiry, forward the application with his remarks to the Divisional Canal Officer for decision.

18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

19. Under section 78 of the Act, the rates chargeable per acre on the different descriptions of crops are fixed for three years, viz. from 1st June 1876 to the 1st June 1879, and are as follow :—

20. Up to the 1st June 1879 leases for three years may be granted at the following rates, provided that the area leased in any village shall not be less than the whole irrigable area in the case of khurreef cultivation, or half the irrigable area in that of rubbee cultivation. In the latter case the area must be as far as possible in one block. In certain cases it may, at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer, be comprised in two or at most three blocks—

21. Three-year leases will not be granted for sugarcane.

22. By irrigable area is to be understood, as a general rule, the extent of land for which water can be supplied at the rate of 80 acres in khurreef, and 180 acres in rubbee per cubic foot of available supply.

23 Leases for three years at the reduced rates may be given (1) on the application of all the cultivators of a village, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government, under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, all sums which may be due under the application on account of water-rates. The application of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in Appendix C. The joint application of villagers and a water-rate contractor shall be in the form prescribed in Appendix D. Every application under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

24. Contractors shall be entitled to collect water-dues at the rates given in the schedule attached to Rule 20 from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to a contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III of 1876.

25. A contractor (or in case there be more than one, each contractor severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the application (Appendix D), except such sums as may be remitted by competent authority under the rules in force, and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

26. When the lease under Rules 20 to 25 is for the supply of water to khurreef crops, or to all irrigable rubbee crops in the village, a list in Form E should be submitted with the application, showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field crop to be grown, and amount payable, and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area for which the water-rates shall be calculated shall never be less than the area specified in the three-years' lease. Should more land be irrigated than is specified in the three-years' lease, the same shall be chargeable with annual water-rates.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (Appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor, the Divisional Canal Officer shall, under section 82, furnish such contractor with a written authority to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under Rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Divisional Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in Rule 10. Such headman shall receive five per cent. on the assessment, but the Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule and of Rules 29 and 30.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower rate if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the collection of the amount of charges so imposed.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a field, irrigated by the canal water, fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates shall be levied on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments and by the addition of small water-channels as prescribed in Rule 6, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer must certify that the field was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The statements of the amounts demandable for water-rates levied under the rules in force shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," as herein below stated, and shall be paid within one month of such dates :—

Water-rate on sugarcane and spring crops, wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—15th April.

Water-rate on summer crops, cheena, &c.,—15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops, early rice, Indian corn, murwa, &c.,—30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops, aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—31st January.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents, in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rate shall be made by the Collector in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer.

43. Objections to the demand addressed to the Collector shall, if remission be claimed on the score of short supply or of any matter affecting the Irrigation Department, be referred for orders to the Divisional Canal Officer. The collection of the demand shall not be suspended on account of any such objection.

44. Claims for remission referred by the Collector and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

45. A remission statement signed by the Superintending Canal Officer shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

46. If the Divisional Canal Officer reject the claim, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

47. In special cases not otherwise provided for by these rules, and in cases in which water-rates are not recoverable owing to the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, the Collector will obtain the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the remission of such sums as he may deem irrecoverable. The details of such remission shall be communicated at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

48. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the khatianni, whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift," or as to the measurements and entries of class of crop, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the headman of his water-course, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop.

49. No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, pass, or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

50. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

51. The ameen appointed to measure up the area irrigated in any village shall, before leaving it, make over the khusras to a mohurir, who will then compile the khatianni. A copy of the khatianni will be taken by the putwaree, who must as a rule make it himself; but if he cannot from any cause do so, the mohurir must make it, and the putwaree is to be held responsible that he gets a copy.

52. The copy of the khatianni thus made shall be hung up in some conspicuous place in the village, and slips in the prescribed form (Appendix F), showing the amount he will have to pay, area irrigated, &c., shall be prepared by the putwaree and given to each ryot.

53. The allowance to the putwaree for the above work shall be 2 per cent. on the collections, and shall be paid to him by the Collector on his being satisfied that the work has been properly done. No allowance will be made to putwarees in leases granted under Rule 25.

54. The measurements of each crop irrigated shall be made as soon as practicable, and every care should be taken to have the khatianni hung up in the village at least fifteen days before the crop is cut, so that the ryot may make his complaints, if he have any, in good time.

55. In case of any subsequent alteration of the khatianni owing to correction of clerical errors, &c., such alteration shall be at once communicated to the putwaree to enable him to correct the village copy and slips accordingly.

56. The zilladar shall submit his check measurements in a form (Appendix G) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall also check the ameens' measurements as often as he possibly can. If it be found that, any ameen systematically makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal, and shall be declared incapable of obtaining further employment under Government.

R. HARDIE,
Secretary and Treasurer.

CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY.—AUDITORS' REPORT, 1877.

No. 47A, dated Comptroller-General's Office, the 26th August 1878.

From—The Auditors of the Accounts of the Municipal Commissioners, Calcutta,
To—The Municipal Commissioners for the Town of Calcutta.

GENTLEMEN,

WE have the honor to inform you that we have audited the cash and store accounts of the Corporation of Calcutta for the year ending 31st December 1877, and have found them to be correct.

2. The annual printed accounts of the several rate funds and loan accounts have been modified in form at our suggestion, and close this year with the balances with which the several accounts have been closed on the books, instead of, as heretofore, with only the cash balances. The transactions of the suspense and deposit accounts, which are unconnected with the revenue and expenditure proper of each fund, do not appear in the body of the account, but the outcome of these transactions is entered in a memorandum in explanation of the closing balances, showing clearly, on the one hand, in what proportions the balance is held in cash, stores, and recoverable advances; and, on the other, to what extent the aggregate balance is not available for the expenditure of the fund, being required to [illegible] and advances received during the year and remaining due and payable at its close.

[illegible] in separate columns, as they did for the first time in 1876, the amounts [illegible]

RECEIPTS.	Rs.
Fees for removing night-soil of private houses	7,000	Fees.	Night-soil department.
Fees for removing night-soil from tolah mehters' depôt	42,000
Fees for removing night-soil from owners of public necessaries	1,800
Rent of municipal latrine	21,800	Rent.
CHARGES.
Trade refuse department	1,740	General expenditure, establishment.	Conservancy.
Cost of collection	15,213	General expenditure	Cost of collection.
„ of issuing warrants	17,324
Commission on fee from tolah mehters' depôt	3,000	Ditto	Night-soil department.
Sanitary department establishment	8,700	Ditto	Health department.
Cremation of dead paupers	500
Rent of latrines and night-soil depôts	2,000	Rent	Night-soil department.
Keep of cattle, including drivers' wages	11,800	Street watering	Conservancy Sowkhana.
Repair of office	1,000	Miscellaneous	General expenditure.
Cost of drainage connection of private houses	4,000	Ditto	New drainage.
Kotrung establishment			Rs. 900, road department.
			„ 900, drainage loan account
			„ 800, conservancy.
			„ 1,600, road department.
			„ 800, street watering.
Establishment and cost of working engine at Entally	11,200	Miscellaneous	„ 1,600, municipal railway.
			„ 1,600, new drainage.
			„ 800, slaughter-house.
			1,600, water-rate.
			800, lighting-rate.
			1,600 drainage loan account.

5. Of these transfers the redistribution of the grant for the establishments of the Entally and Kotrung manufactories relieves the general fund of a charge of Rs. 3,561-0-9, and creates additional expenditure from the water-rate, lighting-rate, and drainage loan accounts as shown in the margin. For this the necessary sanction of the Commissioners in meeting has not been produced. The arrangement is also open to the objection that all supplies obtained from the manufactories during the year for the drainage or water-works have been paid for at full rates, and as those rates include a percentage to cover the cost of the establishment in question, there has been a double charge on this account against the drainage and water-rate accounts. Further, the net revenue from the tolah mehters' depôt was estimated in the budget at Rs. 42,000 for the year, but only half this amount, or Rs. 21,000, appears in the account as the estimate for the first half year.

	Kotrung. Rs. A. P.	Entally. Rs. A. P.
Water-rates	.....	1,424 6 9
Lighting-rate	.....	712 3 3
Drainage loan	723 0 11	1,424 6 9

GENERAL FUND.

6. The receipts and charges of the General Fund for 1877, as shown in the budget estimates, differed from the actual results as shewn in the accounts to the extent stated below, after allowing for additions made to the budget figures by subsequent sanctions of the Commissioners in meeting—

	Receipts.	Charges.	Surplus.	Deficit
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Estimates	17,66,810	17,01,[illegible]
Subsequent sanctions	1,23,500	2,37,741	.....	.....
Total	18,90,310	19,39,536	.....	49,226
Actuals	17,21,731	16,61,333	60,401	.....
More than the estimate	.....	.....	.....	.....
Less ditto	1,68,576	2,78,203	.....	.....

It would thus seem that whereas the budget anticipation of the year was a deficit of Rs. 49,226 to be met from the accumulated balance of the fund of former years, the actual transactions brought to account during the year produced a surplus of Rs. 60,401. The facts, however, are that the short payments under expenditure headings arise from the fact that the funds provided were not sufficient to meet the charges actually falling to be paid, and that the bulk of the apparent saving at the end of the year represents unliquidated liabilities which will have to be met in the current year.

7. The differences under the various headings of receipts and charges were as follow:—

Receipts.	More than the estimate in some detailed headings.	Less than the estimate in other detailed headings.
Rates	7,639	.....
Taxes	20,514	5,773

Charges.	More than the estimate in some detailed headings.	Less than the estimate in other detailed headings.

Rent charges	1,989	112
Purchase of land	550	.....
Miscellaneous expenditure	21,862	8,903
Total	96,852	3,75,054

In the above statement the head of manufactories, which appears in the budget, has been omitted, the contribution from the general fund towards the cost of the establishment of the Entally manufactory having been distributed under other headings, as explained in paragraph 5, and the cost of the machinery having been debited to the miscellaneous heading (see page 19 of the account), while the so-called profit of both the manufactories will be found credited under miscellaneous receipt (at page 16).

8. As regards the revenues or receipts, the following are the only major headings under which the net result for the year of the excesses and deficiencies against the various detailed headings is a deficit in each case to the amount stated:—

	Rs.
Road Department	1,03,353
New drainage	35,549
Night-soil department	71,876
Market receipts	1,265
Rents	2,607

In the first two cases, however, the deficit has been produced by an obvious mistake in the budget figures, which include the following items as revenue to be realized during the year:—

Road Department—	Rs.
Probable value of stock on 31st December	80,000
Ditto ditto at other depôts	23,174

New Drainage—	Rs.
Value of drainage pipes	45,000

The value of stores purchased is not entered as a charge against revenue, but treated merely as the conversion of a portion of the cash balance into stores which remain in hand as a valuable asset, and form part of the balance of the account. It is only when the stores come to be expended that their value is dealt with as a charge against revenue, and all losses and deteriorations in the value of stores are also so taken, while the revenue account is credited with accretions (if any) to the value of stores in hand or expended. Under these circumstances the balance of stores at the end of a year or the value of stores issued on payment to another fund cannot be treated as an item of realizable revenue. Hence, the sums detailed above ought to be disregarded in the comparison of the actuals with the estimated receipts for 1877, since there can never be any actual receipts to set against the estimate. Of the receipts of the night-soil department, as they are shown in the account, the first four items appear in the budget of the year and represent the revenue derived under the former system. The total of these items is Rs. 51,100, and adding to this sum the proportion, Rs. 21,000, of Tollah methers' depôt fees, omitted from the second column of the account as explained in paragraph 5, the result is Rs. 72,100, which represents the revenue which was estimated to be realized irrespective of the new assessment arrangements. Comparing these figures with the actual receipts, Rs. 38,675, the difference is Rs. 33,425, being the net loss of revenue under the four headings in question. On the other hand, the collections from assessment bills have amounted to Rs. 85,049, so that the net gain to the General Fund in revenue from the new arrangements, apart from the expenditure incurred, has been Rs. 51,624 irrespective of the Chairman's estimate of the new collections, which has proved excessive by Rs. 59,451. The deficit of Rs. 1,265 under market receipts would have amounted to a larger sum if, as pointed out by us in previous reports, the taxes paid by the tenants of shops in the Dhurrumtollah market had been credited, as they used formerly to be, to the several rate funds. The Commissioners have directed that this should be done in a resolution, bearing date the 4th August 1877, of the Finance Committee, subsequently approved by the Commissioners, but the instructions have not been acted upon. The deficiency under rents has been occasioned by the failure to realize a full year's sewer rent from the Suburban Commissioners, from whom Rs. 3,200 were due at the close of the year.

9. Of the remaining receipt headings which show excesses over the budget figures, we may remark generally that the receipts for the year appear to have been under-estimated, and as regards two of these headings, viz. Filling private tanks and drainage connection fees, we observe that the excesses in the realizations are more than counterbalanced by excesses of expenditure under the corresponding headings on the other side of the account, and that in both these cases the bulk of the transactions ought not, in our opinion, to be dealt with as revenue and expenditure of the General Fund. The expenses incurred in filling private tanks and draining private houses are recoverable from the proprietors of the tanks and houses, and the amounts ought to be shewn under distinct suspense headings from which recoveries of the advances and the amounts outstanding may be readily ascertained. Under present arrangements there is no security that the advances are fully realized, or realized at all.

10. If the budget figures for the receipts of 1877 be revised in the sense of the remarks at paragraph 8, the comparative memorandum, given at paragraph 6, will for receipts be modified as follows:—

Receipts.

	Rs.
Estimates	16,18,636
Subsequent sanctions	1,23,500
Total ...	17,42,136
Actuals	17,21,734
Less than the estimate

Expenditure.

11. Of the headings detailed at paragraph 7, under which the expenditure has exceeded the budget and subsequent sanctions, the first calling for remarks is "Direction and management Establishment," and in regard to this heading we observe that there has really been no excess payment under it; Mr. Wright's salary from 6th April to 30th November, which is included in the expenditure, having been specially sanctioned by the Commissioners in Finance Committee Meeting of the 9th April 1877. On the other hand, we observe that under "Conservancy Gowkhanas" the charge incurred in the purchase of cattle has not been fully stated. Cattle were purchased and paid for in 1877 to the value of Rs. 3,570-15-3, according to bills which have been produced to us setting forth this expenditure, and hence, according to the principle on which the accounts are framed, the entire amount so paid should have been treated as expenditure of the year 1877, and met from the budget grant of the year, or an additional sanction from the Commissioners should have been obtained to cover the excess charge. Only so much of the expenditure, however, as is covered by the budget grant for 1877, has been brought into the accounts, and the difference, Rs. 1,570-15-3, appears in the books at the close of the year as an outstanding advance, which is to be adjusted against the budget of the year 1878.

12. Under "Conservancy working charges" the expenditure incurred in filling private tanks being, as pointed out at paragraph 9, of the nature of a recoverable advance, should not, in our opinion, have been charged to the revenues of the General Fund; and so, also, under "New Drainage" the principal excess, Rs. 12,464-5, appears under the sub-head "House drainage establishments and contingencies," and is not an item of expenditure at all.

13. Under "Night-soil department" the only provision in the budget was the total of the following items:—

	Rs.
Commission on fees for tolah mehters' depôt...	3,000
Sanitary department establishment	8,700
Repair of latrines and night-soil depôts	2,000
Total ...	13,700

Subsequently an advance of Rs. 10,000 was made to cover the expenses of the new arrangements, and eventually the expenses actually incurred to the end of December, as reported by the Chairman, viz. Rs. 1,50,327, were passed by the Commissioners. The latter sum included the original budget provision, and therefore involved an additional grant of Rs. 1,36,627. Subsequent adjustments, however, have increased the amount of expenditure to Rs. 1,54,203-9-1, and we observe that advances made for the construction of night-soil depôts remained outstanding at the close of the year to the amount of Rs. 25,250. It has been stated at paragraph 8 that the net gain in revenue from the new night-soil arrangements was Rs. 51,624, and the expenditure adjusted during 1877 having amounted to Rs. 1,54,203-9-1, the net charge to the General Fund of the new arrangements, including the loss of the former estimated revenue, was Rs. 1,02,579-9-1, irrespective of the unadjusted advances, Rs. 25,250.

14. Under the heading miscellaneous expenditure the excesses have been numerous, the most important being—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Park Street improvement	1,107	1	6
Election charges	915	0	0
Profit and loss, being chiefly value of broken pipes, &c.	2,445	11	8
Petty cash stolen from cash office	97	5	3
Additions and improvements of store godown	5,683	5	3
New machine for Entally workshop	10,865	0	10

In none of these cases has the sanction of the Commissioners been produced to us in support of the payments.

15. Of most of the headings under which the expenditure is shewn to have been less than the estimate, it may be said that the differences represent bonâ fide savings when small in amount and unpaid liabilities when the amounts are large.

16. Under the Interest account, after allowing for a small payment of arrear interest for 1876, as detailed in a foot-note to the entry, and a saving of Rs. 4,500 on account of estimated interest on a loan of Rs. 2,00,000, which was not obtained from the Government, there remains a net sum of Rs. 2,26,195, representing interest due, but not paid in 1877. Similarly under Sinking Fund the saving is Rs. 2,000 on account of the loan referred to, and the net outstanding liability Rs. 37,612. These sums are independent of the refund which is due to the General Fund of Rs. 889 on account of arrear interest written off in excess in 1876 (see paragraph 25 of this report), and a charge of Rs. 1,321 said to have been incurred on account of compound interest.

17. Under "Hospitals and vaccination" the amount provided in the budget, viz. Rs. 30,000, did not represent the amount due and payable during 1877, as the contribution to the pauper hospital. There were unpaid arrears of the contribution at the close of 1876 to the amount of Rs. 60,000, and hence Rs. 90,000 should have been provided in the estimates, and that sum represents the outstanding liability on account of this contribution at the end of the year.

18. Under the other headings we are informed by the Chairman that the unpaid liabilities not entered on the books of the Corporation and not specifically provided for in the budget of 1878, amount to Rs. 51,850.

	Rs.
Interest	2,26,405
Sinking fund	37,612
Compound interest	1,321
Hospitals	90,000
Other liabilities as per Chairman's memorandum	51,850
	4,07,278
	4,06,389

19. We find, therefore, that the liabilities of the revenue account of the General Fund, which remained unpaid on the 31st December 1877, amounted to Rs. 4,06,389, and setting these figures against the nominal saving of Rs. 2,78,203 on the estimated expenditure as set forth in paragraph 6, we have a net excess over budget figures of Rs. 1,28,186. On the other hand, the revenue was less than the estimate by Rs. 20,402 (vide paragraph 10), so that the net deficit for the year on a comparison of the actual with the estimated figures is Rs. 1,48,588.

20. Taking now the actual figures for the year, irrespective of the estimates, we have—

		Rs.	A.	P.
Expenditure as per account		16,61,333	6	0
Liabilities not provided for in budget of 1878		4,06,389	0	0
Total ...		20,67,722	6	0
Revenue and receipts as per account...		17,21,734	4	8
Deficit ...		3,45,988	1	4

That the balance of the General Fund taken as a whole was insufficient to cover this deficit will be apparent from the annual account which closes with a balance of Rs. 3,37,305, and the explanatory memorandum of details will show that the bulk (Rs. 2,80,540-7) of this balance was held in stores and building and road materials, and that, of Rs. 91,754-14-8, the cash in hand, Rs. 34,990 represented money due to other funds and deposits repayable to the contractors and others, after allowing for the realization of all recoverable advances independent altogether of the liabilities of the revenue account of the General Fund above referred to.

21. We are not aware that it has been ascertained what is the minimum balance of stores which is indispensable to the efficient working of the various departments of the municipality for any given period, nor has any money limit of which the auditors can take cognizance been placed at any time by the Commissioners in meeting on purchases of stores to be made during a year. These purchases, as explained at paragraph 8, are separate from the revenue and expenditure of the General Fund, being treated as a suspense account, and they do not appear in the annual budget, although they have a most important bearing on the financial operations of each year. In proof of this we would draw your attention to the fact that of Rs. 2,80,540-7-0, the value of stores in hand on 31st December 1877, no less a sum than Rs. 98,868-14-3 represented stores which could not possibly be brought into use in reduction of the ordinary expenditure of any year, viz.—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Iron-work for the market building	55,605	7	2
Tramway stores	14,414	3	1
Tools and implements . ... '... ...	28,849	4	0

So that the net balance of stores in hand, Rs. 1,81,671-8-9, and the net available balance of cash, Rs. 56,769-14-8, on the 31st December, or, in other words, the entire disposable balance of the General Fund, viz. Rs. 2,38,441-7-5, would have been insufficient to meet the deficit of the revenue account, Rs. 3,45,988-1-4.

22. In a resolution of the Town Council of the 10th May last, our attention was specially invited to the causes of the deficit, and we were asked "to lay before the Commissioners a clear statement shewing the excess expenditure over budget grants, including all the supplementary grants sanctioned by the Commissioner for 1877, and a similar statement for 1876, and shewing, as furnished by the Chairman of the Municipality, all outstanding liabilities at the end of 1876 and 1877 compared with the budget and supplementary grants." We have, we believe, in the foregoing remarks furnished the information required as regards the nature and causes of the deficit of 1877, and we beg to subjoin a statement shewing in abstract form the transactions of that year and of 1876 as they appear in the accounts with the opening [illegible] balances:—

1876.	Balance on 1st January 1876.	Receipts.	Total.	Expenditure.	Balance on 31st December 1876.

[illegible] we observe in the first place that the budget of that year as originally framed estimated for a deficit of Rs. 85,818, that being the [illegible] of that year, thus—

	Rs.
Estimated receipts	16,86,901
,, charges	17,72,719
Deficit ...	85,818

These figures are exclusive of the amounts which appear on either side of the budget under the head of "Manufactories," and also of the sum of Rs. 50,000, the estimated "value of drainage stores to be refunded to the General Fund in 1876," which, as explained at paragraph 8, should never have been taken into account as revenue. In the course of the year, however, sanctions were given by the late Justices and the Commissioners to additional expenditure to the amount of Rs. 1,28,179, while the revenue remained unaltered, the estimated deficit being increased by this means to Rs. 2,13,997, apart altogether from unsanctioned payments in excess of budget limits. It now appears, moreover, that the budget of 1876, which was framed in the same way as all other budgets of the municipality have been framed within our experience, did not provide for all outstanding liabilities of former years. We do not detail these liabilities of 1876, because the accounts of that year and of 1877 being considered together, all outstandings of 1876 have been either discharged in 1877 or included in the Chairman's memorandum of outstanding liabilities on 31st December 1877, referred to in paragraph 18.

24. While making these remarks at the invitation of the Town Council, we take the opportunity to observe that it does not fall within our province as auditors of the municipal accounts to criticize the municipal budgets or to ascertain whether provision is fully made in them for all outstanding liabilities; and remarks of this kind do not ordinarily appear in an audit report. The budget figures of each year are accepted without question by us as auditors, and our duty is to leave all responsibility for the estimates to the Corporation, and merely to report all the differences which occur between these figures and the actual receipts and payments of the year, for the accuracy of which, as set forth in the accounts, we are entirely responsible. In all cases, therefore, in which a budget grant has remained either wholly or partially unaffected by the actual receipts or payments of the year, the entire amount, or the difference, has been entered accordingly in the appropriate column of the published accounts, and in certifying the accuracy of these entries our duties as auditors seem, as regards such transactions, to be fulfilled.

25. While the estimated deficit for 1876 was Rs. 2,13,997, as shown above, the deficit in the actual figures was Rs. 1,49,026-5-5. The details of this deficit will be found in the 4th and 5th columns of the printed accounts of 1876, and the causes were brought to your notice in paragraphs 10 to 17 of our audit report of that year, the principal items of excess expenditure being as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Interest account	43,282	8	6
Road department	20,380	3	6
Municipal railway	5,413	12	0

We would remind you, however, as regards the excess under interest, that it was occasioned by the transfer to a separate account (in accordance with the law which had been previously disregarded in this particular) of the entire sum which was due and payable on account of interest on the 31st December 1876. After this transfer the General Fund was absolutely free of liability in respect of interest on debenture loans, and the amount transferred, Rs. 1,60,939, though only an estimate, has been proved by a detailed investigation subsequently made, under the supervision of an Accountant of the Public Works Department specially deputed for the purpose, to be substantially correct. The outstanding interest on 31st December 1876 is shown in a report submitted to the Commissioners to have been Rs. 1,60,050, or Rs. 889 less than the amount transferred, and statements have been produced to us, duly authenticated by the officer who conducted the inquiry, detailing the numbers and amounts of the debentures of all the loans, and shewing the amount of interest due upon each.

26. At the close of the year 1876 there remained at credit of General Fund a net balance of Rs. 2,76,904-7-4, but of this amount there was only a nominal sum in cash, Rs. 75-2-1, the amount being made up as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Cash				75	2	1
Stores and materials				3,31,001	4	7
Tools and implements				33,749	13	6
Advances recoverable				65,191	13	10
Total ...				4,30,318	2	0
Less due to Bank of Bengal for over drafts... ...	5,153	1	8
Deposits	7,912	8	10
Other rates and Loan Funds	1,40,318	0	2
				1,53,413	10	8
Balance ...				2,76,904	7	4

From the value of the store balance as above stated there should be deducted Rs. 70,019-10-3 on account of market building and tramway materials of which no use could be made (see paragraph 21), so that the net balance of working stores, Rs. 2,60,981-10-4, was practically all that was available to meet the deficit of the year.

27. We have the following remarks to add to what we have said above regarding the audit of the General Fund account of 1877. In checking the pay bills of the various establishments we have noticed deviations which have occurred from the details of the scale sanctioned for each establishment in the budget of the year; and as the pay of every office under the Commissioners, however small, must, under section 36 of the Act, be approved by the Commissioners in meeting, revised lists of establishments shewing the actual distribution were submitted to the Town Council, and ordered, we observe, to be circulated. These proceedings of the Town Council have been confirmed by the Commissioners in meeting, and we conclude, therefore, that the charges have been sanctioned, and we have passed the bills accordingly. We have frequently called for the register of lands and immovable property which was directed to be opened at our suggestion in the Resolution of the Commissioners in meeting of the 31st January 1877, but it has not been produced to us. Nor has any authority been produced for writing off the books of the Kotrung manufactory a sum of Rs. 2,381, being the loss sustained by the sale of boats belonging to the Corporation.

WATER-RATE ACCOUNT.

28. We subjoin two memoranda (in the forms given at paragraphs 6 and 22 for the General Fund) shewing the actual receipts and charges of the water-rate fund of the year 1877—first, in comparison with the budget figures; and secondly, with the opening and closing balances of the year as shewn in the books of the Corporation:—

1877.	Receipts.	Charges.	Surplus.	Deficit.

* Due to water-supply loan account.

It would seem from these figures that the estimated receipts of the year as entered in the budget were exceeded by Rs. 44,636, and that the expenditure also was less than the budget by Rs. 2,45,738, the account closing on the 31st of December with the large balance of Rs. 4,06,212-11-10. As in the case of the General Fund, however, an examination of the savings of expenditure shows that they are to a large extent nominal, an entire half-year's interest and sinking fund contribution on the total water-supply debt having been left unpaid, viz.—

	Rs.
Interest	1,16,510
Sinking	57,560
Total ...	1,74,070

In this case, however, the large loans taken during the year for the purposes of the General Fund and the drainage loan account contributed directly to the failure of cash to meet the liabilities of the water-rate account, viz.—

	Rs.
Loan to General Fund	1,29,479
,, to drainage loan...	66,550
Total ...	1,96,029

and hence any extra charge, such as compound interest, which the non-payment may involve, ought to be borne by the General and not the Water-rate Fund.

29. The following are the most important differences between the actual receipts and charges of the year and the budget figures:—

	Excess over budget. Rs. A. P.	Less than budget. Rs. A. P.
Receipts.
Sale of water	44,187 9 9
Miscellaneous	12,466 3 8
House connection fees	.....	7,689 6 3
Expenditure.
Charges for the sale of water	5,341 0 1
Repairs and cleaning of filters, Pultah	4,382 12 1
Repairs of building, Tallah	1,248 4 11
Proportion of Entally establishment	1,424 6 9
Profit and loss	1,165 2 1
Extension of water-supply ...	1,386 9 3
Ditto ditto at Hastings	827 12 2

Under almost every other heading the expenditure for the year appears to have fallen below the budget figures; and except as regards the interest and sinking fund payments, to which we have called attention in the last paragraph, the short payments seem to represent bonâ fide savings.

LIGHTING RATE ACCOUNT.

30. We observe that advances were made from this account in the course of the year 1877 for the purchase of ornamental lamps for the maidan, a balance of Rs. 142-8-0 remaining unadjusted out of these advances at the close of the year. The cost of lighting the maidan being borne by the Government, it is not clear why advances in connection with it should be made from the funds of the Corporation; for although one of the repayments in part of the original advance was made by the Secretary to the Corporation, it is explained that he acted in this matter on behalf of the Commissioner of Police, for whom he keeps a separate account of the Maidan Lighting Fund, and it further appears that the transactions of this fund are not entered at all in the account of the Police Office. Meanwhile, it is understood that the lighting of the maidan is supervised by an employé of the Corporation, the Inspector of Lighting, who receives an extra allowance for the duty from the Maidan Lighting Fund, and that the surplus of this fund, being the amount paid by the Executive Engineer to the Commissioner of Police in excess of the actual expenditure, has been applied in past years, under the orders of the Chairman as Commissioner of Police, towards the support of selected local institutions. We consider it our duty to call special attention to these facts, as they show that the accounts of the Police Office do not include all the cash transactions which take place during a year.

MARKET BLOCK ACCOUNT.

31. A payment of Rs. 500 was made to the General Fund in the course of the year, from the balance of the Market Loan Account, on account of the value of a tower clock transferred to the new market building from the Kotrung manufactory, where it used to be held as a part of the manufactory plant We have asked for a certificate of the clock having been put up and duly incorporated in the block of the new market but have not been furnished with the certificate.

DRAINAGE LOAN ACCOUNT.

32. The expenditure incurred during 1877 in the extension of the drainage will be found detailed in this account, sewer by sewer, and there have been added for the first time this year in a separate column the amounts of the sanctioned estimates in corresponding detail. It will be seen that, whereas the estimated drainage expenditure of the year as approved by the Commissioners was Rs. 4,64,562, only Rs. 2,17,648-14-10 were actually expended, and that of this latter sum Rs. 1,17,473-3-8 represented the cost of work with establishment and other charges as sanctioned by the Commissioners, while for the difference, Rs. 70,175-11-2, estimates had been approved by the Chairman, but not by the Commissioners. Some of the payments, moreover, which are included in the above sum of Rs. 1,47,473-3-8, relate to estimates sanctioned prior to 1877, and which do not appear in the statement of the season's operations for 1877 as approved in the Commissioner's proceedings of the 7th April and 26th November 1877.

BALANCE SHEET.

33. We have examined and certified the balance sheets which are attached to the printed accounts of the several rate funds and of the loan accounts. With the exceptions noted below, the balances have been analyzed and checked in detail, and their corrections independently verified. The exceptions are—

	Rs. A. P.
Bills in the hand of the Engineer	412 0 6
Deposits for appeals against assessments	2,097 1 6

of which neither details, nor the needful verifying certificates have been produced.

34. The same remark applies to the amounts which appear in the balance sheets as held by the Collectors and the arrear department in outstanding rate bills. The amounts are—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Collector, 1st Division, house rate	12,613	14	9
Ditto, 2nd ditto, ditto	10,001	3	6
Ditto, 1st ditto, night-soil bills	15,858	9	9
Ditto, 2nd ditto, ditto	21,721	11	0
Superintendent, Arrear Collection Department, house rate	16,984	5	5
Ditto, ditto ditto, night-soil bills	3,967	2	6
Water-rate—
Collector, 1st Division	11,894	12	0
Ditto 2nd ditto	12,404	3	3
Superintendent, Arrear Collection Department	13,377	12	0
Police-rate—
Collector, 1st Division	5,200	7	0
Ditto, 2nd ditto	5,265	14	6
Superintendent, Arrear Collection Department	10,303	2	3
Lighting-rate—
Collector, 1st Division	5,133	10	6
Superintendent, Arrear Collection Department	8,437	3	3

and the officers concerned admit, in a general way, that the amounts stated represent correctly the outstanding demand of each rate for which they are severally responsible. But stock was not taken of these outstanding bills on the 31st December or any later date, nor have lists detailing the balances been produced to us; so that we have no assurance that bills to the amounts stated were really outstanding on the 31st December.

35. The balances of the store and material accounts are supported by the usual stock lists, which bear out the correctness of the figures in the books; but, as we have pointed out in successive reports, these stock lists are signed, and stock appears to have been taken only by the store-keeper in charge of each store or material depôt. We repeat our annual remark that it is desirable, in our opinion, that there should be some independent check on the accuracy of the stock lists.

36. We would call your attention, in conclusion, to the balances which appear in the balance sheet against the headings "Debenture Loan Sinking Fund" and "Interest payable on Debenture Loans." The first of the headings has been opened in accordance with the suggestion contained in paragraph 33 of our last report, and has been credited with the contribution set aside during the year towards the repayment of the debenture loan. It was not found possible, however, before the books were closed to transfer to this heading, the proportion belonging to it of the balance of the General Sinking Fund as hitherto maintained. The balances under the two Sinking Fund Accounts, therefore, are subject to re-adjustment in the course of the year 1878. The same remark applies to the balance at credit of the account "Interest payable on Debenture Loans." It has been ascertained, as explained at paragraph 25 of this report, that the amount remaining at credit of this account as a whole exceeds the correct balance by Rs. 889, and this sum is held in a suspense heading on the interest ledger, subject to refund during 1878 to credit of the General Fund Account.

We have the honor to be,
GENTLEMEN,
Your most obedient servant,
JAMES TAYLOR, Asst. Comptroller-General.

PART VI.

Bill of the India Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 6th November 1878, and was referred to a Select Committee:—

No. 10 of 1878.

A Bill to amend the Pleaders, Mukhtárs and Revenue Agents Act, 1865.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to empower certain Local Governments to extend to the territories administered by them respectively such portions of the Pleaders, Mukhtárs and Revenue Agents Act, 1865, as the said Local Governments may think fit, and for that purpose to amend the said Act in manner as hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. Commencement.

1. This Act may be called "The Pleaders, Mukhtárs and Revenue Agents Act, 1878;" and it shall come into force at once.

Definition of "Local Government" amended.

2. To the definition of "Local Government" in section 2 of the said Act the words "and includes a Chief Commissioner" shall be added.

Amendment of sec. 47 of Act XX of 1865.

3. For the last twenty-eight words of section 47 of the said Act the following shall be substituted:—

"and any other Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend all or any of the provisions of this Act to all or any of the territories for the time being under its administration."

Amendment of sec. 48 of Act XX of 1865.

4. For section 48 of the said Act the following section shall be substituted:—

"48. On and from the date on which any of the provisions of this Act are extended to any territory under section forty-seven, so much of the enactments in force in such territory as is inconsistent with any of the provisions so extended shall be repealed."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 47 of Act XX of 1865 (an Act to amend the law relating to Pleaders and Mukhtárs) provides that the Act shall take effect in the Lower Provinces and North-Western Provinces of Bengal on the 1st January 1866, "and may be extended by any other Local Government to its own territories by notification" at any time. But there is no provision empowering a Local Government to extend a portion of the Act to its territories. The Government of Madras now desires to extend the Act to its territories, omitting the provisions relating to Agents in proceedings before the Revenue authorities; and as it appears expedient to the Government of India that Local Governments should have power to extend to all or any portion of their territories such portion of the Act as they may think fit, the present Bill has been prepared to confer that power on them

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

Deposit.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8.—The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1877-78, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1879, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 60,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT DURING THE YEAR 1877-78.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—MIS. REVENUE

Calcutta, the 26th November 1878.

READ—

The Annual Customs Report of the Board of Revenue for 1877-78.

Attention was drawn in the Resolution recorded last year on the Customs administration in Bengal to the inadequacy of the reports submitted both by the Board of Revenue and the Collector of Customs. It was pointed out that the Collector should carefully observe the course of trade in Calcutta, and furnish a comprehensive review of the commercial phenomena of the year. These instructions have been satisfactorily carried out by the Collector. The report of the Board, however, has been reduced to the dimensions of a mere covering letter to the Collector's report, and, even with regard to the trade of the outports, fails to furnish such a full review of the transactions of the year as might be expected from the controlling authority of the Customs administration of these provinces. While admitting that these defects are to some extent accounted for by the fact that the submission of the report was insisted upon at an earlier date than had been the practice in former years, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that in future the Board will recognise their obligation to place on record some comprehensive criticism of the working of this important department.

2. Customs Revenue.—Including the revenue on imported salt, the statistics of which have already been dealt with in the review of the Board's report on the salt revenue, the following statement furnishes a general view of the gross and net revenue derived from customs duties in the whole of Bengal during the past five years:—

The total net duty collected in Bengal, which had fallen in 1875-76 and 1876-77, rose during the past year from Rs. 3,46,67,644 to Rs. 3,69,78,285, being an increase of more than twenty-three lakhs. Leaving out of account the increase of more than eight lakhs in the revenue derived from salt, there remains an increase of fifteen lakhs in the duty levied upon other imports. By far the larger proportion of this was due to larger imports of cotton yarn and piece-goods, although the imports of liquors and metals also contributed materially to the rise of duty. The circumstances which led to this peculiar development of the cotton trade will be discussed in detail below in connection with the trade of Calcutta. Under the head of exports, the increase of revenue was less marked, amounting to Rs. 52,617 only. The effect of an increase in the total amount of duty collected on rice was counterbalanced by the increased refunds of duty necessitated by a change in the procedure followed by the Customs Office in respect of shipping passes. There was a considerable rise in the receipts on account of indigo and an equivalent fall on shell-lac.

Under the head of foreign trade the imports of merchandise rose in value from Rs. 16,69,38,128 in 1876-77 to Rs. 19,38,54,456 in the past year, being an increase of more than two crores and a half. The imports of treasure also increased to nearly five crores, against two crores and three-fifths in the previous year, for reasons which will be discussed in the special section treating of the movements of treasure. In the coasting trade the imports of merchandise rose from Rs. 2,25,79,046 to Rs. 2,78,76,093, and those of treasure from Rs. 57,00,143 to Rs. 96,63,333. Taking foreign and coasting trade together, and including treasure, the imports into Bengal rose from Rs. 22,14,71,982 to Rs. 28,10,07,874.

4. The exports from the Lower Provinces during the last five years were as follow:—

The exports of merchandise in the foreign trade increased in value from Rs. 26,44,66,482 to Rs. 31,06,87,132, and the exports of treasure from Rs. 10,38,308 to Rs. 4,47,096. In the coasting trade the exports of merchandise rose from Rs. 9,55,02,089 to Rs. 13,07,11,152, and the exports of treasure from Rs. 2,15,87,290 to Rs. 2,66,35,774. Including both foreign and coasting trade, the total value of the exports from Bengal rose from Rs. 38,40,87,871 to Rs. 47,00,02,162.

5. Adding together the totals of both export and import trade, it will be seen that the value of the trade of the Bengal Presidency rose from Rs. 60,55,59,853 in 1876-77 to Rs. 75,10,10,036 in 1877-78, an increase of nearly fifteen crores, or 24 per cent., against a rise of nine crores, or 17·43 per cent. in the previous year. These figures are inclusive of treasure, but do not include Government transactions.

There was a decrease in the value of the imports of Rs. 19,49,982 and an increase in the value of the exports amounting to Rs. 22,339. The importation of arms and ammunition was reduced by six lakhs; that of metal, railway plant, and paper by four lakhs; of hardware and cutlery by three lakhs; and of stationery by two lakhs. The effect of these reductions was, however, counteracted to some extent by an increase of five lakhs in the imports of boots and shoes, of three lakhs and a half in woollen goods, and of two lakhs in ale, beer, and porter. Nearly the whole of these imports were received from the United Kingdom. Under the head of exports, which consist for the most part of copper coin sent to Ceylon and the Straits Settlements, the increase was trifling.

8. The imports of merchandise into Calcutta during 1877-78 were valued at Rs. 19,36,25,769, against Rs. 16,66,74,247 in the preceding year, being an increase of Rs. 2,69,51,522. By far the larger proportion of this enormous rise in the imports consisted of shipments from the United Kingdom of cotton twist and manufactured goods valued at 218 lakhs. The reasons of this excessive and exceptional import are discussed in the paragraph on the cotton trade below. Among other articles, of which the import rose less conspicuously, may be mentioned liquors, metals, mineral oil, silk both raw and manufactured, umbrellas, drugs and spices, provisions, apparel and woollen goods. On the other hand there was a decline of twelve lakhs in the import of railway plant and rolling-stock, of five lakhs in salt, and of two lakhs and a half in China tea.

9. A very remarkable rise occurred in the imports of treasure, which increased from Rs. 2,62,54,665 to Rs 4,96,03,992. The imports of gold advanced by twenty-four lakhs, and those of silver by two hundred and nine lakhs. The exceptionally large import of silver is stated to have been due to the suspension of the Secretary of State's drawings upon India during the period when silver was required here to lay down grain for shipment to Europe, and to pay for the crops of jute and indigo. Taking treasure and merchandise together, it will be seen that the imports of the foreign trade amounted to Rs. 24,32,29,761—an increase of more than five crores over the imports of the previous year, and of more than four crores over those of 1874-75, when the imports stood higher than at any other time during the last five years.

10. Almost equally remarkable is the stimulus which was felt in the export trade. The value of the merchandise exported from Calcutta amounted to Rs. 30,99,69,984, against Rs. 26,45,34,814 in the previous year, showing an increase of more than four crores and a half. This increase consisted chiefly of larger shipments of seeds, wheat, rice, jute, indigo, tea, opium, and hides. There was a decline of fifty-five lakhs in the exports of raw cotton, and the trade in sugar, lac, raw silk, and piece-goods also fell appreciably.

Trade with foreign countries.

11. The statement below shows the proportion in which the foreign trade of Calcutta is divided between the various countries with which commercial relations are maintained:—

	1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.
United Kingdom	63·59	64·72	65·66
China—Hong-Kong	12·73	12·43	11·07
Ditto—Treaty Ports	1·48	1·09	1·53
France	3·39	3·61	4·17
Straits Settlements	4·92	4·14	3·87
United States	4·14	4·26	3·72
Ceylon	2·41	2·36	2·74
Mauritius	1·48	1·80	1·72
Australia	1·34	1·17	1·40
Italy	1·41	1·44	1·34
Austria	0·75	0·71	0·55
Other countries	2·36	2·27	2·23

The trade with the United Kingdom amounts to almost two-thirds, and that with the United Kingdom and China together to over three-fourths of the whole trade of the port. The trade with the United Kingdom shewed an increase of 385 lakhs in imports and 278 lakhs in exports. Of the increase in imports nearly 143 lakhs were treasure, and 218 lakhs cotton goods. In the trade with China the most marked feature in the year's operations was the increased export of opium, amounting in value to 35 lakhs over that of the preceding year. The imports of tea have fallen by nearly one-half. The trade with the Straits Settlements also increased by 25 lakhs or 13 per cent.; the imports of treasure and merchandise having risen by 11 and 8 lakhs respectively, while exports also advanced chiefly under the head of jute bags, precious stones and pearls. The trade with the United States is mainly in exports, which are valued at 192 lakhs, against 14 lakhs of imports. The export of indigo, raw-hides, jute, and sugar increased during the year, as also did the import of kerosene oil. The Ceylon trade is also chiefly in exports, and the value of these rose by 44 lakhs on the whole, of which 41 lakhs were due to larger shipments of rice. Similarly, the exports of Indian produce to the Mauritius rose by 15 lakhs, to meet the growing wants of the Indian immigrants in that island. The trade with Australia grew 45 per cent. during the year, the imports rising by ten lakhs, half of which was in treasure; and the exports by 14 lakhs, mainly in jute bags and castor-oil. The trade with Italy also improved by about three and a half lakhs under imports and four lakhs under exports. On the other hand, the trade with Austria declined during the past year. This, however, is a matter of trivial importance, as the value of the entire trade, both import and export, did not much exceed thirty lakhs. The trade with France still maintains a steady rate of increase. Imports from that country have risen by five lakhs, and exports by nearly sixty lakhs. The increase in the former was due partly to shipments of silver, and partly to the extended import of silk piece-goods. Under the head of exports there was an increase of fifty-seven lakhs under indigo, of eighteen lakhs in oilseeds, and one lakh in woollen shawls. This important growth of exportation to France arises from the development of the direct trade with that country through the Suez Canal. The proportion of the foreign trade of Calcutta following this route rose during the past year to 52 per cent. It will appear from the following statement that, with the exception of a trifling decline in 1875-76, the trade passing through the Canal has steadily increased in value having doubled itself in six years:—

	Imports.	Exports.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1871-72	9,09,46,164	5,45,47,715	14,54,93,879

1877-78	18,38,27,054	10,42,01,939	28,80,28,993

12. Import Trade.—The imports of agricultural implements amounted to Rs. 3,36,197, against Rs. 2,46,882 in the previous year. They did not, however, reach the amount recorded in 1874-75. The continual extension of tea gardens, and the increasing use of machinery in the manufacture of indigo, are stated by the Collector to account for the enhanced imports of the past year. Doubtless it is the case that fresh tea gardens are continually being opened out, and that machinery is more largely used in manufacturing indigo; but it would appear that imports of machinery for rolling tea and extracting the dye from indigo would be more properly recorded under the head of machinery than under that of agricultural implements.

Agricultural implements.

13. Apparel shows a rise of value from Rs. 17,71,633 to Rs. 19,44,069, due, it is suggested, to the fact that exchange was somewhat more favourable, and that there was less inducement to individuals to reduce their expenditure. As, however, a large proportion of the imports under this head is re-exported to British Burmah and ports on the coast, it is not possible to guage the consumption very accurately.

Apparel.

14. The imports of coal rose from 77,375 tons valued at Rs. 14,31,348 to 80,703 tons valued at Rs. 13,07,504. The fact that this increase is clearly not proportionate to the unusually large number of steamers which arrived in the port during the year is appealed to by the Collector of Customs as evidence that the local supply of indigenous coal has successfully entered into competition with coal imported from England. No doubt the use of Indian coal tends to increase, and with slightly modified appliances very trifling inconvenience is caused by it. But it is by no means clear that the competition of Indian coal has at present had any appreciable effect upon the imports of English coal. The question is further complicated by the rates of freight ruling from England to India. When these are low, steamers bring out with them to India a supply of coal sufficient for the return voyage, but when freights are high, all available space is required for cargo and only enough coal is taken for the voyage to India. The Collector notes that passes were given for the shipment of 90,000 tons of English and country coal for the use of sea-going steamers leaving the port, which are not included in the statistics of export trade.

The Collector of Customs attributes the striking increase in the imports of cotton goods of all classes to over-trading on the part of the leading Manchester firms. He states that, in the absence of an effective demand from other consuming countries, shipments were made to India on a much larger scale than the country could fairly absorb. Prices consequently fell below the cost of importation, and in spite of the high price of food, an unnatural stimulus was given to consumption in this country. The Collector therefore anticipates a considerable decline in the imports during next year, and cites the following figures in support of this view: —

	From April 1877 to July 1877.		From April 1878 to July 1878.
	Quantities.	Value.	Quantities.	Value.
	lb.	Rs.	lb.	Rs.

No doubt there was a distinct tendency towards excessive importation during the past year, which is sufficiently accounted for by the general state of trade and the diminished demand for cotton goods combined with over-production in England. But in assuming that the high price of food might naturally be expected to affect unfavourably the demand for cotton goods, the Collector appears to be arguing from the economic experience of European countries, which is not necessarily applicable to India. It is a familiar fact in England that a rise in the price of food tends directly to discourage the consumption of luxuries, and even causes a marked reduction in the number of marriages. But in a population which is almost wholly agricultural, the profits arising from the high price of food are so widely distributed that the expenditure on luxuries may positively be augmented in years when food is dear. In Bengal, during the past year, there was not only an abundant crop, but the prices of food ruled abnormally high in consequence of the demand for grain in Madras and Bombay; consequently the agricultural and trading classes enjoyed exceptional prosperity whatever other classes may have done. An unusual number of marriages were celebrated, and the expenditure of the cultivators on luxuries was sensibly increased. Under these circumstances, it seems reasonable to conclude that the increased imports of cotton goods were not wholly due to the exigencies of the Manchester manufacturers, but were at any rate partially designed to meet a genuine demand.

Drugs and medicines.

16. The import of drugs and medicines has risen in value from Rs. 10,29,163 to Rs. 14,84,287. Quinine shows a remarkable rise in price, the quantity imported having increased from 3,844 pounds to 3,980 pounds, while the value rose from Rs. 2,89,890 to Rs. 5,48,404. This is stated to be due to the demand for quinine for the Turko-Russian war, and to disturbances in Peru, which interfered with the transport of bark to the coast. The Collector calls attention to the increase in the import of quinine as evidence that the production of cheap alkaloids in India is not likely to displace the original drug. But, in the first place, the cinchona alkaloids have not been long enough in the market to produce any effect on the demand for quinine; and secondly, although the demand for those alkaloids is very large, it proceeds either from Government institutions or from classes who could in no case afford to use quinine. It can therefore hardly be expected that the sale of the cinchona alkaloids would as yet produce any marked effect upon the ordinary imports of quinine, though the amount imported by Government will eventually no doubt be sensibly reduced and after all the increase is only 136lb.

17. The following statement shews the importation of malt liquors, spirits, and wines during the last five years:—

	Ale, Beer, and Porter.	Spirits.	Wines and Liqueurs.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1873-74	15,47,688	20,51,320	21,89,195
1874-75	15,92,848	27,22,377	24,05,564
1875-76	12,57,721	20,80,825	25,49,795
1876-77	12,80,994	23,61,694	19,55,127
1877-78	15,63,875	30,20,246	21,36,373

There has been a slight increase under the head of ale, beer, and porter, and a considerable increase under that of spirits. The imports of wines and liqueurs also seem to be returning to the level at which they stood in former years. The Collector notices as remarkable the fact that the bulk of the imports of claret and champagne are from England and not from France, where they are produced. This may possibly be due in some measure to the cause assigned by him, namely that these wines require to be adapted for English tastes; but the correctness of his view is open to much doubt. The best sparkling wines exported to India require to be re-corked, flattened, and double wired before shipment, and this probably can be more readily done in England than abroad as London is the chief emporium for export. Again, many of the French vineyards are practically in the hands of the London wine merchants, and the machinery of direct trade with France has not as yet been sufficiently extended to admit of the direct export of the main bulk of the supply. Attention is also drawn to the introduction into the liquor trade of a new fluid called condensed beer, this being a sort of essence containing the elements of beer partially fermented. Water is added then and fermentation again gone through. The essence pays no import duty. Supposing this to produce beer equal in quality to that imported in the usual way, it is possible that the imports of ordinary beer might be reduced. But at present the manufacture is said to be confined to Allahabad, and no material effect is known to have been produced on the liquor trade in Bengal.

18. The imports of machinery and mill-work during the last five years may be shown as follow:—

Machinery and mill-work.

It will be observed that, although there was a slight increase in the past year, the imports were still far below the level they attained in 1875-76. This, however, is precisely the state of things which might be expected to follow on the large extension of the jute-manufacturing industry which took place in the years preceding 1875-76. The trifling increase in the past year is probably due, as suggested by the Collector of Customs, to the opening of one new jute-mill. But for this the imports would merely have had to replace wear and tear in the existing machinery, and would probably have been even less than in the preceding year.

Metals.

19. Metals of all kinds, except quicksilver and steel, shew an increase in quantity, and all, except iron, have increased in value. Copper has risen from 148,134 cwt. valued at Rs. 77,22,652 to 175,110 cwt. value Rs. 84,75,653. This is said to be due to speculative shipments in the hope of a rise of prices which has not occurred. Iron has risen from 932,208 cwt. valued at Rs. 63,32,073 to 1,022,449 cwt. valued at Rs. 60,30,451. The decline in value is remarkable. It is explained that Belgian manufacturers are now turning out enormous quantities of iron at cheap rates, and that this iron has been largely imported into Calcutta viâ England. Many kinds of coarse native manufactures do not require iron of very superior quality, and the cheap iron manufactured in Belgium meets a demand which is very likely to increase. Apart, however, from this special influence, the general cheapness of metals has combined with low rates of freight from England to raise the imports from Rs. 1,79,53,108 to Rs. 1,87,01,906.

20. The imports of mineral oil during the last five years have been as follow:—

Mineral oil.

It is explained that the enormous increase observable in the imports of kerosene oil is due to the collapse of a strong combination of oil merchants in America which controlled the markets and prevented shipments abroad. As soon as the combination was broken up prices fell in America and elsewhere, and large supplies were poured into Calcutta not only from America, but from Singapore, Batavia, and Bombay, to which ports excessive shipments had been made. New wells of petroleum have also been discovered, and the investment of fresh capital in the trade has raised petroleum to the rank of one of the chief American exports. In consequence of the increase of the supply from America, the imports of British Burmah oil have declined, that oil being unable to compete with the cheaper and stronger American product.

Cigars and tobacco.

21. The imports of cigars have fallen from 86,613lb, valued at Rs. 2,12,874, to 77,947lb, valued at Rs. 2,35,090. This is due to diminished receipts from China and the Straits Settlements, whence nearly all the imports of Manilla cigars are received. The increase in value is accounted for by the fact that the price of Manilla cigars has risen, and that expensive cigars have been more largely imported from the United Kingdom. The Collector ascribes the decline in the Manilla trade to the improvement of the tobacco "cultivated in Rungpore and certain other districts of Bengal, as well as in Madras and Burmah." There can be no doubt that the marked improvements which have been introduced of late years into the manufacture of cigars in Madras and Burmah have tended to decrease the demand for Manillas; and now that the price of the latter has risen, Indian cigars will probably be still more largely used. A decline has also occurred in the imports of manufactured tobacco other than cigars, which have fallen from 4,47,042lb, valued at Rs. 2,75,673, to 3,53,389lb, valued at Rs. 2,03,886. This is doubtless due to increased consumption of country tobacco in the shape of cigars.

Re-exports of foreign merchandise.

22. Export trade.—Re-exports of foreign merchandise form a comparatively small proportion of the export trade. The following statement shows the value of the re-exports of foreign goods from Calcutta during the last five years:—

	Rs.		Rs.
1873-74 ...	11,42,086	1876-77 ...	14,93,562
1874-75 ...	12,54,552	1877-78 ...	15,20,953
1875-76 ...	10,70,062

This branch of the export trade seems to be growing, though it is still three lakhs less in value than it was in 1872-73. The articles re-exported were chiefly apparel and corals to the Strait Settlements, drugs to the United Kingdom, and cotton goods to Mauritius and Ceylon.

Exports of Indian produce.
Dyeing and colouring materials.

23. Under the general head of dyeing and colouring materials by far the most important is indigo, the exports of which during the last five years may be shown as follows:—

	Cwt.	Mds.	Value.	Average value per maund.
			Rs.	Rs.
1873-74	73,705	1,00,321	2,62,80,103	262
1874-75	54,428	74,083	1,98,16,099	267
1875-76	84,228	1,14,644	2,35,25,774	205
1876-77	69,379	94,433	2,35,66,023	250
1877-78	99,402	1,35,297	3,04,37,068	225

Indigo.

An unusually favourable season in Tirhoot and a moderate outturn in Bengal raised the quantity of indigo exported by nearly 43 per cent. This large production of itself tended to lower the price, while the uncertain condition of European politics weakened the regular demand for the dye, so that the average price obtained for the crop of 1877-78 was about 10 per cent. less than in the previous year. The increased export, however, was widely distributed. Egypt consumed seven times the quantity exported to that country in 1876-77; the demand from the United States rose by 59 per cent.; and France, Persia, and Turkey doubled their consumption. In the case of France the large apparent increase is probably due not so much to larger consumption as to a change in the mode of supply, indigo being now sent direct by the Suez Canal instead of being obtained by French merchants from England. But even if the actual present demand has not risen materially, the change of route is of itself a matter for congratulation, as the extension of direct trade is generally found to lead to increased consumption. It may be observed that the total export of indigo during the past year considerably exceeds that of any of the preceding five years, and is nearly 25,000 cwt. above the average export of the last thirty years. Ever since the aniline dyes entered so successfully into competition with lac-dye as almost to drive the latter out of the market, some anxiety has been felt as to the possibility of a similar fate overtaking the manufacture of indigo. An eminent chemist in Munich has now succeeded in producing the colouring principle of indigo by a synthetic chemical process; but it is understood that this method, unlike that employed in the case of the aniline dyes, is far too elaborate and expensive to be adapted to economic requirements.

The export of myrabolams for dying and tanning purposes rose from 24,313 cwts. to 105,113 cwts., owing apparently to the derangement of the Russian trade in bark and acorn crops. The trade in safflower has been almost killed by the use of aniline dyes; but turmeric, on the other hand, shows an annually increasing demand.

Grain and pulse.

24. Two powerful influences at home and abroad combined during the past year to stimulate the export of the important staples comprised under the heading of grain and pulse—the famine in Madras, and the war between Turkey and Russia. It is true that the most conspicuous effects of the Madras famine upon the exports for Calcutta were produced in the coasting trade, but it also exercised a considerable influence on the foreign exports. By virtually closing the Black Sea ports and cutting off one of the main sources of the wheat supply of Europe, the war in Turkey had a direct tendency to increase the exports of wheat from India.

Gram.

25. Turning to the detailed statistics recorded under the head of grain and pulse, it appears that the exports of gram rose from 2,38,293 cwt., valued at Rs. 6,42,737, to 3,61,563 cwt., valued at Rs. 12,53,920. Most of this was sent to Mauritius for the use of the large coolie population in that island, and a fair proportion also went to Ceylon.

Paddy.

The exports of paddy or unhusked rice amounted to 40,602 cwt., valued at Rs. 1,12,620, against 672 cwt., valued at Rs. 1,189 in the previous year.

Rice.

Nearly all of this unusually large export was shipped to Ceylon, the demand for cleaned rice in India being so great that the unhusked article was exported. The exports of husked rice during the last five years were as follow:—

				Cwt.	Rs.
1873-74	...	...	...	3,637,611	1,35,22,900
1874-75	...	...	...	2,724,232	1,04,85,569
1875-76	...	...	...	3,873,854	1,34,67,712
1876-77	...	...	...	5,243,704	1,99.88,737
1877-78	...	...	...	5,526,053	2,54,10,090

The increase in quantity during the past year was not very striking, but the heavy local demand enormously enhanced the price. Nearly half of the exports were taken by Ceylon, the demand from which country has risen very remarkably in the last two years, as is shown by the following statement of the exports to Ceylon during the last five years:—

	Cwt.	Rs.
1873-74	409,438	12,86,418
1874-75	94,121	3,31,144
1875-76	402,321	12,66,872
1876-77	2,167,837	76,32,597
1877-78	2,547,202	1,17,72,615

About one-fourth of the total exports from Calcutta is also sent to Mauritius for the use of the coolie population there. On the other hand, the exports to the United Kingdom and South America appear to be declining.

26. Attention was drawn last year to the increased exports of wheat which seemed to promise a permanent extension of the Indian wheat trade. The exports of the last five years are shown thus—

1873-74.		1874-75.		1875-76.		1876-77.		1877-78.
Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.
489,443	18,84,748	279,280	11,89,013	1,330,821	39,89,703	3,882,218	1,23,36,374	4,544,392	1,91,13,084

It can hardly be expected that this remarkable development will be permanent. Although still suffering from the effects of the war, the wheat growing districts of Russia will speedily recover themselves, and in the meantime there will be large exports from America, where an exceptionally large area is said to have been planted with wheat in anticipation of the European demand. The enormous exports of last year have exhausted the reserve stocks in Northern India, and the crop of the present year is said to be deficient. At the same time it is satisfactory to find that although the grain of Indian wheat is small, it is considered to yield flour of superior quality, and that mill machinery is being adapted to suit its requirements. About one-half of the export in the past year went through the Suez Canal, and arrived in much better condition than that sent round the Cape. It has hitherto been believed that one of the main obstacles to the growth of the Indian trade in wheat is the liability of the grain to be weevil eaten during those months' voyage round the Cape; but this danger seems to have been much exaggerated, and in any case is almost entirely obviated by the development of steam traffic through the Suez Canal.

Hides and Skins.

26. The export of raw hides rose from 4,543,826, valued at Rs. 1,21,07,416, to 5,313,492, valued at Rs. 1,48,37,158; and of raw skins from 2,207,420, valued at Rs. 15,22,649, to 2,915,798, valued at Rs. 18,75,284. This increased export was chiefly to the United States which did a large business in the manufacture of boots and shoes for the Russian and Turkish armies. There was a decrease in dressed hides and skins entirely owing to the great and urgent demand for the raw article. The trade in dressed hides and skins is, however, in any case not important.

Jute and gunny-bags.

27. Raw jute, the exports of which have steadily declined during the last few years, shows an increase from 4,532,148 cwt., valued at Rs. 2,63,60,880, to 5,319,318 cwt., valued at Rs. 3,44,67,912. This increase is accounted for by the fact that the stocks of jute at home were low, and that the jute crop in Bengal came in just when the famine in Madras was beginning to abate. Freights for England consequently fell very low and an unusual quantity of raw jute was shipped.

The exports of gunny-bags fell from 32,568,261, valued at Rs. 63,93,613, to 25,093,969, valued at Rs. 69,47,116. The demand for bags from the United States decreased by eight millions in consequence of the diminished exports of wheat to Europe. The famine in China reduced by three millions the requirements of that country for the export of rice, while the demand from the United Kingdom fell by a million and a half. To a certain extent the effect of these reductions was neutralized by an increase of three millions of bags in the exports to the Straits, of half a million to Egypt, and a million and a half to Australia. The net decrease in exports amounted to seven and a half millions of bags. There is, however, no reason to suppose that this diminution of the exports represented a decline in the prosperity of the trade. The local demand for bags to send grain to the Madras famine was enormous, and the use of gunny-bags enters more and more into the internal trade of the country. At the same time the manufacture has improved with longer experience, and the comparatively low rates of wages at which operatives can be obtained give Calcutta a considerable advantage over Dundee for the supply of the American, Australian, Asiatic, and Chinese markets. With regard to the demand for gunny-bags in China, the Collector should endeavour to furnish more precise information in next year's report. It is understood that a certain proportion of the so called exports to China are in fact sent to Singapore and the Straits Settlements, and that a still larger proportion, though nominally entered for Hong-Kong, are transhipped there and ultimately find their way to San Francisco. The following statement shows the export of gunny-bags during the last five years:—

1873-74.		1874-75.		1875-76.		1876-77.		1877-78.
No.	Rs.	No.	Rs.	No.	Rs.	No.	Rs.	No.	Rs.
6,402,365	19,03,636	7,687,617	22,30,194	18,695,025	43,07,650	32,568,261	63,03,613	25,003,969	69,47,116

Lac.

28. The apparent increase which was noticed last year in the export of lac has not continued, and the exports have fallen almost to the level of 1875-76. The following are the figures for the last five years:—

1873-74.		1874-75.		1875-76.		1876-77.		1877-78.
Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.

It will be seen that there has been a remarkable decline in the value of the exports since 1875-76. Apparently the reduction in duty sanctioned in July 1877 has had no beneficial effect on the trade.

Oil-seeds.

29. The exports of the various kinds of oil-seeds during the past five years were as follow:—

	1873-74.		1874-75.		1875-76.		1876-77.		1877-78.
	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.

The marked increase which occurred in the export of all oil-seeds during the past year is due partly to the war in Turkey which closed the Black Sea ports and generally disorganized Russian trade, and partly to the extended use of these oils for machinery, in manufactures and for illuminating purposes.

Raw silk.

30. The export of raw silk rose from 1,410,371lb, valued at Rs. 77,48,844, to 1,494,950lb, valued at Rs. 70,20,328, being an increase in quantity of about 7 per cent. Almost the whole of this increase was sent to the United Kingdom; the export to France showing a decrease, while those to Italy rose only slightly. The Collector seems to think that the extension of mulberry cultivation and the production of silk in the interior are signs of a revival of the trade. But there seems to be no grounds for believing that the rise of the exports in the past year was anything more than a temporary impulse. The European silk markets will continue to draw their main supplies from France and Italy; and it is only when the crops of those countries fail, and the deficiency is not supplied by China and Japan, that the Indian product can come into extensive demand. The Collector draws attention to a defect in the classification of silk in the trade returns which appears to require rectification.

Tea.

31. The following statement shows the exports of tea during the last five years with the average value per pound calculated from the aggregate value as returned by the shippers:—

	1873-74.		1874-75.		1875-76.		1876-77.		1877-78.
	19,185,029	1,73,02,428	21,023,939	1,92,34,861	24,220,450	2,15,00,362	27,529,198	2,58,07,047	33,180,878	3,01,73,960
Average value per lb	14 annas and 5 pie.		14 annas and 7 pie.		14 annas and 2 pie.		15 annas.		14 annas and 6 pie.

The Collector explains that the value is overstated, the tea not being really worth more than from 11 annas to 12 annas per pound. The increase in quantity is due to the fact that the produce of many gardens opened out about three years ago came into the market last year.

Tobacco unmanufactured.

32. The export of tobacco which fell from 18,885,400lb in 1875-76 to 9,403,997lb in 1876-77 showed a further decrease to 9,276,622lb in the year under review. The decrease is most marked in the case of exports to Trieste and Gibraltar, attributed in the former case to the ending of a contract for the supply of the Austrian army, and in the latter to the diminution of smuggling into Spain.

As there is no gold currency in India the imports of gold are regulated chiefly by the demand for ornaments, which varies with the material prosperity of the people. During the first three years of the period, for which returns are furnished above, the net imports of gold into Calcutta amounted to about 52 lakhs a year. In 1876-77 they fell to about 20 lakhs, owing, it is stated by the Collector, to the decline in the purchasing power of silver, and to the straitened circumstances of many classes. The enormous increase in the imports of silver is thus explained by the Collector of Customs:—

"Owing to the practice which prevailed during the greater part of the year of selling the Indian Council Bills, transferable by telegraph, silver was not much resorted to for purposes of remittance till June and July, when the exigencies of the grain trade led to a considerable increase in the imports of the metal. Later on, under the double influence of the cessation of the Secretary of State's drawings and the approach of the jute and indigo season, the imports of silver reached the enormous amount of upwards of two hundred and sixty-two lakhs for the three months September to November 1877, a similar increase having taken place in Bombay, where the imports for the same period amounted to four hundred and twenty-eight lakhs. A re-action set in on the resumption in December of the Indian Council's drawings, and the imports fell off to about ten lakhs in January and in March, and about five lakhs in February 1878, the shipments of bullion from England being checked by the very great easiness in the money market, and the falling off in exports of Indian produce after the indigo and jute crops had been shipped; and the financial year thus ended, as it began, with a comparatively small monthly import of silver."

In spite of a decline of 18 lakhs in the imports from Madras, and of 5 lakhs in those from British Burmah, the value of the total imports from British Indian ports rose from Rs. 1,73,70,723 to Rs. 1,92,46,683. At the same time the value of the imports from Indian ports rose from Rs. 5,74,153 to Rs. 9,29,817. The most important feature of the import trade from British Indian ports was the development of the Bombay imports, which rose in value from Rs. 49,48,170 in 1876-77 to Rs. 88,34,713 in the past year, being an increase of 39 lakhs. The imports of raw cotton rose by 11 lakhs, those of cotton twist and yarn of Indian manufacture by 10 lakhs; while the imports of Indian grey cotton piece-goods show rise in value of 17 lakhs. It is believed that the raw cotton was required for manufacturing purposes in the mills near Calcutta. Details of the imports of cotton twist and piece-goods of Indian manufacture are shown below:—

The rapid advance of these imports is the most conspicuous feature of the interportal trade of Calcutta. Between 1873-74 and the past year the imports of cotton twist and yarn, which are almost wholly from Bombay, have risen from less than 50,000lb to more than five millions and a half. This increase is due not only to the natural development of the trade, but to the use of some of the coarser descriptions of Bombay yarn for making cloth formerly woven from English yarn. Cloth thus made is cheaper and coarser, but at the same time more durable, than that made from English yarn, and the Collector states that many natives who formerly used the finer English fabric are now content with cloth manufactured out of Bombay yarn.

Almost the whole import of Indian piece-goods is drawn from Bombay, a trifling quantity of grey goods being entered as coming from "other ports." This branch of the trade also has developed enormously during the last five years. The imports in 1875-76, the first year for which returns of quantities are available, amounted to 840,392 yards, valued at Rs. 1,53,281, while the imports of the past year were no less than 10,346,909 yards, valued at Rs. 24,82,207. It is difficult to say what proportion of this large import represents a permanent extension of the Bombay trade and successful competition with Manchester-made goods, and what proportion is a merely temporary increase arising from the famine in Western India, which closed some of the local channels of consumption and induced extensive exportation to Calcutta.

35. The decline in the Madras imports, due to the famine in that Presidency, has taken effect mostly in the trade in the castor seed, raw cotton, untanned skins, cocoanut kernel. Although the timber trade with Burmah shows an increase, the imports of raw cotton, cutch, stick lac, and mineral oil, have declined. From the outports of Bengal there was an increase of three lakhs in the total imports, chiefly under the heads of timber, myrabolams, raw hides, raw jute, and stick lac, from the Orissa ports, and raw caoutchouc from Chittagong. Chittagong shows a decrease in tea which is imported into Calcutta for re-export to the United Kingdom, and the extension of direct trade between Madras and the Orissa ports has reduced the imports of rice from the latter.

Exports of the interportal trade.

36. The value of the total exports from Calcutta in the coasting trade is returned as Rs. 11,98,78,925, against Rs. 8,86,51,992 in the previous year. The exports to Indian ports rose from Rs. 8,79,30,865 to Rs. 11,83,01,345; while the exports to Indian ports not British increased from Rs. 7,21,127 to Rs. 15,77,580. The main export was that of rice to Madras, which rose in value from 270 lakhs to 386 lakhs, while the export of rice to Bombay advanced from 54 lakhs to 126 lakhs. At the same time there was a marked increase in the exports to Madras of gram, wheat, and pulse. In consequence of the enormous demand for export purposes the local prices of all kinds of grain rose enormously in all the exporting districts of Bengal, and the non-agricultural classes who did not share in the profits accruing from the sale of grain suffered some inconvenience, which in places amounted almost to positive distress. The increase of eight lakhs in the export to Indian ports not British was due to the shipment of rice and food-grains to Pondicherry and Nanakad to relieve the distress in those parts.

37. The following statement illustrates the interportal trade in cotton twist and piece-goods of Indian and British manufacture during last five years:—

Although the total exports of Indian twist and yarn have fallen off, there was a slight increase in the shipments to British Burmah, which takes nearly the entire export. Foreign twist and yarn, which go chiefly to the Orissa ports and Burmah, show a slight improvement. The export of Indian piece-goods has trebled, though the value is only half a lakh at present. Owing to diminished shipments to British Burmah, the exports of foreign piece-goods has declined. It may be expected, however, that the development of direct trade between the United Kingdom and British Burmah will result in a diminution of the exports to that province from Calcutta.

THE PORT OF CHITTAGONG.

Customs duty.

38. The custom duty levied at the Port of Chittagong during 1877-78 amounted to Rs. 6,56,055, against Rs. 6,81,660 in the previous year. This decrease of Rs. 25,605 occurred entirely in the duty on imports, the revenue realised from exports showing an increase of Rs. 10,217. It is accounted for by the fact that the duty collected on salt fell from Rs. 6,30,782 in 1876-77 to Rs. 5,96,534 in the year under report; this decline being to some extent counterbalanced by a rise in the goods duty on general merchandise from Rs. 50,878 to Rs. 59,521.

39. The following statement shows the value of the foreign trade of Chittagong during the last five years:—

It will be seen that the value of imports in the foreign trade fell off by Rs. 26,138. The decrease occurred in the import of cocoanuts, kernels and oil from Ceylon, of coir, cowries and cocoanuts from the Maldive Islands, and of fireworks, dammer, and paper from the Straits Settlements; on the other hand, the import trade with the United Kingdom shows an increase of Rs. 4,031 which is ascribed by the Commissioner to the high price of salt resulting from a combination among the bonders.

Export trade.

40. The value of the exports from Chittagong during the past year amounted to Rs. 16,63,678, against Rs. 6,07,247 in the preceding year. A large proportion of this remarkable increase is due to the establishment of a direct trade between Chittagong or the United Kingdom in jute brought into Chittagong from Naraingunge by a river route which has only recently been resorted to. The value of these exports is returned as Rs. 7,12,000. It would be premature at the present time to attempt to forecast the prospects of this development of the local trade. The navigation of the river Megna presents serious difficulties even for vessels of light draught. A thorough survey has not yet been made, and since the close of the year several cases of grounding have been reported. But it may be hoped that with further experience these difficulties will be overcome, and that a permanently navigable route will be discovered. The enhanced export of rice to Mauritius and Bourbon is to some extent only apparent, arising from the high price of grain, but the tonnage returns show that the trade which had fallen off in 1876-77 materially revived during the past year. The decline in the exports to Ceylon, which was remarked upon in last year's resolution, was continued, the value of the exports falling from Rs. 4,83,379 to

Rs. 2,76,076. This, however, was caused by the diversion of the grain trade to British Indian ports in consequence of the heavy demand from Madras.

Bullion Trade.

41. The imports and exports of bullion at Chittagong during the last two years were as follow:—

Imports.		Rs.	Exports.		Rs.
1876-77	... ...	5,55,910	1876-77	... ...	7,99,300
1877-78	... ...	10,53,500	1877-78	... ...	1,50,168

No gold was imported during the past year. Silver to the value of Rs. 10,000 was imported from Ceylon in consequence, it is stated, of the difficulty of obtaining silver from the district treasury. The imports of the same metal from British Indian ports rose from Rs. 5,50,000 to Rs. 10,43,500, in consequence of the high prices of produce and the requirements of the export trade in grain. The fall in the exports of bullion is due to the cessation of large financial transactions with Rangoon in consequence of the closing of the Branch Bank of Bengal at Chittagong.

Interportal Trade.

42. Excluding the movements of treasure which have been noticed above, the imports of the interportal trade of Chittagong show a decline from Rs. 13,58,208 to Rs. 13,16,686. The imports of Indian produce, however, increased by Rs. 32,363, which is attributed by the Board of Revenue to shipments of grain from British Burma for local consumption. The imports of foreign merchandise in the interportal trade fell by Rs. 73,885 ; but the value of this trade is still very much higher than in 1873-74 and 1874-75. The total exports rose in value from Rs. 18,40,985 to Rs. 23,44,529. This conspicuous increase was caused by the shipments of grain to the Malabar and Coromandel to meet the famine demand.

THE ORISSA PORTS.

Balasore ports.

43. The foreign trade of the Balasore ports is of slight importance. During the past year there were no imports, and the value of the whole trade declined from Rs. 1,97,558 to Rs. 1,66,235. The customs duty rose from Rs. 18,224 to Rs. 28,138; but the export duty shows a decrease of nearly Rs. 6,000 in consequence of a great portion of the export of rice having been diverted to Madras instead of going to Ceylon, Mauritius, and the Maldives.

44. The following statement illustrates the remarkable growth of the coasting trade of the Balasore ports during the last five years:—

* The figures for trade with other ports in the Presidency are not included.

Excluding treasure, the imports show an increase of nearly 12½ lakhs and the exports of nearly 19½. Cotton twist and piece-goods, copper, betel nuts, and apparel, were imported in large quantities to meet the demand created by the money which had been poured into the country in payment for agricultural produce. At one time towards the close of the past year the stock available in the district had been reduced so low that several cargoes of rice were imported into Chandbally by steamer from Calcutta in order to complete the cargoes of ships which had been chartered at the former port, but which could not obtain enough rice at Chandbally. The enhanced exports were mainly due to extensive shipments of rice to Madras in answer to the famine demand. It is stated that the quantity of rice and paddy exported did not much exceed the exports of the previous year, but the price was considerably higher. Further inquiry has shown that the statement made in last year's resolution, that a large proportion of the rice shipped at Chandbally was the produce of the Cuttack district was scarcely correct. A small quantity of the rice grown in the tract between the Brahminee and Byturnee rivers in Cuttack is sent for shipment to Chandbally, but the bulk of the rice exported from Chandbally comes from the southern part of Balasore and the tributary estates. Rice is also sent from Chandbally by inland creeks to False Point for shipment. The export of hides shows an improvement of three lakhs, and the timber trade of two lakhs. Nearly all of this timber is sâl or sissoo wood from the Tributary Estates, and it is satisfactory to find that the improvement of communications which has gone on of late years in Orissa has rendered it possible to bring the natural produce of these estates into export market.

45. The value of the foreign imports of Cuttack in 1877-78 was Rs. 2,836. They consisted chiefly of liquors and provisions imported from England for private consumption. During the three years previous there were no foreign imports at all. The foreign exports fell from Rs. 5,53,923 to Rs. 4,04,192, in consequence of the demand in the coasting trade which diverted to Madras a large proportion of the rice which, in ordinary years, would be sent to Mauritius, Colombo, and Jeddah.

* These figures do not include the trade with other ports in Bengal.

The increase in imports last year would seem to show that the trade by sea has taken the place of trade by road, while the exports were stimulated by the requirements of the distressed districts of Madras and Bombay.

47. The port of Pooree, which is in fact nothing more than an open roadstead, has no foreign import trade, and the value of the export trade to foreign ports fell during the past year from Rs. 66,642 to Rs. 7,287. The usual export of rice to Ceylon entirely ceased in consequence of activity of the coasting trade, and there was only a small shipment of myrabolams to the United Kingdom. As there were no exports of dutiable products, no customs revenue was realised during the year. In the coasting trade the imports of merchandise fell from Rs. 29,275 to Rs. 25,447, and the imports of treasure from Rs. 72,000 to Pooree.

Rs. 37,184. During the past year the outturn of rice throughout the district was below the average, and prices rose abnormally high. The exports accordingly declined in value from Rs. 6,65,929 to Rs. 5,55,609 ; other causes helped to diminish the exports from Pooree itself. The canal leading to False Point, which is usually closed during the hot season, was open the whole year, and large quantities of grain, which otherwise might have been exported to Madras from Pooree, were shipped at False Point. At the same time a considerable trade was carried on by land between Pooree and the district of Ganjam in Madras through the Government estate of Khoorda. Salt is imported from Ganjam by bullock carts, which return laden with rice.

Indigo fields are being prepared for the next year's crop. Prices are stationary. Fever is still prevalent.
31	Chumparun, „ 23 „	Nil	Days much cooler. No rain having fallen, the dhan may be said to have failed entirely in the tract noted in last week's report, and further enquiry shows that that tract extends from Gobindgunge on the south-west to the Bagmati on the east, and from a line passing through Seegowli, Motihari, Seeraha to the Bagmati on the north to the southern boundary of the district. The prospects of the opium in this tract are very gloomy; if rain does not fall by the end of the month this crop must be a failure. The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

Decreases	.....	.....	12,15,832	1,65,017	.....

To coaching traffic a considerable stimulus has been given owing to the movement of troops and the large pilgrim traffic we have had to meet—

In goods traffic the principal items of increase are—

Coal, down.	Government Ordnance stores.	Hides and Horns.	Salt.
Cotton.		Iron.	Saltpetre.
			Timber.

and the cause may be set down as follows:—

Coal, down ... ... Mds. 1,07,794 Rs. 10,490

The increased despatches chiefly arise at Raneegunge, Searsole, and Barrakur. In the early half of the month under review there was little doing owing to the holidays, but very large quantities were subsequently sent down to replenish stocks for the local mills, &c.

Cotton ... ... Mds. 17,839 Rs. 27,653

The chief despatching stations were Mirzapore and Cawnpore, whence screwed cotton was sent to Howrah for the China and Europe markets.

Government Ordnance stores ... ... Mds. 17,261 Rs. 39,791

Howrah was the principal station from which large quantities of material were sent up to the frontier.

Hides and Horns ... ... Mds. 5,124 Rs. 4,239

This is a small increase.

Iron ... ... Mds. 14,595 Rs. 22,175

Consisted chiefly of despatches of plate-iron from Howrah to Cawnpore intended for the Roorkee workshops.

Salt ... ... Mds. 87,145 Rs. 19,014

The Rajpootana State Railway has been the principal contributor to the increase as shewn above in despatches from the Salt Lakes to Oudh and Rohilkund, where there is a constant demand for the article.

Saltpetre ... ... Mds. 16,845 Rs. 6,902

Saltpetre has been in good demand at Calcutta, and despatches from Patna and Cawnpore have been considerable.

Timber ... ... Mds. 4,209 Rs. 4,135

This was a consignment of teak timber from Howrah to Lucknow for Government.

Decreases.

Coal, up.	Jaggree.		Stone.
Edible grain and pulses.	Minerals.		Sugar.
	Seeds.		Tea.

Coal, upwards ... ... Mds. 71,972 Rs. 10,306

The upwards coal traffic fell off considerably during this period from Seetaramoore and Giridhi, owing to the holidays intervening, and the cessation of supplies to the Oudh and Rohilkund Railway vid Benares and other foreign lines.

Edible grain and pulses ... ... Mds. 11,73,788 Rs. 2,76,395

In 1877 there was an abnormally large traffic in pulses, while wheat had decreased to a large extent as compared with 1876. This was owing to the stocks of wheat being exhausted in 1877, and with a local market only. This year we have carried a less quantity, maunds 5,617, but the length of the lead from Delhi, Etawah, and Cawnpore to Howrah has increased the earnings over 1877 by Rs. 36,804.

In other grains the decreases in tons are—

Barley	Tons.	233	Rs. 1,951
Oats	,,	58	,, 672
Rice	,,	6,059	,, 70,630
Other grains	,,	13,846	,, 1,41,677
Pulses	,,	22,719	,, 98,269

The demand for rice has been exceedingly dull in Calcutta, while there has been no occasion for any large demands for other description of grain in Oudh or the North-West this year as there was last, and this will account or the falling off to a large extent.

Jaggree ... ... Mds. 21,143 Rs. 5,882

The falling off is not important, and may be attributed to fluctuation of markets.

Minerals ... ... Mds. 10,608 Rs. 1,423

This decrease is due to the stoppage of lime works at Burrakur owing to the holidays and unseasonable weather.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 93,935 Rs. 22,873

In the North-West there has been an increase of traffic in seeds generally, and the falling off has been principally owing to the short despatches at Patna. This station alone shews a decrease as compared with 1877 of—and it appears to be owing to dull business in oil-seeds in Calcutta.

Maunds .. . . 1,57,080 Rs. 58,400

The train mileage for the period has been—

	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
1878	193,225	319,580	512,805
1877	178,794	395,225	574,019

1877.	4 2 1	4 9 10	4 7 5

Decreases	.....	.....	... ..

The above statements show a very satisfactory result of the working of the traffic.

Shunting mileage decrease—

Hours 455

This is consequent on the slackness of traffic as compared with last year and the less need for shunting power.

Jubbulpore line traffic—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.

Decreases	2,229	3,555	4,00,974	75,099	78,654

The Jubbulpore line earnings suffered with the main line from the falling off in the grain traffic. There has been a slight increase in piece-goods.

Jubbulpore line train mileage for the period has been—

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the four weeks ending 26th October 1878.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, CALCUTTA
NOVEMBER 15TH 1878.

Report on the Goods Traffic for the four weeks ending 26th October 1878.

From—W. INNES, ESQ., Acting Traffic Superintendent,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company.

THE total weight of goods carried over this railway during the above period was 6,38,501 maunds, which, as compared with the corresponding period of last year, shews a decrease of 1,43,339 maunds in grain, including rice, jute, piece-goods, salt, foreign railway materials, twist and hides, overbalancing increases in tobacco of 4,238, turmeric 2,453, seeds, tea, 5,324, sugar 793, ale, wines, &c. 800 cotton 550.

Decreases.

Grain, including rice ... ... Mds. 1,05,779

The excessive demand for supply to the famine districts last year accounts for the falling off in the traffic of this staple, which, however, compares very favorably with the traffic of the corresponding period in 1875 and 1876.

Jute, drums of ... ... Mds. 64 209

The paralyzing effect on trade generally of the present political aspect may be held to considerably influence the traffic in this staple, added to which the late flood which extensively damaged the growing jute in several districts, causing the stalks to rot, must have diminished the supply to some extent. It is, however, expected that a greater quantity has yet to come to Calcutta than is usual at this season.

Piece-goods... ... ... Mds. 10,632

The late famines either directly or indirectly influencing the whole country and consequent general poverty of the masses is undoubtedly the cause of this falling off.

Salt ... ... Mds. 10,995

This decrease, I apprehend, to be re-actionary on the large increases of the two months previous, the consumption and consequent demand for this staple being comparatively uniform.

Foreign railway materials ... ... Mds. 7,962

As the traffic in this is solely for the Northern Bengal State Railway, the decrease is owing to that line drawing near to completion.

Twist ... ... Mds. 2,943

My remarks under the head of piece-goods apply equally here.

Hides ... ... Mds. 1,270

This is owing to general dullness of trade.

Increases.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 4,238

This is owing to the keen demand from Rangoon for Rungpore stock

Turmeric ... ... Mds. 2,453

There being no demand for export, I apprehend that this increase is owing to merchants purchasing their periodical stock for local consumption.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 5,124

This is owing to the demand for exports of the larger kinds to Europe and America, where the prices are comparatively high, although the prices for the smaller kinds have fallen owing to unfavorable advices received.

Tea ... ... Mds. 5,324

There has been a fall in the London market in the prices for tea, which however, does not appear to affect the traffic, the increase in which is owing to the additional supplies received from the Darjeeling district through the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 793

There being but a comparatively small demand for this staple, the slight increase in the traffic is simply due to ordinary fluctuations, the causes of which can hardly be traced.

I append the statement of increases and decreases.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of October 1878.

General Remarks.

The result predicted in my last report "that a speedy revival of traffic might, with the termination of the rains, be confidently looked forward to," has been forcibly realized this month. The net increase in the weight lifted during the month, as compared with September, is 11,288 maunds of which 4,735 maunds is in food-grain.

Increases.

Food-grain ... ... Mds. 4,735

The drying up of the floods, which for the last three months has enabled boats to top our principal rice-despatching stations, has had an appreciable effect, and should the Calcutta market continue favourable, I anticipate a large traffic in this staple this season.

Ginger ... ... Mds. 970

It will be remembered that we carried literally nothing (3 maunds only) under this head last month. The weight shewn, therefore, represents the total weight lifted for the period under review. The movement resulted from despatches in fulfilment of a shipping order.

Gunny-bags ... ... Mds. 800

The movement in this staple will naturally be influenced by the traffic in food-grain, and a considerable business may be looked forward to during the next few months.

Hides ... ... Mds. 388

Although no actual advance in rates has taken place, the demand for hides for shipment during the month was unusually active, and sales were consequently easily effected.

Salt ... ... Mds. 32

Seeds ... ... Mds. 108

The movement in these staples unimportant.

On and from 10th of the current month the reduced rate for salt (½th of a pie per maund per mile) came into force, but even this rate does not enable us to compete with the boats as is shewn by the results given above.

Tea ... ... Mds. 9,955

The total weight lifted under this head during the month reached 15,903 maunds, which is more by 7,343 maunds than we have yet carried in any one month. As I pointed out in my last report, the decrease in despatches during September was merely a suspension of traffic caused by the road between our Siliguri station and the tea gardens having been breached in several places, and the results now noted confirms this.

Other goods ... ... Mds. 935

This increase is in through miscellaneous consignments, and no special cause can be assigned for it.

Decreases.

Jute ... ... Mds. 2,991

The whole of the falling off is more than accounted for by the short despatches from station "Darwani." There has been a decided decline in the price of the article in the Calcutta market, and this has no doubt operated against despatches.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 700

The stocks sent forward to meet the demands of trade during the poojah holidays proved to be in excess of requirements, and a falling off in despatches during the current month is the result.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 1,885

This decrease is merely the result of a falling off in the loading at Sara, as there is a large quantity of stuff still to be sent forward for the Saidpur workshops.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 193

The demand for this staple in the Calcutta market has been almost entirely for local consumption, and sales have been difficult to effect.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 734

This falling off is principally from Rungpore, and results from the contracts for supplies entered into by the Burmah merchants having been fulfilled.

THE following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Foreign Department, are re-published for general information:—

Camp Lahore, the 21st November 1878.

The following Proclamation is published for general information:—

TO THE

AMIR SHER ALI KHAN OF KABUL,

To HIS SIRDARS AND SUBJECTS, AND TO ALL THE PEOPLE OF AFGHANISTAN.

It is now ten years since the Amir Sher Ali Khan, after a prolonged struggle, had at last succeeded in placing himself upon the Throne of Kabul. At that time his dominions still needed consolidation, and the extent of it was still undefined. In these circumstances, the Amir, who had already been assisted by the British Government with money and with arms, expressed a wish to meet the Viceroy of India. His wish was cordially complied with. He was courteously received, and honorably entertained, by the Viceroy, at Ambala. The countenance and support he had come to seek were then assured to him. He, at the same time, obtained further unconditional assistance in arms and money. These tokens of the good-will of the British Government, which he gratefully acknowledged, materially aided the Amir, after his return to his own country, in there securing his position and extending his authority.

Since then the Amir Sher Ali Khan has received from the British Government, in confirmation of its good-will, large additional gifts of arms. The powerful influence of the British Government has secured for him formal recognition, by the Emperor of Russia, of a fixed boundary between the Kingdom of Kabul and the Khanates of Bokhara and Kokand The Amir's sovereignty over Wakhan and Badakshan was thereby admitted and made sure; a sovereignty which had, till then, been disputed by the Russian Government. His subjects have been allowed to pass freely throughout the Indian Empire, to carry on trade, and to enjoy all the protection afforded by the British Government to its own subjects. In no single instance have they been unjustly or inhospitably treated within British jurisdiction.

For all these gracious acts the Amir Sher Ali Khan has rendered no return. On the contrary, he has requited them with active ill-will and open discourtesy. The authority over Badakshan, acquired for him by the influence of the British Government, was used by him to forbid passage through that province to a British Officer of rank, returning from a Mission to a neighbouring State. He has closed against free passage to British subjects, and their commerce, the roads between India and Afghanistan. He has maltreated British subjects, and permitted British traders to be plundered within his jurisdiction, giving them neither protection nor redress. He has used cruelly, and put to death, subjects of his own on the mere suspicion that they were in communication with the British Government. He has openly and assiduously endeavoured, by words and deeds, to stir up religious hatred against the English, and incite war against the Empire of India. Having previously excluded British Officers from every part of his dominions, and refused to receive a British Mission; having left unanswered friendly communications addressed to him by the Viceroy, and repelled all efforts towards amicable intercourse between the British Government and himself, he has, nevertheless, received formally and entertained publicly at Kabul an Embassy from Russia. This he has done at a time when such an act derived special significance from the character of contemporaneous events in Europe, and the attitude of England and Russia in relation thereto. Furthermore, he has done it, well knowing that the Russian Government stands pledged, by engagements with England, to regard his territories as completely beyond the sphere of Russian influence. Finally, while this Russian Embassy is still at his capital, the Amir has forcibly repulsed, at his outposts, an English Envoy of high rank, of whose coming he had formal and timely announcement by a letter from the Viceroy attesting the importance and urgency of the Envoy's Mission.

Even then the British Government, still anxious to avert the calamities of war, deferred hostile action, and proffered to the Amir a last opportunity of escaping the punishment merited by his acts. Of this opportunity the Amir has refused to avail himself.

It has been the wish of the British Government to find the best security for its Indian Frontier in the friendship of a State whose independence it seeks to confirm, and of a Prince whose throne it has helped to support. Animated by this wish, the British Government has made repeated efforts to establish with the Amir Sher Ali Khan those close and cordial relations which are necessary to the interests of the two neighbouring countries. But its efforts, after being persistently repulsed, have now been met with open indignity and defiance.

The Amir Sher Ali Khan, mistaking for weakness the long forbearance of the British Government, has thus deliberately incurred its just resentment. With the sirdars and people of Afghanistan this Government has still no quarrel, and desires none. They are absolved from all responsibility for the recent acts of the Amir; and, as they have given no offence, so the British Government, wishing to respect their independence, will not willingly injure or interfere with them. Nor will the British Government tolerate interference on the part of any other power in the interal affairs of Afghanistan.

Upon the Amir Sher Ali Khan alone rests the responsibility of having exchanged the friendship for the hostility of the Empress of India.

By order of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India,

A. C. LYALL,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8.—The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1877-78, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1879, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 60,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

RESOLUTION.

READ again—

The Resolution dated the 15th March 1878, appointing the following gentlemen to form a Committee to inquire into and report on the causes of the unhealthiness of the town of Dinagepore and the measures which should be adopted to improve its sanitary condition, viz.—

Dr. R. Harvey, Officiating Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, President.
The Chairman of the Dinagepore Municipality ...
The Vice-Chairman of the Dinagepore Municipality ...
The Executive Engineer of the district ... } Members.
The Civil Surgeon of the district ...
Dr. K. D. Ghose, Civil Surgeon of Rungpore ...

Read—

Report of the Committee received with the President's letter No. 1049DC, dated the 14th October 1878, setting forth the causes of the unhealthiness of Dinagepore, and suggesting the measures that appear to the Committee to be necessary for improving its sanitary condition.

The Committee appointed by Government to inquire into the sanitary condition of Dinagepore have clearly shown by an examination of facts which are not disputed, by a careful analysis of the statistics of sickness and mortality obtained from various sources, and by medical examination of a considerable number of residents of the town, that Dinagepore is, and has been for some years, extremely unhealthy.

2. The Committee have come to the conclusion that, while the unhealthiness of the place is due to some extent to other factors, such as the want of adequate and proper arrangements for conservancy and the disposal of night-soil, and the existence of well-privies and foul tanks, the chief cause of the unhealthiness is defective drainage. On the West side of Dinagepore flows the Poornabhaba river; on the East is a small stream called the Ghogra, which joins the Poornabhaba at the south-west corner of the municipality. During the rains the highest flood level of the Poornabhaba is considerably higher than the level of the Ghogra and of portions of the town. The flood water of the Ghogra is therefore headed up, and, with the back water of the Poornabhaba, floods the civil station, the town, and the low lands adjoining to a very considerable degree, the floods varying in extent and duration with the heaviness of the rainfall and the duration of a high water level in the Poornabhaba. The combined effect of the water of the Ghogra thus held back, which receives a considerable portion of the sewage of Dinagepore, and of the decomposed vegetation deposited by the Poornabhaba, is most injurious to health. These inundations are of annual occurrence, and have long been considered the chief cause of the extreme unhealthiness of the town.

3. A small area in the south-west corner of the town drains directly into the Poornabhaba close to its junction with the Ghogra, but the greater part of the surface water of the town finds its way mediately or immediately into the Ghogra, and its affluent the Kachai, which is a stream only in the rains, and a marsh at all other seasons and is in a very filthy condition.

4. The Committee accordingly propose to clear out the channels of the Ghogra and Kachai, to make an embankment at the present mouth of the Ghogra where it joins the Poornabhaba in order to prevent the floods of the latter river from running up the Ghogra and flooding the town, and to cut a new drainage channel to carry off all the drainage of the town to the Poornabhaba at a point seven miles distant from the town.

5. The estimated cost of the construction of the proposed embankment at the mouth of the Ghogra and of clearing out the Ghogra and the Kachai within the limits of the municipality is Rs. 7,996, and that of cutting the main channel which will lie outside municipal limits is Rs. 41,417. As Dinagepore is practically a collection of villages belonging to the Rajah of Dinagepore, and as the main channel will pass through his property and will drain two noxious marshes, the Committee recommend that their scheme be carried out under the Embankment Act (VI B.C. of 1873), but that the total sum which is payable by the zemindar under section 40 of the Act, on account of the cost of the work, be reduced by the amount which the municipality may be able to contribute.

6. The municipality is prepared to provide Rs. 18,000, of which Rs. 5,000 will be obtained by a public subscription, and Rs. 3,000 taken from current revenue, while Rs. 10,000 will be borrowed from Government, arrangements being made to pay off the loan by a sinking fund. The Road Cess Committee will be asked to contribute Rs. 5,000, as the works will include a good embanked road for a distance of about five miles in the direction of the Road Cess Committee's road to Gangarampore, and it is hoped that the Lieutenant-Governor will make a grant from Provincial Revenues.

7. Owing to the great demand for convict labour in other places at present, the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to give the Commissioners free convict labour for any portion of the work; but in consideration of the public inconvenience and loss due to the ill-health of the public servants, European and Native, in the station, and as an encouragement to local bodies who are willing to undertake local drainage schemes, the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to give a grant of Rs. 10,000, on condition that the works proposed be put in hand at once, and completed before the 1st June 1879 at the latest.

8. The cost of the works will therefore be thus apportioned, viz.—

	Rs.
Public subscriptions	5,000
Contribution by the municipality from current revenue	3,000
From proceeds of loan	10,000
Contribution by the Road Cess Committee ...	5,000
Government grant	10,000
Balance to be recovered from the zemindar ...	16,413
Total ...	49,413

Of the sum of Rs. 16,413 to be recovered from the zemindar, Rs. 10,000 represents the value of land, and the balance of Rs. 6,413 will be his only cash outlay—a sum which will be a very moderate contribution on his part, considering the advantages that will permanently accrue to his property from the completion of the proposed drainage works.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the works being carried out under the provisions of the Embankment Act, and the Commissioner of the Division will be requested to instruct the Collector of Dinagepore to take the necessary steps for the purpose.

10. The Public Works Department of this Government will be requested to provide the services of an Engineer to carry out the works.

11. In submitting their report, the Committee have also called special attention to the insanitary condition of the town. The Commissioner of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division will be requested to invite the special attention of the Municipal Commissioners to the various minor recommendations made by the Committee, and to report fully what action is taken by the municipality on them.

12. The acknowledgments of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the President and members of the Committee for their exhaustive and well-considered report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

D. BARBOUR,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY FOR THE YEAR 1877.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 2nd December 1878.

RESOLUTION.

The Resolution on the Report for the year 1876.

The report of the Calcutta Municipality for 1877 was received by Government on 29th October 1878, or very nearly ten months after the close of the period to which it refers. This great delay has considerably diminished its administrative value, and is specially to be regretted, as the report deals with the first complete working year of the Municipality since the elective system was introduced, and discloses financial difficulties and mismanagement which should have been brought to the notice of Government in an official form as soon as possible.

2. In this report it is claimed for the present system that under it the Commissioners of each ward possess a more intimate knowledge of the people and their wants than the nominated Commissioners did. It is said that under "the elective system there is a bond of sympathy between the electors and the elected which is of great moral and practical value," and that the "easy accessibility of the Ward Commissioners, and the sympathy which naturally subsists between them and the rate-payers, are the most important features in the new system of municipal administration." It is maintained as a fact established by the past working of the Municipality that the elected Commissioner realises that he "is indebted to the electors for his position; he is responsible to them for the discharge of his duties: those who have seated him at one election may unseat him at the next if he violates his representative character, and having taken the trouble to secure his election, he naturally feels an interest in his work."

This no doubt is entirely as it should be, and though the picture which the Municipal Commissioners draw in the report of the relations which, in their opinion, exist between the electors and their representatives is hardly in accordance with the prevailing idea in the public mind of the state of things which actually exists, the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to believe that it was a true one, for it describes a representative body which is almost perfect, indeed perhaps a more perfect representative system than has ever been attained before in any part of the world. The report itself, however, seems to give ground for doubts whether the Commissioners have not described the working of the system in Calcutta as they would wish it to be rather than as it really is. The estimate of the "great moral, practical value of the sympathy" existing between the rate-payers and the elected Commissioners is, it is to be feared, rather theoretical and ideal than real. Sympathy is not a sentiment which can always be gauged by actual results, but in this instance it does seem capable of being tested by figures. Now, it appears from paragraph 13 of the report that three municipal elections took place during the year, and if the interest of the rate-payers in municipal affairs is to be judged by their desire to have a voice in the election of their representatives, it would be difficult to find clearer evidence of the absolute indifference of the people to the privilege of voting than is evinced by the fact that, in spite of an active canvass, out of 615 voters in Ward No. 2, only 213 could be induced to record a vote; out of 123 qualified persons in Ward No. 13, only 44 would come to the poll, while in Ward No. 16 only 10 voters cared to exercise their privilege. This certainly does not indicate any great practical result from the sympathy of the rate-payers for the system of elective representation. In the same manner the sympathy of the elected Commissioners of the different wards for the rate-payers can only be judged by the time and attention which they considered it their duty to devote to the interests of those to whom they were indebted for their positions. The register of attendance gives the material for making an estimate of these. It will be seen from the report that there were in all 104 meetings of the Commissioners, including both general and committee meetings. Out of fifty elected Commissioners, four contented themselves with one attendance out of one hundred and four, twenty-one attended only seven times, and very few indeed attended more than twenty times. On the other hand, four or five Commissioners attended regularly and assiduously, and in fact one-third of the Commissioners did five-sixths of the work. No doubt the attendance of the nominated Commissioners was equally irregular, but the nominated members are chiefly men of business, and they complain, and complain very justly, that they cannot give up their time to attend for hours together at long, inconsequential, and very often acrimonious, and useless discussions and prolonged debates in which the importance of the subject discussed has had slight relation to the time occupied in its discussion. The result has been that practically the whole business of the Municipality has fallen into the hands of five or six men. However capable and zealous these few Commissioners may be, this is a result which was never intended when the Municipal Act was passed, and it is one very much to be deprecated, so long as the liability and responsibility is distributed over a large body of persons, though it is quite conceivable that a small body of five or six well selected men would be very much better able, than the Municipality as at present constituted, to manage the affairs of the town efficiently and well, if the whole responsibility was legally imposed upon them.

3. In dealing with the report for 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor suggested that the business of the Municipality would be greatly facilitated by the formation of separate committees composed of Commissioners having special knowledge of the subjects referred to them, and who would dispose of all unimportant business themselves; this plan, it is said, has not been found to answer, and the special committees have been merged in a general committee called the Town Council, to which questions of all sorts are referred for consideration and disposal.

The present arrangement is undoubtedly better suited for the transaction of business than one under which all questions must come before the general body of Commissioners assembled at a public meeting, and if several committees whose members possessed special knowledge of certain subjects could not conveniently be formed, it is perhaps the best system that could have been adopted. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, is not at all satisfied that finance might not with advantage be in the hands of a Finance Committee, roads under a Road Committee, sanitation under a Health Committee, markets under a Market Committee, and in the same way engineering, water-supply, lighting, watering, under Special Committees, each committee having a representative in the Town Council. An obvious objection to the formation of only one committee is that the burden of managing the Municipality is unequally distributed, and that, as the Commissioners justly observe, great labour is entailed upon the Commissioners who compose the committee.

4. Municipal Finances.—The present state of the municipal finances is such as to call for careful examination and for the application of an immediate remedy. The financial results of 1877 have been very unsatisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor fears that matters have gone from bad to worse in 1878. The errors and mismanagement which have led to this result will be dealt with in noticing the General Fund.

Municipal Loans.—The loan liabilities of the municipality at the close of the past year stood as follows:—

		Rs.
Debenture loans from the public at 6 per cent.	...	54,99,600
Drainage loans from Government at 4½ per cent.	...	24,59,400
Market loans from Government at 4½ per cent.	...	12,22,395
Office loan from Government at 4½ per cent.	...	1,30,000
Water-supply loans from Government:—
First loan at 4 per cent.	... ...	52,00,000
Second loan at 4½ per cent.	... ...	4,11,000
Third loan at 4½ per cent.	... ...	1,45,000
Total	...	1,50,67,395

The question of the consolidation of all the existing loans from Government, except the original water-supply loan of 52 lakhs, into one loan bearing interest at 4½ per cent is under the consideration of the Government of India. It is proposed that the amount of the sinking fund belonging to the loans to be consolidated should be credited in reduction of the consolidated amount due to Government, and that arrangements should be made for the repayment of the balance within a certain number of years by equal half-yearly instalments.

The General Fund.—The budget estimate of receipts of the General Fund for 1877 came to Rs. 17,66,810, and the estimate of charges to Rs. 17,01,795, showing a surplus of Rs. 65,015. So satisfactory an estimate was, however, due entirely to very palpable errors both on the receipt and expenditure side.

On the receipt side credit was wrongly taken for the value of stock and drainage pipes to the amount of Rs. 1,48,174. The cost of these stores when purchased is not returned as expenditure, but carried to a suspense account, and when they are expended their value cannot be treated as revenue. On the expenditure side an arrear contribution of Rs. 60,000, due to Government on account of the Sealdah Hospital, was not provided for, as well as other liabilities exceeding half a lakh of rupees. The Municipality therefore began the year with a wholly incorrect estimate, and all the arrangements for the year were based on misleading data.

If a proper estimate had been framed, it would have shown a deficit of about two lakhs instead of a surplus, and the Commissioners would have seen that the house rate ought to have been raised to 9½ per cent. instead of lowered to 7 per cent. It is, however, due both to the Commissioners and the Chairman to state that in not providing in the budget for outstanding liabilities they only followed the practice of previous years—a practice which has largely helped to lead the Municipality into its present difficulties.

During the course of the year an addition of Rs. 1,23,500 to the receipts and of Rs. 2,37,741 to the expenditure was sanctioned, changing the estimated surplus into a probable deficit of Rs. 49,226.

The actual receipts were Rs. 17,21,734, and the actual expenditure Rs. 16,61,333, showing an apparent surplus of Rs. 60,401. This surplus, however, wholly disappears on examination, as it was due simply to the fact that the Municipality was not in a position during the year to meet all its liabilities and did not do so. Payments of Rs. 2,26,495 on account of interest, Rs. 90,000 on account of the Sealdah Hospital, Rs. 37,612 on account of the sinking fund, and of more than half a lakh on other accounts, were not made when due.

In this way the real deficit of Rs. 3,45,988 on the revenue and expenditure account of the General Fund was converted into a fictitious surplus of Rs. 60,401.

The over-estimate of revenue by Rs. 1,48,174, and the under-estimate of expenditure by more than Rs. 1,10,000 (Rs. 60,000+Rs. 50,000) which helped to produce this result, have already been pointed out. The balance of the deficiency is accounted for by the change made during the year in the night-soil arrangements and by sanctions given for additional expenditure.

The budget estimate of receipts and expenditure for 1877 in connection with the night-soil arrangements appears to have been as follows :—

	Receipts.	Expenditure.
	Rs.	Rs.
For removal of night-soil	7,000	13,700
From tollah depôts	42,000
„ public necessaries	1,300
„ municipal latrines	21,800
Total ...	72,100	13,700

The estimated surplus from this department was therefore Rs. 58,400, but during the year a new system was introduced under which the receipts were Rs. 1,23,724, and the expenditure Rs. 1,54,203, showing a deficit of Rs. 30,479, and making the net actual expenditure exceed the estimate by Rs. 88,879.

Additional expenditure to the amount of Rs. 80,000 was also sanctioned during the year on account of roads, and about Rs. 15,000 more in small sums. The Commissioners seem to have been induced to sanction the additional expenditure on roads by a misapprehension of the nature of their estimates and accounts, as will be shown hereafter. The errors in the estimate, taken with the change in the night-soil arrangements, and the additional expenditure sanctioned by the Commissioners were sufficient to have changed the estimated surplus into a deficit exceeding Rs. 3,80,000, but owing to slight savings and increased receipts under some heads, and to the fact that the Commissioners neglected to pay money due during the year to the amount of Rs. 4,06,389, the year closed with an apparent surplus of Rs. 60,401; the real result of the year being a deficit of very nearly 3½ lakhs of rupees.

The Commissioners make the following remarks on this subject:—

"The deficit of 1877 was chiefly due to deficiency of night-soil revenue, to unauthorized excess expenditure on account of night-soil arrangements and under other heads, as well as partly to the unreported arrears due to the hospital for which the framers of the budget of 1877 could not provide from absence of information, and from their inability to foresee the tide which carried the Chairman into excess expenditure.

"The Commissioners cannot dismiss this part of the report without again recording their protest that the Chairman should have expended such a large sum of money as about 3 lakhs of rupees without sanction, viz. Rs. 1,50,000 on account of night-soil arrangements (vide special committee's report), Rs. 36,000 on account of night-soil depôts still unsanctioned, and Rs. 1,14,000 under other heads as per Chairman's memorandum dated 9th May 1878."

The real facts, however, are that the budget of 1877 was incorrectly framed, taking credit as receipts for what was not revenue, and omitting to provide for outstanding liabilities; that these errors led to the budget showing a surplus of Rs. 65,075, instead of a deficit of about two lakhs; that the Commissioners had such confidence in the correctness of their forecast that they reduced the house rate from 7½ to 7 per cent., when it ought to have been raised to 9½ to cover the real deficit; that new night-soil arrangements were made during the year which led to a net loss of Rs. 88,879; and that the Commissioners sanctioned an additional expenditure of Rs. 80,000 on roads when there were really no funds from which it could be met.

As regards the night-soil arrangements, it appears from the Report that the Chairman undertook the introduction of the new system in the middle of the year without the sanction of the Commissioners, and without even giving them full information as to his proceedings; that he had formed far too sanguine an estimate of the financial result of the measure, confidently anticipating a profit of Rs. 1,00,000 instead of a loss of nearly Rs. 90,000; and that he incurred a very large amount of expenditure without the sanction or knowledge of the Commissioners. However great an improvement the new system might be, and no doubt has been from a sanitary point of view, the Municipality was not in a position at the time of its introduction to run any risk of loss of revenue, or to incur any additional expenditure, and the Chairman ought not to have introduced a change of such magnitude without full consideration and approval by the Commissioners, and he ought not to have incurred any serious additional expenditure without their previous sanction. The Chairman acted with very great irregularity and want of judgment, incurring a very serious responsibility, and it is to this that much of the misunderstanding and confusion in the past year is attributable.

The final result has been a deficit at the close of the year, amounting to Rs. 3,45,988, against which there was a balance of Rs. 3,37,305; a large portion of this balance was represented by stores which could not possibly be used in reduction of the ordinary expenditure of any year, and which in all probability could only be sold at a considerable loss; it also appears that the balance of stores in hand is only certified by the persons in charge of them, and that stock is not taken by an independent authority. The business of the Municipality at the end of the year could in fact only be carried on by neglecting to pay money that was due, and by borrowing from funds which were by law appropriated to specific purposes.

The Municipality has been drifting into its present position for some years. In 1876, according to the Auditors' report, there was an excess of expenditure over receipts, amounting to Rs. 1,49,027, and all the liabilities of the year were not met during the year; the action of the Commissioners and the Chairman in 1877 was such as to place the Municipality in a still worse position. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that 1878 will show a further deterioration, and if arrangements are not made in the budget for 1879 to place the Municipality in a sound position financially, it will be impossible for Government to abstain from direct interference.

One of the first changes which the Commissioners should introduce is the organization of a proper system of accounts under a trained and efficient accountant. It is quite clear that hitherto they have been contented to work entirely in the dark.

Water-rate Fund.—The receipts under this head for 1877 were Rs. 6,18,136 and the expenditure Rs. 3,85,533, giving an apparent surplus of Rs. 2,32,603, but as contributions, to the amount of Rs. 1,74,070, that ought to have been made during the year were not paid, the real surplus was only Rs. 58,533.

The omission to meet the liabilities of this Fund during the year appears to have been due to the fact that the Fund was made to lend from its balance Rs. 1,29,479 to the General Fund, and Rs. 66,550 to the Drainage Loan account. Under section 160 of the Municipal Act the water-rate can be applied only to some purpose connected with the supply of water, and the loan of its balance to other Funds was irregular and improper. The practice of making loans in this way is specially mischievous, as it tends to conceal for a time the financial position of the borrowing Funds which can be carried on only by means of these loans. Apart from the question of these loans, the condition of the Water-rate Fund is satisfactory.

Lighting-rate Fund and Police-rate Fund.—The Lighting-rate Fund and the Police-rate Fund are both in a satisfactory state, but it is not clear what is the exact nature of the Maidan Lighting Fund, the account of which is kept by the Secretary to the Corporation, and which is managed by the Commissioner of Police. The latter officer will be requested to explain the nature of the Fund, and to submit an account in detail of its receipts and expenditure during 1877.

5. Collection of Rates.—The new system of collection of rates introduced in 1876 has worked most unsatisfactorily. The Commissioners state that it costs more than the old system, while the collections have fallen off. It is not creditable to the Municipality that no arrangements should have been made for a periodical examination of the outstanding rate-bills in the hands of the collectors and the arrear department. Laxity in this respect opens a wide door for fraud and embezzlement, of which their servants have no doubt availed themselves.

6. New Night-soil Department.—The scheme for improving the sanitation of the town by undertaking the removal of night-soil from private houses, though possibly in itself an admirable one, was brought into execution without sufficient inquiry or forethought, and has largely added to the difficulties, especially the financial difficulties, of the Municipality. It seems to have originated from a strike of the mehters, caused by an attempt to make them take out licenses under section 242 of the Municipal Act. The nature of the strike doubtless demanded prompt action on the part of the executive, but the Commissioners justly complain that the Chairman did not give them sufficient information as to his proceedings; that he incurred heavy expenditure without sanction; and that his anticipations of the income and expenditure under the new system were wholly illusory. There is no doubt that if the Chairman had submitted his scheme to a Committee of the Commissioners they would have been bound either to have accepted it, or to have adopted some other equally efficient system. In any case he would have been saved from the liability which he has incurred. An attempt is made to throw the blame of the financial deficit of 1877 on the new scheme, but, as already pointed out, only Rs. 88,879 out of the total deficit of 3½ lakhs is due to this cause. It remains to be seen what the financial effect of the new arrangements will be in 1878.

7. Operations of the License Department.—During the year 26,335 licenses were granted. Of these, 152 were issued to joint stock-companies; 1,425 to merchants and bankers; 216 to barristers, attorneys and pleaders; 141 to mukhtars and law agents; 16 to surgeons; 100 to licentiates of medicine, apothecaries, veterinary surgeons, &c.; 22 to owners of markets; 124 to hotel-keepers, manufacturers, &c.; 87 to owners of cargo-boats, and 337 to brokers and dealers in precious stones. The remainder were issued to petty dealers, pawn-brokers, money-changers, &c.

8. Drainage.—Some progress was made with the drainage of the northern part of the town during the year. The total length of new sewers constructed came to 68,847 linear feet or 13·03 miles. The completed drainage measures 99·58 miles, leaving 75·77 miles still to be constructed. The state of the drainage account, however, at the close of the year was not satisfactory, a considerable amount of the expenditure having been met by borrowing from various funds. The budget as originally framed seems to have taken credit for a loan of Rs. 2,00,000, and to have provided for expenditure to the same amount. Estimates for specific works costing in all Rs. 1,23,074 were sanctioned by the Commissioners in April 1877, and similar estimates for Rs. 3,41,488 in the end of November, while a large number of works undertaken during the year seem to have been sanctioned by the Chairman only. The amounts borrowed have doubtless been repaid, but the system of borrowing from funds appropriated to specific works is illegal as well as objectionable on other grounds. As many as 1,240 houses were connected with the sewers during the year. The total number of premises connected with the sewers up to end of the year was 11,590.

9. Road Department.—The original budget grants for the year under this head amounted to Rs. 2,75,000, but on the Engineer protesting that his estimates had been reduced to an amount quite insufficient to keep the roads in proper order, the Finance Committee recommended, and a General Meeting passed, the following resolution: "that it be understood that the Rs. 80,000 is not to be taken as an offset against the budget grant of Rs. 2,75,000."

This item of Rs. 80,000 represented the value of stores in hand, and credit had been improperly taken for it as a receipt in the estimates. By the resolution above quoted, authority was given to the Engineer to spend Rs. 80,000 over and above the grant of Rs. 2,75,000.

The sum of Rs. 80,000 had been wrongly entered as a receipt, and the estimates took credit for the amount; but when further expenditure was required, it seems to have been sanctioned in the belief that it would be covered by this receipt, for which credit had already been taken, and which was in fact purely fictitious. The result of the double error was to make the position of the Municipality worse by Rs. 1,60,000 than the Commissioners supposed it to be. The actual expenditure in the Road Department during the year came to Rs. 3,42,271. New layers of stone were put on six streets measuring 5,96,493 superficial feet. New layers of khoa or broken bricks were put on seven streets measuring 1,99,010 superficial feet, and thorough repairs were done to 60 streets with stone and khoa measuring altogether 6,54,094 superficial feet, and partial repairs were carried out in every ward of the town. The footpaths in 41 streets were repaired.

10. Conservancy—Street watering and the scavengering of the public streets and lanes were fairly carried out during the year. 7,163 wagon loads of refuse were removed from the town to the Salt Water Lakes. The drains, public urinals, and latrines were regularly looked after, and the sewers flushed. The number of persons prosecuted for breach of the conservancy rules was 1,306, and the number convicted was 655.

Tank-filling.—Fifty-four tanks were emptied during the year, and 38 were filled up with street refuse. The work of filling up 10 more tanks was in progress at the close of the year. A very large number of open tanks (i.e. tanks which are not enclosed and private) still remains to be filled up. The quantity of materials available for filling tanks is very limited, and the work will take a long time to complete. But whatever tanks are taken in hand should be filled up as soon as possible, and immediately covered with earth; to partially fill up a tank or to leave the sweepings thrown into it uncovered is likely to do more harm than good.

Bustee Improvement.—A suggestion was made last year that the municipality should set aside a sum of money every year for the purchase of bustees, should clear and improve the sites thus obtained, and sell the lands for the erection of houses on approved plans.

The financial difficulties under which the municipality labours, however, have not permitted the Commissioners to set aside money for this purpose, and it seems highly improbable that they will be able to do so for a considerable time. Most of the proprietors are unable to incur expenditure on improvements, and, as money cannot be borrowed under the Act for this purpose, progress for some years must necessarily be slow. Although no interior conservancy of bustees was undertaken, except in a few cases where the owners could be induced to pay for the work done, many improvements of minor importance were effected in different parts during 1877 by filling up tanks and foul ditches and laying out new roads. Two proprietors of bustees also undertook improvements in accordance with plans approved by the Municipal Engineers; some new roads were projected, and are stated to have been since taken in hand. It is a subject for regret that want of money necessitated the discharge of the bustee sweepers, who are reported by the Health Officer to have been doing so much good work; and that the important work of general improvement should now be hindered by difficulties which could not have arisen if the affairs of the Municipality had been properly managed during the last few years. It seems to be a great pity that the work was taken out of the hands of the Health Officer and placed under the Engineer Department.

11. Reclamation of land.—The management of the square mile of land owned by the Commissioners in the Salt Water Lake, and used for the deposit of rubbish, appears to be satisfactory. The soil is admirably suited for the cultivation of the more valuable crops and of garden produce, and the trees that have been planted are in a flourishing condition. The inhabitants of the six villages situated on this land are increasing in number, and it is worthy of note that they continue to enjoy comparative immunity from sickness.

Water-supply.—The quality of the water supplied to the town, though not quite equal to that of 1876, was still good. The daily average quantity of water supplied to the town was 6,719,266 gallons, or 178,112 gallons more than that of the previous year. Seven hundred and ninety-six premises were connected with the water-supply during the year, of which 788 were for domestic purposes. The number of premises now connected is 10,471.

Lighting of the town.—The total number of gas lamps lighted in the town, at the expense of the Municipality, was 2,794, and the total number of oil lamps was 787. The average illuminating power of the gas during the year was 14·02, the power required by the contract with the Gas Company being only 12. The illuminating power of the gas was somewhat greater in 1877 than in 1876, but is still capable of being increased, and its purity might be greatly improved. It is hoped that the new contract provides for improvements both in purity and in lighting power.

12. Vital statistics and health of the town.—The number of deaths registered in the town during the year was 13,704, against 12,964 in the previous year. This gives a death-rate of 31·9 per thousand of the population—a percentage higher than that of any previous year within the last seven years except 1875, as shown below :—

1871	...	...	...	...	...	23·9
1872	...	...	...	...	...	24·1
1873	...	...	...	...	...	24·1
1874	...	...	...	...	...	26·8
1875	...	...	...	...	...	32·7
1876	...	...	...	...	...	30·1
1877	...	...	...	...	...	31·9

The Commissioners call attention to the fact that the death-rate during 1875, 1876, and 1877 was much higher (about 25 per cent) than during 1871, 1872, and 1873, notwithstanding the large outlay upon sanitary improvements; the comparison is not a fair one, both because previous sanitary improvements influenced the death-rates of 1871, 1872, and 1873 and because deaths have been more accurately registered during the last few years than was formerly the case, and the year 1877 was, it is believed, an exceptionally unhealthy year outside Calcutta as well.

The following tables show the number of deaths and births during 1877 classified according to nationality:—

	Deaths.	Births.
Hindoos	9,200	4,873
Mahomedans	3,614	1,820
Non-Asiatics	314	230
Mixed races	504	482
Other religious creeds	72	52
Total ...	13,704	7,457

Of these, 4,111 were male births and 3,446 were female births. The ratio of births per 1,000 of the population was 17·3.

The deaths from cholera in 1877 were 1,418 as against 1,857 in 1876. Although the number was less than in the preceding year, yet the steady increase of cholera from 1871 is very remarkable, and has never been satisfactorily explained. The Commissioners do not attach the same importance to impure water as a cause of cholera that Dr. Payne does; but it cannot be denied that impure water is a fertile source of diseases of all sorts, and the completion of the arrangements for an adequate supply of pure water for the town, and for the removal of all sources of impure water, would be of incalculable benefit to the community. The deaths from fever in 1877 were 5,151 as against 4,361 in 1876. The native Commissioners who can recollect the reputation which the native part of the town had before the filtered water-supply was introduced ought to have a greater appreciation than they seem to have of its value.

The Lieutenant-Governor has again observed with regret that there has been a want of harmony between the Commissioners and the Health Officer—a want which greatly impedes the work of sanitation, and has given rise to much unpleasant discussion. There is nothing to be gained by entering into the details of the disputes, but the action of the Health Officer in issuing notices on the proprietors of all open tanks was injudicious, and the notices seem to have been issued under some misapprehension of the law.

The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that these misunderstandings are gradually disappearing, and that there is a disposition on the part of the Commissioners to recognize the ability and remarkable earnestness with which Dr. Payne has laboured for the good of the town, even though they may not entirely agree with him in respect to all the details by which he desires to attain that end. Dr. Payne has shown of late a truer appreciation of his position in respect to the Corporation, and the Municipality should now give him their cordial support and co-operation.

13. The hope formerly expressed that useless and irritating discussions would be avoided, and the work of sanitary reform, as well as the general business of the Municipality carried on vigorously and earnestly, has been disappointed; prolonged and unprofitable discussion has been the chief characteristic of municipal administration; important changes have been made and heavy expenditure incurred by the Chairman without the previous sanction of the Commissioners, and both the Commissioners and the Chairman have failed to grasp clearly the financial position of the Municipality or to control its working effectively. As the necessary result, a still heavier burden of taxation must be borne by the Town during the next few years, and the sanitary improvements so greatly needed cannot fail to be delayed or postponed. The Commissioners urge that the introduction of the elective system was accompanied by a limitation of their powers, but the restrictions introduced have taken the form of securing to the Government a means of interfering in case of necessity, rather than of a direct limitation of the powers of the Commissioners, and the results of the past two years certainly seem to show that if the Government has erred at all, it has certainly not been by retaining excessive powers of interference. In view of the facts now revealed in this report, it would certainly not be to the interests of the inhabitants of Calcutta that any existing restrictions should be relaxed. The experiment of what is often called a representative system of municipal administration of the town of Calcutta may, as is frequently asserted, be a very interesting experiment; but after all it must be recollected that it is only an experiment, and having regard to the enormous outlay and heavy liabilities of the town, it is certainly a very dangerous experiment, which requires the most careful watching. The Municipality is responsible for a debt of Rs. 1,50,67,395, and the security under which the loans have been contracted is the power of the rate-payers to meet taxation. While perfectly willing to give the present system a fair trial, it is impossible to allow it to continue till it threatens to destroy the prosperity of the city. The present year commences under a new Chairman. The Commissioners have before them a clear statement of their very unsatisfactory financial position, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that they will now set to work to improve the state of the finances, and to introduce the reforms which are so urgently needed in every branch of the Municipality. If the year 1879 does not show a very much more favourable working of the municipal administration, it will be the imperative duty of the Government to place the control of the affairs of the town in other hands.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet in elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof. Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

ANNUAL REPORT ON IMMIGRATION IN JAMAICA.

The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication in the Calcutta Gazette, for general information, of the following Annual Report on the Immigration Department in Jamaica for 1876-77:—

Copy No. $\frac{1214}{1183}$, dated Immigration Office, 29th December 1877.

From—A. H. ALEXANDER, Esq., Agent-General of Immigration,

To—The Hon'ble the Colonial Secretary, Kingston.

I have the honor to submit, for the information of His Excellency the Governor, the Annual Report of the Immigration Department for the financial year ended 30th September last.

2. No immigrants have been introduced from India during the period now under review, the fund applicable for this purpose having become exhausted as stated in the 20th paragraph of my Report No. $\frac{1508}{1213}$, dated 30th December 1876. In consequence, however, of the pressing application for coolies, and pending the general settlement of the question, His Lordship the Secretary of State for the Colonies consented that two ships should be despatched from India with immigrants during the coming season.

3. The number of coolies applied for this year being two thousand seven hundred and ninety, sufficient for seven or eight ships, the despatch of only two vessels will cause great disappointment, inconvenience, and loss to those who require immigrants. This disappointment is rendered greater from the fact that all classes of the community seem to be now of one opinion as to the urgent need of extensive and extended immigration. As a proof of this, I would mention that a public meeting was recently held in Kingston, at which resolutions were passed by ministers of religion, merchants and others, besides planters, bringing prominently to the notice of the Government the general opinion that colonization and immigration are necessary in the interest of all classes.

4. The repeated visitation of famine in India during the last three years has caused more than usual interest to be taken in regard to immigration matters, and there is a generally expressed hope that the Indian Government will now do more to assist emigration. Towards the relief of the sufferers, upwards of one thousand pounds have been received by subscription, many coolies being contributors. On one estate twelve pounds eight shillings were subscribed by the coolies.

5. There has been a slight increase in the death-rate when compared with last year—

1875-76.	1876-77.

This is no doubt due to the fact that the past year has been unusually unhealthy to all classes of the population. It is, however, a matter for congratulation that the mortality in Jamaica amongst the indentured immigrants, many of whom, it must be remembered, are not yet acclimatized, is so low as to bear comparison with the most favored countries in Europe.

6. The deaths which occurred this year have been almost counterbalanced by one hundred and one births during the same period, equal to a percentage of 2·24. Referring to the children born in Jamaica, Dr. Neish, the Parochial Medical Officer of the Linstead District, in his annual report writes—"On Tulloch Estate there is a large band of free coolies employed. Among the families of these people there are many children of all ages now growing up. These children present a physique and maintain a degree of good health than which no better proof can be furnished of the fitness of the climate of Jamaica for the Hindoo race, and their condition serves also to prove that the generation of colony-born coolies is not at all likely to deteriorate. Indeed, I am of opinion, from observations made amongst these children, that they are physically and mentally superior to their parents. The regular feeding of the children, under the system of rations adopted by the Immigration Departments, I consider in a great measure accountable for this desirable state of things."

7. During the past year, the immigrants who arrived in 1872 by the ships Merchantman, Salisbury, and Humber, completed their term of indentured service, and, with the exception of a few who are making up to their employers time lost by illness, &c., during this period, they have received certificates of exemption from further service under indenture.

8. The immigrants who arrived in 1867 in the ships St. Hilda, Ganges, Salamanca, and Corona have this year completed their ten years of residence in the colony, and become entitled to return passage to India, or the bounty in lieu thereof. Of these coolies, one thousand and thirty-three have elected to settle in Jamaica, one hundred and ninety-one returned to India this year, one hundred and six had previously gone back either as invalids or by paying their own passages, and some are still undecided as to what they will do. The large number, one thousand and thirty-three, who have decided to remain here is a satisfactory proof that the coolies like Jamaica, and I am very sanguine that in the future the proportion of coolies settling as colonists will increase annually. There can be no possible doubt that, as a body, the coolies are prosperous, happy, and contented, and there are individual cases which prove that a steady and industrious man can acquire a handsome competence and even wealth. No one acquainted with the coolies in Jamaica can doubt that their position, morally and socially, is far in advance of that which they held in India, and of this no one is more fully aware than the coolies themselves.

As bearing on this point, the following extract from Dr. Honiball's report for the past year is interesting :—

"The morality of the cooly has been frequently called in question by certain sections of the community of this colony, and fears were freely expressed that the native population would become contaminated and imbued with the "Asiatics" imputed sensuality, and degrading superstitions; but, much as I like the negro, both for his magnificent bodily physique, cheerfulness and general good temper, and his superior adaptation for cane cultivation, I cannot shut my eyes to the fact that the balance of the contemplated danger inclines very decidedly to the other side. I have known the cooly now for six years intimately in all his relations of life; I have watched the coolies, ex-ship Chetah, carefully, and sought assiduously to thoroughly understand and know them, and I cannot refrain from remarking, and, I submit, I do so with a considerable amount of authority and experience, that the Indian immigrant is more exempt from gross immorality, lowering vices, and demoralizing superstitions than the negro; this is a fact both notorious and distinctly demonstrable."

9. The ship Chetah sailed on the 24th June last with three hundred and sixteen return coolies for Calcutta :—

62	women.
17	boys.
23	girls.
2	infants.
316	souls.

This number was made up of the one hundred and six people already alluded to, several invalids released by the Governor from service under indenture on account of permanent infirmity or sickness, and a number who, not having yet completed their ten years residence, availed themselves of the opportunity of returning at their own expense.

10. An amount of four thousand six hundred and eighty-nine pounds twelve shillings was lodged at the treasury here by one hundred and one of these coolies, giving an average to each of forty-six pounds eight shillings and seven pence half-penny, in sums varying from eight hundred and sixty-four pounds downwards. Further sums, amounting to three hundred and sixty-one pounds two shillings, which had been deposited, were returned to five coolies who, shortly before the sailing of the ship, decided to settle in Jamaica, instead of returning to India. In addition to the money deposited, the coolies possess much wealth in their ornaments, some carrying on their person as much as thirty to forty pounds.

11. The arrangements mentioned in paragraph 14 of my last annual report, for the careful examination of the people prior to embarkation, were attended with most satisfactory results, there having been only five deaths on the voyage. Similar precautions were again adopted this year, and from the reports received from Mauritius, where the Chetah called, the voyage had so far been very satisfactory.

12. During the past year it was found that a reduction to the amount of three pence per diem in the rate payable by employers for the care and maintenance of sick immigrants in the Union hospitals could be effected without any diminished efficiency in the management of the institutions. The hospitals throughout the island are now in a very satisfactory condition, they are carefully and economically managed, and provide everything necessary for the successful treatment of the sick. I am glad to state how much the department is indebted to Dr. Mosse, C.B., and the medical officers of these hospitals, and how much of the success which has resulted is due to the effective aid which most of them have cheerfully rendered, notwithstanding their varied and uncertain duties in their extensive districts.

13. The indentured service of the immigrants located in the district of St. James having expired during the year, the Sub-Agent has been transferred to the district of St. Thomas to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Hider. The Union Hospital at Silver Grove, in the same district, has also for the same reason been closed.

14. The returns from the officer in charge of the Depôt Spanish Town show that, during the past year, one thousand and fifty-one cases were treated in that institution. Of this number, eight hundred and fifty-seven were discharged cured, thirty-seven discharged relieved, twenty-one died, eighty-eight returned to India in the Chetah, two were transferred to the Lunatic Asylum, eleven to the Leper's Home, leaving thirty-five under treatment on the 30th September last.

15. In June last the Parochial Hospital at Port Maria was amalgamated with the Cooly Union Hospital at that place. I am glad that this experiment has proved satisfactory, and there can be no doubt that a large saving of money must result from the amalgamation of similar institutions wherever practicable. To Dr. Pringle of Port Maria is due the credit of having successfully aided in carrying out the new system.

16. The amount of crime during the year has been very small, the only serious case being one in which a wife was killed by her husband in a fit of jealousy. The man was tried, and is now undergoing a sentence of penal servitude for life. Considering the peculiar customs of the Indians regarding any offence against conjugal fidelity, this solitary case, amongst so large a number, proves that the coolies in Jamaica soon adapt themselves to the laws and customs of the colony.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORTS ON CINCHONA CULTIVATION AND ON THE QUINOLOGIST'S REPORT.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—AGRICULTURE.

Calcutta, the 10th December 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter from the Superintendent of the Royal Botanical Garden, Calcutta, and of the Government Cinchona Cultivation in Bengal, No. 84C, dated 18th October 1878, submitting the annual report of the Government Cinchona Plantation in British Sikkim for the year 1877-78.

Letter from the Government Quinologist, No. 48, dated 17th October 1878, submitting his annual report for the year 1877-78.

The Cinchona Plantation consists of two parts—the older portion at Rungbee, Rishap and Mungpoo, in the valley of the Rungjo; and the newer on the Sittong spur and in the adjoining valley of the Ryang. The working of the plantation during the year 1877-78 was, on the whole, very satisfactory. The Sittong Plantation was increased by 152¼ acres, and the older plantation by 97¾ acres. The total area of the former is now 242 acres, and of the latter nearly 2,000 acres. The Sittong Plantation is still too young to yield a crop, but the crop from the older portion was 344,225lb of dry bark.

2. During the year under review 706,600 red bark trees (Cinchona succirubra) were planted out, namely, 26,800 in Rungbee and Rishap, to replace [illegible] uprooted in taking the bark crop, and 679,800 on new land—265,800 [illegible] trees of a hybrid [illegible] an excellent bark and promises to be very valuable. [illegible] to increase the cultivation of the yellow bark tree (C. calisaya), which produces the most valuable of all the medicinal barks; but owing to the difficulty of propagating the best varieties by seed progress has been slow. The result of the year's operations with these plants has been only to increase the stock in the nurseries by 2,000 plants. The question of selecting other localities, where the climatic conditions are more favourable for the propagation of this plant than in Sikkim, has been separately submitted by Dr. King, and is under the consideration of Government.

3. The crop of the year consisted of 341,060lb of red bark, and 3,165lb of grey bark, or 344,225lb in all of dry bark, against 207,781lb in 1876-77 and 211,391lb in 1875-76. The bark yielded in former years, i.e., from 1869-70 to 1876-77, amounted in the aggregate to 529,017lb, so that there has been taken from these plantations since their commencement no less than 873,242lb of dry bark.

4. The red bark crop was taken by the three methods of harvesting usually followed, namely, uprooting, coppicing, and thinning:—

	lb.
Uprooting	176,625
Coppicing	67,161
Thinning	97,274
Total ...	341,060

Ninety-two and a half acres of trees planted at distances of six feet by six were uprooted and 176,625lb of bark thus obtained, being at the rate of 1,909lb per acre. The land on which these trees were grown was not well suited for cinchona cultivation, and the outturn given above does not include bark obtained in past years by thinning and pruning. The experience gained on the plantation is sufficient to show that complete coppicing, viz. cutting close to the ground all but a few trees, is a perfectly safe way in Sikkim of taking the bark crop. Trees from four to six years of age coppice better than older trees, but the method of partial coppicing results in failure with trees of every age.

5. The total expenditure on the plantation amounted to Rs. 68,110-10-9, of which Rs. 13,716 was on account of establishment for the two divisions, Rs. 46,508-4 on account of working expenses of the old plantation, and Rs. 7,886-6-9 on account of capital charges for the Sittong division, which has not yet come into bearing. Putting aside the last-mentioned sum and the proportion of establishment for the Sittong division (Rs. 2,325-11-3), the working expenses of the old plantation came to Rs. 57,898-8-9.

6. The febrifuge, to the production of which the bark is now devoted, is manufactured in the factory at Mungpoo, which was considerably extended during the year, and to which a permanent dry-house was added at a cost of Rs. 2,014-8. The total quantity of bark taken during the year was made over to the Quinologist and 239,680lb were used in the manufacture of febrifuge. The total quantity of febrifuge produced was 5,162lb, the cost being Rs. 61,327-7, or at the rate of Rs. 11-14-1 per pound. The quantity in store on the 1st April 1877 was 3,720lb 2 oz., so that the total quantity at the disposal of the Superintendent during the year was 8,882lb 2 oz., which was thus distributed:—

	lb.	oz.
To Medical Store Department, Calcutta ...	3,011	5
To Medical Store Department, Bombay... ...	100	0
Sold to public	2,038	9
Samples given away	28	0
	5,177	14
In store on 31st March 1878 ...	3,704	4
	8,882	2

7. To simplify the accounts, the entire crop of the year was made over to the Quinologist, to whose account also was debited the entire working expenses of the plantation. As stated in paragraph 5 above, the expenditure on the plantation during the year, excluding the Sittong division, was Rs. 57,898-8-9, and the Quinologist's expenditure was Rs. 27,641-5-8, making a total of Rs. 85,539-14-5. The revenue derived from the sale of febrifuge to the public was Rs. 35,193-14, and the amount debited against the Medical Departments of Bengal and Bombay for febrifuge and bark supplied was Rs. 61,876-13, making a total sum of Rs. 97,070-1. The excess of receipts over expenditure was therefore Rs. 11,530-2-7. This being the first year in which the febrifuge entered into general use in the Government dispensaries, or was available to the public, the financial result is satisfactory. The saving to Government by the substitution of the febrifuge for quinine in the Government hospitals and dispensaries is calculated to exceed three lakhs of rupees a year. The consumption is increasing, and the question of providing greater facilities for the sale of the febrifuge throughout the province is now under the consideration of Government. The public generally have not yet realized that a febrifuge practically as efficient as quinine can be procured in almost any quantity at one rupee the ounce, while quinine is selling at 20 rupees the ounce. Pending the final orders of Government on the question, the Superintendent should place himself in communication with the officers in charge of the districts in which fever has lately been very prevalent, such as Dinagepore, Rungpore, Jessore, Hooghly, and Burdwan, with a view to supplies of the febrifuge being made available to the people within easy reach of their homes.

8. In the resolution on the report for the year 1876-77, it was stated that a committee had been appointed to ascertain whether the febrifuge could be improved by eliminating any of its constituents. The committee has not yet concluded its investigations, but increased experience in the use of the drug during the year under review has produced such confidence in its efficacy as a remedy for fever as to warrant its substitution for a large portion of the quinine hitherto supplied to Government institutions.

9. The maps of the plantation prepared by the Survey Department have proved of great use in facilitating its systematic working, and arrangements will now, if possible, be made for mapping the portion planted since 1875.

10. The acknowledgments of Government are due to Dr. King and Mr. Wood for their services during the year, and the Lieutenant-Governor has noticed with satisfaction the commendation bestowed on Mr. Gammie, the resident manager of the plantations and factory, and on his assistants by Dr. King.

Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, and of the Reports referred to, be submitted to the Government of India, in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce, and that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded for the information of Dr. King and Mr. Wood.

Ordered, further, that a copy of the Resolution, and of the Reports, be forwarded to the Judicial (Medical) Department of this office, and also to the Government of Madras for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

D. BARBOUR,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8.—The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1877-78, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1879, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 60,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

Letter from His Highness the Amír of Kabul to His Excellency the Viceroy, dated 6th October 1878.

Letter from His Excellency the Viceroy to His Highness the Amír of Kabul, dated 29th October 1878.

Report by His Excellency Sir N. Chamberlain, G.C.B., G.C.S.I., late Envoy Extraordinary to Kabul, dated 12th October 1878, with appendices.

RESOLUTION.—In September last, His Excellency Lieutenant-General Sir Neville Chamberlain accepted the charge of an urgent and important Mission which the Viceroy of India desired to send to the Amír of Kabul.

2. Sir Neville Chamberlain reached Pesháwar on the 12th September, and placed himself in direct preliminary correspondence with the Amír's officers stationed upon the frontier, to whom it was necessary to give notice of his movements, and from whom their instructions in regard to his passage beyond the British Frontier had to be elicited. The general tenor of this correspondence, with the principal events and circumstances attending the departure of the Mission from Pesháwar, and its withdrawal in consequence of the armed resistance offered at Ali Masjid by the Amír's officers, are described in Sir Neville Chamberlain's subjoined Report of his proceedings. This Report, with appendices containing subsidiary reports by Lieutenant-Colonel Jenkins and Major Cavagnari, is now published for general information.

3. The communications which passed, early in September, between the Amír's Minister at Kabul and the British officers at Pesháwar, had indicated clearly the Amír's desire to withhold, or to adjourn indefinitely, any decisive expression of his intentions regarding the free passage of the Mission through the Khyber Pass and its safe conduct to Kabul. This free passage and safe conduct His Highness the Amír had been specially asked to give by the Viceroy's letter of the 14th August, which is appended to the present Resolution.

4. Under these circumstances, as the departure of the Mission could not be indefinitely delayed, the Commissioner at Pesháwar had been authorized to intimate by a letter to the Amír's Minister, that the object of the Mission which was about to leave Pesháwar for Kabul was friendly, but that a denial of free passage would bring matters to an issue between the two States. And the Amír's officers upon the road to Kabul had received notice of what had been written to the Minister.

5. Upon receipt, therefore, by the Government of India of intelligence that Major Cavagnari's demand for passage at Ali Masjid had elicited a determined refusal, leaving no doubt that the Amír's officials were acting under orders to stop the Mission by force, Sir Neville Chamberlain was immediately recalled by His Excellency the Governor-General in Council from Jamrúd to Pesháwar, and the Mission was dissolved. The general instructions from the Government of India, under which Sir Neville Chamberlain assumed charge of the Mission, required him to return if his passage should at any point be resisted by an armed or hostile demonstration on the part of persons responsible to the Kabul Government: and His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council entirely approves of the course taken by Sir Neville Chamberlain in adhering to these orders under circumstances which required much judgment and self-control.

6. The Viceroy of India, in selecting, as his Envoy to Kabul, Sir Neville Chamberlain—an officer of high rank and distinction, who is personally known to the Amír Sher Ali Khan—desired not only to indicate the special importance of the Mission, but also to signify his wish to treat with marked courtesy the Chief of the Afghán people. But the Amír's refusal to permit the British Envoy to pass his first outpost placed at once beyond doubt his intentions towards the Mission, and has released the British Government from all responsibility for this final failure of their endeavours to preserve friendly relations, and to establish a good understanding, with the present Ruler of Kabul.

7. His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council fully recognizes the ability and moderation shown by Sir Neville Chamberlain under circumstances involving peculiar difficulty and great responsibility. Sir Neville Chamberlain's selection for a Mission of special political importance has been completely justified; and he has added another to the many services which he has rendered to the Government of India.

8. His Excellency in Council also desires to place on record his appreciation of the tact and courage displayed at Ali Masjid by Lieutenant-Colonel Jenkins and Major Cavagnari in a critical and somewhat hazardous position.

9. The Amír's subsequent replies, dated 6th October 1878, to the letters from the Viceroy of India of the 14th and the 23rd August, and the final letter of the Viceroy of India to the Amír, dated 29th October, which has remained unanswered—are also herewith published for general information.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the papers cited in the preamble of the Resolution be accordingly published.

By order, &c.,

A. C. LYALL,

Secretary to the Government of India.

Dated Simla, 14th August 1878.

From—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India,

To—HIS HIGHNESS AMIR SHER ALI KHAN, Wali of Kabul and its Dependencies.

THE authentic intelligence which I have lately received of the course of recent events at Kabul and in the countries bordering on Afghánistán, has rendered it necessary that I should communicate fully and without reserve with Your Highness upon matters of importance which concern the interests of India and of Afghánistán. For this reason, I have considered it expedient to depute a special and confidential British Envoy of high rank, who is known to Your Highness, His Excellency General Sir Neville Bowles Chamberlain, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Knight Grand Commander of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India, Commander-in-Chief of the Madras Army, to visit Your Highness immediately at Kabul, in order that he may converse personally with Your Highness regarding these urgent affairs. It appears certain that they can be best arranged for the welfare and tranquillity of both States, and for the preservation of friendship between the two Governments, by a full and frank statement of the present position. This letter is therefore sent in advance to Your Highness, by the hand of Nawáb Ghulám Hassan Khan, C.S.I., a faithful and honoured Sardár of my Government, who will explain all necessary details as to the time and manner of the Envoy's visit. It is asked that Your Highness may be pleased to issue commands to your Sardárs and to all other authorities in Afghánistán upon the route between Pesháwar and Kabul, that they shall make, without any delay, whatever arrangements are necessary and proper for effectively securing to my Envoy, the representative of a friendly Power, due safe conduct and suitable accommodation according to his dignity, while passing with his retinue through the dominions of Your Highness.

I beg to express the high consideration I entertain for Your Highness.

Letter to His Highness the Amír of Kabul, dated Simla, 23rd August 1878.

AFTER the despatch from Simla of my letter dated 14th August 1878, which Nawáb Ghulám Hassan Khan will deliver with this letter to Your Highness, I received from Pesháwar the melancholy news, that Your Highness has suffered a great affliction in the untimely death of Sardár Abdulla Ján, the Heir-Apparent to Kabul and its dependencies. I desire to express to Your Highness personally the sincere regret which this intelligence has caused to me; but life and death are in the hands of God, and resignation to His will is unavoidable. In consequence of this calamity, I have directed my Envoy to postpone for a short time his departure, in order that Your Highness may not be troubled by any public business, however important and urgent, until the usual period of mourning shall have elapsed.

Letter from Major W. G. WATERFIELD, Commissioner of Pesháwar, to the Mustaufi, dated 7th September 1878, referred to in para. 4 of the Resolution.

AFTER COMPLIMENTS.—I write this friendly letter to inform you that the 16th or 17th September has been fixed for the departure of a Mission of high rank from the British Government to Kabul, and that the Mission will start whether Náwab Ghulám Hassan shall, or shall not, by that time have had the honour of waiting on His Highness the Amír. The object for which the Mission is deputed is friendly, and the refusal of free passage to it, or interruption or injury to its friendly progress, will be regarded as an act of hostility. I am to explain that the Mission will not in any case enter the capital of Kabul before the expiry of the month of Ramzan. In conclusion, may you keep well!

Translation of letter from AMÍR SHER ALI KHAN, of Kabul, to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, dated 8th Shawal (6th October).

AFTER the usual complimentary beginning.—Be it known to Your Excellency (Janáb) that Your Excellency's friendly letter, which was sent by the hands of the highly-honoured Nawáb Ghulám Hassan Khan, and which contained the news of the deputation of a friendly Mission, namely, a Mission from the British Government, has been perused by me; and on perusal I have fully informed myself of its contents. But the above-named Nawáb had not yet been honoured with an interview, and Your Excellency's friendly letter had not yet been seen by me, when a letter addressed by Major Waterfield, Commissioner of Pesháwar, to Mirza Habíbulla Khan, an official of this God-granted Government, having arrived here, was perused by this supplicant before the throne of God. And great surprise and astonishment was caused by the writing of the officer above mentioned—that is, the Commissioner. What can be the result, meaning, and advantage of such a blustering* communication to an ally and friend, and of advancing by force a friendly Mission in this manner?

* Literally 'full of noise.'

Subsequently three more letters from the same officer, in the same tone and style, to the address of the officials of this God-granted Government, were seen. Moreover, in the course of a few days, several other letters, which were received from that direction, were seen. These were not free from harsh and rough words and expressions, which are inconsistent with the forms of courtesy and civility, and contrary to the mode of friendship and sympathy.

In consequence of the attack of grief and affliction which has befallen me by the decree of God, great distraction has seized the mind of this supplicant at God's threshold. The trusted officers of the British Government, therefore, ought to have observed patience, and to have stayed, at such a time; and this would have been the most commendable and appropriate course. Your Excellency should be pleased to have regard to this harsh (style of) address and provocation, as well as to the altercation with such anger with my officials. How inconsistent is this with the sublime way of friendship and alliance? In any case the officials of this God-granted Government, notwithstanding the threatening communications of the officials of the British Government, which communications are still in the possession of the officers of this Government, will not evince any hostility or opposition to the British Government. Moreover, they do not entertain any hostile or antagonistic feelings toward any Government whatever. But should any Government entertain without cause any hostile and inimical feelings toward this God-granted Government, I commit all my affairs to the merciful God, upon whose will and intention all matters depend. He alone suffices for us, and He is the best to be trusted.†

† Literally "the best Wakeel."

The highly-honoured Nawáb Ghulám Hassan Khan, who is the bearer of this friendly letter, has, in accordance with the instructions received from the officers of the British Government, asked leave to return, and the requisite permission has been granted.

Translation of letter from AMIR SHER ALI KHAN, to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, dated 8th Shawal (6th October).

A. C.—Be it known to Your Excellency, that Your Excellency's most friendly letter, expressing deep sorrow and regret at the death of my beloved son, Sardár Abdulla Ján, the Heir-Apparent to the God-granted Government of Afghánistán, which Your Excellency sent by the hands of Nawáb Ghulám Hassan, has been perused by me. The sorrow and regret which Your Excellency, in conformity with the forms of friendship and amity, has expressed regarding this mournful event, which has taken place by decree of God, is indeed according to the rules of friendship and concord, and to the behaviour of friends to friends in affliction. But as no one can resist or escape the Divine decree, it is fitting and appropriate under all circumstances to submit and resign one's self to the will of God. What more of friendliness can be written?

From—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India,

To—HIS HIGHNESS AMIR SHER ALI KHAN, of Kabul.

A. C.—I have received and read the letters which Your Highness has sent to me by the hands of my Sardár Ghulám Hassan Khan.

2. It will be in the recollection of Your Highness that, immediately on my arrival in India, I proposed to send you a friendly Mission for the purpose of assuring you of the good-will of the British Government, and of removing those past misunderstandings to which Your Highness has frequently alluded.

3. After leaving this proposal long unanswered, Your Highness rejected it, on the ground that you could not answer for the safety of any European Envoy in your country, and that the reception of a British Mission might afford Russia a pretext for forcing Your Highness to receive a Russian Mission.

4. Although such a refusal to receive a friendly Mission was contrary to the practice of allied States, yet the British Government, unwilling to embarrass Your Highness, accepted your excuses.

5. Nevertheless Your Highness has now received a Russian Envoy at your capital at a time when a war was believed to be imminent in which England and Russia would have been arrayed on opposite sides; thereby not only acting in contradiction to the reasons asserted by Your Highness for not receiving a British Mission, but giving to your conduct the appearance of being actuated by motives inimical to the British Government.

6. In these circumstances, the British Government, remembering its former friendship with the father of Your Highness, and still desiring to maintain with you amicable relations, determined to send, after such delay as the domestic affliction you had suffered rendered fit, a Mission to Your Highness under the charge of Sir Neville Chamberlain, a trusted and distinguished Officer of the Government, who is personally known to you. The escort attached to his Mission, not exceeding two hundred men, was much less numerous than that which accompanied Your Highness into British territory, and was not more than was necessary for the dignity of my Envoy. Such Missions are customary between friendly neighbouring States, and are never refused except when hostility is intended. I despatched by a trusted messenger a letter informing Your Highness that the Mission accredited to Your Highness was of a friendly character, that its business was urgent, and that it must proceed without delay.

7. Nevertheless, Your Highness, having received my letter, did not hesitate to instruct your authorities on the frontier to repel the Mission by force. For this act of enmity and indignity to the Empress of India in the person of Her Envoy, the letter from Your Highness affords no explanation or apology, nor does it contain any answer to my proposal for a full and frank understanding between our two Governments.

8. In consequence of this hostile action on the part of Your Highness, I have assembled Her Majesty's forces on your frontier. But I desire to give Your Highness a last opportunity of averting the calamities of war. For this, it is necessary that a full and suitable apology be offered by Your Highness in writing, and tendered on British territory by an officer of sufficient rank.

9. Furthermore, as it has been found impossible to maintain satisfactory relations between the two States unless the British Government is adequately represented in Afghánistán, it will be necessary that Your Highness should consent to receive a permanent British Mission within your territory. It is further essential that Your Highness should undertake that no injury shall be done by you to the tribes who acted as guides to my Mission, and that reparation shall be made for any damage they have suffered from you; and if any injury be done by Your Highness to them, the British Government will at once take steps to protect them. Unless these conditions are accepted fully and plainly by Your Highness, and your acceptance received by me not later than the 20th November, I shall be compelled to consider your intentions as hostile, and to treat you as a declared enemy of the British Government.

I beg to express the high consideration I entertain for Your Highness.

Dated Simla, 12th October 1878.

From—His Excellency Sir Neville Chamberlain, G.C.B., G.C.S.I., late Envoy Extraordinary to Kabul,

To—A. C. Lyall, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department.

My several confidential telegrams and letters which I despatched from Pesháwar, placed His Excellency the Viceroy in early possession of all that was taking place; but it now remains for me to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a more formal and connected report of the proceedings of the Mission. I regret that indisposition since my return to Simla has prevented my discharging this duty at an earlier date.

2. On the 7th September you communicated to me the instructions of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council, and on the following morning I left Simla.

3. I reached Pesháwar on the evening of the 12th, and at once placed myself in communication with Major Waterfield, the Commissioner, and also with Major Cavagnari, who was then specially charged with the conduct of our intercourse with Kabul and with the Afrídí tribes.

4. The position of affairs at that time was as follows:—The Mission was directed to leave Pesháwar on the 16th, or as soon after as possible, so as to reach Kabul about the end of the month, by which time the full period of mourning and of the Fast (Ramzán) would have ended. This was also the time named by the Minister as the period when His Highness the Amír of Kabul would be able to attend to State affairs. Major Cavagnari, in obedience to instructions previously communicated to him by His Excellency the Viceroy, was then in course of arranging with the independent Khaibari tribes for the safe conduct of the Mission through the Pass as far as Ali Masjid, at which place it would come into contact with, and under the protection of, the officers of His Highness the Amír of Kabul. This was, in fact, to follow the course adopted in the case of the Nawáb Ghulám Hassan Khan, who had been previously sent to Kabul, to convey to the Amír a letter of condolence from His Excellency the Viceroy on the loss of the Heir-Apparent, and also a letter to announce the coming of the Mission.

5. Arrangements with the independent tribes always take time; but all seemed to be going on satisfactorily, when, on the morning of the 14th, intimation was brought to Major Cavagnari that Faiz Muhammad Khan, the Commandant of the Amír's troops stationed at Ali Masjid, had sent in to Pesháwar to summon back to the Pass all the Khaibari Maliks, or headmen, who were then in course of negotiating with Major Cavagnari. The Maliks applied to Major Cavagnari to know what course they should adopt, as they felt that, if they disobeyed, they would risk the loss of the allowance they were then in receipt of from the Amír.

6. This action on the part of the Amír's officials was most discourteous, if not hostile; for the occupation of Ali Masjid by the Amír's troops had been of no long duration, whilst indeed it could at no time have been carried out had the measure been objected to by the Government of India. It was, however, impossible that such occupation could, under any circumstances, be accepted by the British Government as being allowed to interfere with, or to become a bar to, our right to hold independent relations with these tribes, or to interfere in any manner with our previously existing relations with them.

7. The Afrídí mountains border the Pesháwar Valley for many miles. The trade of the tribes is also exclusively with that valley and with our subjects. We have, therefore, continual intercourse and dealings with each other; and, in the main, we live together in friendly relations.

8. Whilst it was quite beyond reason to accept the position now assumed by Faiz Muhammad Khan, still, so great was the desire not to give the Amír any plausible ground of complaint, that the course was adopted of addressing to Faiz Muhammad a courteous and friendly letter,* explaining to him the object of the Mission, and our motive for arranging with the Pass men for its safe conduct as far as Ali Masjid.

* Copy annexed.

9. The purport of this letter was explained by Major Cavagnari to the Maliks, who fully understood and approved of its conciliatory nature, and expressed themselves as willing to abide by the result. They were further told that up to that time it was considered that their previous arrangements with the Amír were held to be in force; that nothing had occurred to put an end to them; but that if the Amír, because of their relations with us, stopped their allowance, it would then be continued to them by the British Government.

10. I, at this period, wrote to His Excellency the Viceroy that I was not sanguine of receiving a satisfactory answer, for I felt that a man in a subordinate position like that held by Faiz Muhammad, would never dare assume the responsibility of acting as he had done without orders, and that, therefore, he had most probably only carried out the instructions he had received from Kabul. However, the object of the Mission was to promote peace, and to bring about, if it was possible, a return to friendly and close relations with the Amír, so that I still urged that all reasonable delay should be overlooked, so as to give Faiz Muhammad time to refer for orders to his nearest superior—the Mír Akhor—should he consider it desirable to do so—rather than to seem to assume the position of forcing on matters to a decisive issue sooner than was absolutely indispensable.

11. So far from Faiz Muhammad Khan feeling any embarrassment in replying to my letter, he did so at once, and I received his answer† late on the afternoon of the 16th. There could be no room for misunderstanding his meaning. He was a soldier in command of an out-post; had no orders to allow the Mission to pass, and would stop it by force of arms if need be. The position thus assumed was, in fact, to imply that the relations then existing between the Amír and the British Government were tantamount to a state of war; and thus all doubt was removed as to the nature of the orders given to Faiz Muhammad, or the source from which they emanated. Just one ray of hope might, however, be extracted from his last paragraph. The Mír Akhor was, he said, just about to arrive at Ali Masjid from Dhakka: he might be the bearer of fresh instructions from Kabul; and he recommended me to delay the advance of the Mission.

12. My first impulse was to await the arrival of the Mír Akhor at Ali Masjid, and then to address him direct; but as time passed on, I felt that if the Mír Akhor's visit to Ali Masjid was of a friendly character, it would have been his first duty to make this known to me, whilst to repeat to him the assurances already made to Faiz Muhammad Khan, would be to risk placing my Government in the position of seeming to plead for privileges which belonged to it as of right.

13. News of the Mír Akhor's arrival duly reached me; and it was reported that his object, instead of being of a friendly character, was to see that Faiz Muhammad did not flinch from the execution of his orders.

14. It was now clear to me that all hopes of a peaceful advance of the Mission—except possibly upon conditions to be dictated by the Amír—were at an end; and that it only remained to carry out the orders of my Government in bringing to a decided issue whether the Amír's troops would, or would not, offer hostile opposition to the advance of the Mission.

15. If there had been any room for previous doubt as to the intentions and acts of the Amír's officials stationed at Ali Masjid, the mask had now been completely thrown aside; for it was well authenticated that both Faiz Muhammad Khan and the Mír Akhor were not only doing everything in their power to prevent the Afrídís located nearest to us from giving us a passage, but were endeavouring to induce those sections of the tribe located beyond Ali Masjid, and who were therefore more under their immediate control, to intervene between us and their clansmen, in order to thwart our negotiations with them, and to make them, under any circumstances, close the Pass to the advance of the Mission.

16. If our negotiations, which had for their object merely to enable us to have a right of way as far as Ali Masjid, were to be continued with any chance of success—or if, indeed, our right to contract engagements at all with the independent Pass tribes was to be upheld—there was now nothing left for it but for us also to throw off the reserve which, out of consideration for the Amír, had already hampered us so much in coming to terms with the Afrídís. Accordingly, with the sanction of His Excellency the Viceroy, the Afrídí Maliks were told (on the 19th) that we were ready to deal with them independently of all other considerations; that we repeated the promise of indemnifying them for any loss they might sustain from the Amír withdrawing his allowance; and that we were, in fact, prepared, if necessary, to take over the whole Pass arrangements into our own hands for the future, and to pay them the Pass-money out of the British Treasury.

17. The day following (the 20th), the Maliks announced the assent of their tribesmen to escort the Mission to Ali Masjid, or to any nearer point until we should come into contact with the Amír's officials; and that they would also, if necessary, give it safe conduct back to Jamrúd. They asked for the delay of one day to enable them to make their arrangements for the security of the Pass.

18. Whilst the events above narrated were taking place, letters arrived from the Nawáb. These announced his arrival at Kabul, and subsequent interviews with the Amír, and with His Highness's Ministers. At these interviews the Nawáb was told of the bad humour of the Amír, because of the grievances of which His Highness considered himself to be the victim at the hands of the Government of India, though the Amír admitted that we also might have complaints against him. The Nawáb was also told that the Russian Mission had come with the sanction of the Amír, and that it would be honourably sent away after the Eed, and that, as to the English Mission, it should not be pressed upon him inopportunely; but that His Highness claimed the right to have time to consider the matter as to its reception, and that if, after reflection, its reception should prove agreeable to him, he would then fix the time for its arrival, and make suitable arrangements to receive it honourably. The Nawáb was made to repeat these communications in his letters; and was further made to express the Minister's hope that the answers to his letters would, God willing, bring about a reconciliation between the two Governments; but that, if the British Mission started on the 18th, or without the previous sanction of the Amír, matters would assume a different aspect.

19. With reference to the above, I feel called upon to say that the Nawáb was merely the bearer of the Viceroy's two letters to the Amír, and was charged to announce verbally and formally to His Highness the despatch and advent of the Mission. The Nawáb had no authority otherwise to represent the British Government. He was invested with no diplomatic powers; and it was altogether beyond his province to enter into communications with the Kabul Government on State affairs. His letters, as a matter of fact, merely echoed the views or wishes—or more strictly speaking, the mere words—of the Amír; and it was manifestly no part of my duty to send answers to such communications.

20. Whatever may have been the nature of the relations entered into between the Amír and the Russian Mission—or whether His Highness's mind was made up, or not, as to any definite course of future policy—it is, I consider, beyond question that his object was to procrastinate, and to defer as long as possible being forced into giving any definite answer to the Viceroy's letters; and further, to prevent, if possible, the passage of the Mission through the few miles of the Khaibar which separate Jamrúd from Ali Masjid. His Highness hoped thereby to prevent the officers of the two Governments from coming into personal contact; and his mind was made up that, if they did so before he accorded his assent for the onward passage of the Mission, it should be stopped, and stopped, if need be, by force of arms and by bloodshed. The acts of His Highness's officers at Ali Masjid, His Highness's own words to the Nawáb, and the words of his Minister to the same person all bore testimony to this intention. It was tantamount to saying that if the British Government would renounce all right to independence of action, and leave it to the Amír to decide whether the Mission should be received or not, and if to be received, to leave it to him to decide the precise time, that then, at his pleasure, he would give an answer, when, if it was favourable to us, he would depute a suitable person to receive the Mission, and treat it honourably.

21. Most assuredly no Asiatic Prince has ever thus treated the British Government unless prepared to go to war: and equally certain is it that the Amír would never have thus dealt by the Russians, unless ready to trust to the same arbitrament. In fact, we have it in his own words to the Nawáb, that he invited the Russian Mission—and be it remembered it came at its own appointed time—not deeming it advisable to break with the Czar.

22. On the 21st, the Mission moved to Jamrúd and encamped there for the day. Major Cavagnari was deputed to ride on to Ali Masjid with a small escort, to demand from the Amír's officials permission for the advance of the Mission. A report of his interview with Faiz Muhammad Khan is annexed.* It announced the fixed intention of the Amír's authorities to oppose the passage of the Mission; and it is evident that, but for the tact displayed by Major Cavagnari at one period of the interview, even the lives of the British Officers and of their small escort were endangered.

23. This result having been reported by telegraph to the Viceroy, I, early on the morning of the 22nd, received His Excellency's orders to return with the Mission to Pesháwar. Before doing so, I addressed a letter* to Faiz Muhammad Khan at Ali Masjid, informing him of the withdrawal of the Mission, and that his act would be viewed as being that of the Amír. I also sent a letter* to the Nawáb, directing him to immediately take leave of the Amír, and to return forthwith to Pesháwar.

* Copy annexed.

24. As I was about to mount my horse to leave camp, I saw the friendly Afrídí Maliks. I told them they had honourably discharged their engagement with us, and that their service was considered the same as if they had escorted our last baggage-animal safe under the walls of Ali Masjid. They appeared pleased at this recognition of their services; but, as my remarks drew from some of them the question as to what they should do if the Amír visited them with his displeasure because of their engagement with us, I replied without hesitation that we should take them under our protection, and would defend them to the last. This promise subsequently received the full approval and confirmation of His Excellency the Viceroy.

25. The Mission had failed—it had been turned back at the threshold of the Amír's dominions with an affront delivered before all the world. It failed, because of the Amír's indifference to any indignity imposed by him on the British Government; whilst he himself would not tolerate anything which could be strained to bear the appearance of even a slight to his kingly privileges.

26. It seems to me that a reasonable way of judging of our position is to suppose the conditions inverted. Let it be supposed that the Amír had considered that his interests and his honour called for the immediate despatch of an Envoy to the Government of India to discuss pressing differences in a friendly manner; that he had deputed a confidential Agent of rank to the Viceroy to announce the approaching departure and early arrival of a Mission; that the Government of India, thereupon, had sent no direct answer to the Amír, but had endeavoured to bar the passage of the Mission through neighbouring friendly tribes; and that, on its succeeding in reaching our most distant outpost, it had been met and turned back by the threat of a resort to force if it ventured to continue on its onward. There can, I think, be no room for two opinions, unless the relations between neighbouring States are to relapse into the worst form of barbarism, and to be controlled only by brute instincts and by brute force.

27. It may be said with certainty that a Mission despatched under such conditions would have met with no success had it been allowed to advance, and that it was better to fail at starting through a direct insult, than to reach Kabul to arrive at no result.

28. Before concluding this report, I desire to correct a misapprehension which has prevailed as to the strength of the military escort attached to the Mission. It consisted of 150 cavalry and 50 infantry, or a total of 200 men; and, considering the description of country to be traversed, and the habits of the tribes to be passed through, this number was not in excess of requirements.

29. My Mission was not of the nature of a surprise, and to be conducted secretly and expeditiously: it had therefore, according to custom, to be accompanied by a proportionate amount of camp-equipage, baggage, and transport animals; whilst in addition to our own requirements was added the charge of valuable gifts to be presented to the Amír. I had, in fact, to go in the most open and formal manner, to represent the dignity of my Sovereign and the claims of my country; and to do this suitably, a certain amount of outward state was customary and necessary.

30. No exception is ever taken by this Government to the amount of escort which accompanies any foreign Prince visiting India; and whenever the Amír of Kabul, or one of the Princes of that house, has come to India, he has invariably been accompanied by an escort far in excess of that which I was to take; although, be it added, any individual of any nationality may traverse the length and breadth of India, unarmed, with perfect security and without let or hindrance.

31. Finally, I would observe that so great was my desire to prevent, if possible, any false rumours of armed preparations preceding me to Kabul, that I even requested the Brigadier-General commanding the Peshávar garrison to suspend the movement of troops ordinarily carried out at that period for the preservation of the men's health, consequent upon the setting-in of the sickly season.

No. 1.

Dated Peshávar, 15th September 1878.

From—His Excellency SIR NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN, G.C.B., G.C.S.I.,

To—FAIZ MUHAMMAD KHAN, Commandant of His Highness the Amír's Troops at Ali Masjid.

A. C.—I WRITE to inform you that, by command of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, a friendly Mission of British officers, with a suitable escort, is about to proceed to Kabul through the Khaibar Pass, and intimation of the despatch of this Mission has been duly communicated to His Highness the Amír by the hand of the Nawáb Ghulám Hassan Khan.

I hear that an official from Kabul has recently visited you at Ali Masjid, and he has doubtless instructed you in accordance with His Highness the Amír's commands. As, however, information has now been received that you have summoned from Peshávar the Khaibari headmen with whom we were making arrangements for the safe conduct of the British Mission through the Khaibar Pass, I therefore write to enquire from you whether, in accordance with the instructions you have received, you are prepared to guarantee the safety of the British Mission to Dhakka, or not; and I request that a clear reply to this enquiry may be speedily communicated by the hand of the bearer of this letter, as I cannot delay my departure from Peshávar. It is well known that the Khaibar tribes are in receipt of allowances from the Kabul Government, and also, like other independent tribes on this frontier, have relations with the British Government. It may be well to let you know that, when the present negotiations were opened with the Khaibar tribes, it was solely with the object of arranging with them for the safe conduct of the British Mission through the Khaibar Pass, in the same manner as was done in regard to the despatch of our Agent, the Nawáb Ghulám Hassan Khan; and the tribes were given clearly to understand that these negotiations were in no way intended to prejudice their relations with His Highness the Amír, as it was well known that the object of the British Mission was of a friendly character to His Highness the Amír and the people of Afghánistán.

I trust that, in accordance with the instructions you have received from His Highness the Amír, your reply to this letter will be satisfactory, and that it will contain the required assurances that the Mission will be safely conducted to Dhakka. I shall expect to receive your reply to this letter not later than the 18th instant, so please understand that the matter is most urgent. But at the same time, it is my duty to inform you, in a frank and friendly manner, that if your answer is not what I trust it will be, or if you delay to send an early reply, I shall have no alternative but to make whatever arrangements may seem to me best for carrying out the instructions I have received from my own Government.

Translation of a letter from FAIZ MUHAMMAD KHAN, to His Excellency SIR NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN (letter not dated).

A. C.—YOUR friendly letter which you sent me by the hands of Arbáb Fateh Muhammad Khan has reached me to-day, the 17th Ramzán (16th September). I was gratified by the perusal thereof, and feel obliged.

Kind (Sir), you mention therein that you have been ordered to proceed on a friendly Mission to Kabul, and that you are negotiating with the Afrídís for an escort to Dhakka. But the Afrídís are a faithless (literally, "fearless") and covetous race. No confidence can be reposed in their engagements. Their headmen and chiefs are all with us, and in receipt of allowances from His Highness the Amír. The letter which my kind friend Major Waterfield, Commissioner of Pesháwar, wrote on the subject of the advance of a friendly Mission to Kabul, I have forwarded by the hands of my servant to the Mír Akhor, our superior and chief at Jelálábád; but as yet we have received no orders from Kabul or Jelálábád which we might communicate to you, whether to let the British Mission to proceed or to stop it. When we hear that the Amír has no objection (to your going), we shall do you good service, and escort you to Dhakka, whether there be any Afrídís or not; for the friendship between you and the late Amír Sáhib is clearer than the sun. When we receive orders from the Capital (Kabul) to invite you, we shall be bound to serve you well. But as yet we have received no orders to let you go. We are servants to carry out the orders of (our master). Should you come without His Highness's permission or orders, it will lead to a collision between us and the Afrídís on one side and you on the other; all hopes of friendship will be lost.

While I was writing this letter, a man arrived from Dhakka with news that the Mír Akhor would shortly be here with two sowárs. As he is a great man, he may have brought some orders which he, by way of friendship, will communicate to you. He will also learn your views ("jawáb-o-sowál"). What I have stated above is all that I have to communicate. Further, you are at liberty to do what you like. Whether you stop at Pesháwar until the Mír Akhor arrives, and has a friendly communication with you, or you proceed at once by force; you can do what you choose.

No. 3.

Dated 22nd September 1878.

From—MAJOR N. CAVAGNARI, C. S. I., on Special Duty, Kabul Mission,

To—HIS EXCELLENCY GENERAL SIR NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN, G. C. B., G. C. S. I., Envoy Extraordinary, Kabul Mission.

IN obedience to Your Excellency's instructions, I left Peshâwar early yesterday morning, with the view to proceeding to the fort of Ali Masjid in the Khaibar Pass, in order to ascertain from the Amír's officials in charge of this post, whether they would permit the British Mission to pass through the Khaibar, and be responsible for its safety and proper treatment during its journey to Kabul or not.

2. On arrival at Jamrúd, where the camp of the Mission was pitched, I communicated with Colonel Jenkins, Commanding the escort, and it was arranged that he and Captain W. Battye, with a small escort of cavalry, should accompany me on my mission.

3. Negotiations had been concluded on the previous day with the Khaibar headmen present at Peshâwar to escort the British Mission from Jamrúd to Ali Masjid, or to any other point within the Khaibar at which the Amír's officials might be stationed, and back to the British frontier, if it was necessary to return. I therefore sent off the Khaibarís, who had preceded me to the camp at Jamrúd, to make arrangements through the Pass; and I deputed messengers to Ali Masjid to inform the Mír Akhor and Faiz Muhammad Khan, the Commandant of the fort, that I, with two other British Officers, were leaving Jamrúd for Ali Masjid, in order to have a personal interview with them.

4. After waiting a sufficient time at Jamrúd to enable the Khaibarís and my messengers to get well ahead, I left camp and entered the Pass. On reaching Mackeson's bridge, I was met by one of my messengers, who was returning from Ali Masjid, and who informed me that Faiz Muhammad Khan had desired him to return and request the officers to halt at whatever place the messenger should meet them, and that he would come to interview them. As this was palpably an attempt to gain time—a line of conduct the Amír's officials are specially proficient in—and as it was my object to get as near Ali Masjid as possible, so that there should be no question as to the responsibility of the Amír's officials for any obstruction I might meet with, I directed the messenger to return and inform the Khan that I intended to proceed onward until I met him.

5. When we reached the heights above Lala China, which are about a mile from Ali Masjid and within sight of the fort, some of the Khaibar headmen met us, and informed me that the ridges in front of us, which completely commanded the remainder of the road to Ali Masjid, were held by the Amír's levies (Khasadar), who would not let our party pass. We also observed large numbers of men descending from Ali Masjid to strengthen these positions, indicating beyond doubt that there was every intention to oppose us if we attempted to proceed. As these pickets were within the limits of that portion of the Pass the Khaibarís who accompanied me were responsible for, I sent a party of them to parley with the levies; but the latter threatened to fire if any one approached. I therefore sent another messenger to Faiz Muhammad Khan, inviting him to come and meet me, or to arrange for my safe passage to Ali Masjid, as his men held command of the road and refused to allow my party to advance. As some time passed and no definite answer was received, I sent one of the Kalil Khans* who had accompanied me, to ascertain the position of affairs; but shortly afterwards I received a report that the Khan had been stopped and was not permitted to advance.

* Afrídi Khan of Mulazai.

6. I then prepared to write a letter to the address of the Mír Akhor and Faiz Muhammad Khan, informing them that I had been stopped by the advanced pickets of the Ali Masjid post under their command, but that I intended to proceed until fired upon, and that, if this occurred, the responsibility would be theirs, and that the act would be held to indicate that as* the Amír of Kabul's representatives absolutely declined to allow the British Mission to advance. I intended to let a reasonable interval pass, and then, if no satisfactory reply was received, Colonel Jenkins and I, with a few men, were to advance towards Ali Masjid until fired upon, when we would have retired under cover of the remainder of the escort which was to be left with Captain Battye on the heights where we had halted.

* Sic in original.

7. Before this letter was ready for despatch, a message was brought me from Faiz Muhammad Khan to the effect that he was about to come to a ruined tower in the bed of the stream just below where we were halted, and that, on his arrival there, he would send for myself and three others and would hear anything we had to communicate.

8. As it appeared to me that it would have been an indignity to have remained and waited until Faiz Muhammad Khan should send for me, as well as to be dictated to as to the number of men that should accompany me (it would have been different had I been permitted to proceed with my escort to the fort of Ali Masjid, when, of course, I would only have entered the post with as many men as the officers in command chose to admit), I determined to advance at once with as many men as I thought fit to take, and endeavour to meet Faiz Muhammad Khan before he should reach the spot named by him.

9. Accordingly, Colonel Jenkins, myself, and one or two of the Guide Cavalry, with some of the Khaibar headmen and the Native gentlemen marginally noted, descended without delay into the bed of the stream, and advanced to meet Faiz Muhammad Khan. A party of Afrídís, headed by Abdulla Núr, a Kuki Khel Afrídi Malik in receipt of special allowances from the Amír, attempted to stop me, saying that only four persons should advance. I rode past him, telling him that my mission concerned the Kabul officials, and that I desired to have no discussion with the Afrídís. The Malik made no further opposition—in fact, he knew that most of his tribe were with me, and he himself was only acting a part to save his allowances.

Nawáb Bahádur Sher Khan.
Arbáb Sarfaraz Khan.
Arbáb Fateh Muhammad Khan.
Afrídi Khan.
Munshi Pakhtiár Khan.
Abbás Khan, and several others.

10. After meeting Faiz Muhammad Khan and exchanging salutations, I pointed to what I considered a suitable place for an interview—it was a water-mill with some trees close by it, and on the opposite side of the stream to the spot originally named for the place of meeting. Faiz Muhammad Khan was accompanied by the Naib, or Deputy, of the Mír Akhor, a considerable number of the Ali Masjid levies, and some of the Afrídí headmen of the upper villages of the Khaibar, and their respective followers.

11. When we had seated ourselves, I commenced the interview by pointing out to Faiz Muhammad Khan that he and myself were servants of our respective Governments, and had met to carry out whatever orders we had received; so that, whatever the result of our meeting might be, there need be nothing personal between him and myself. After the Khan had fully reciprocated this friendly sentiment, I proceeded to state that he was well aware that the British Government had decided on sending a friendly Mission of European British officers, accompanied by a suitable escort, to His Highness the Amír of Kabul; that the Mission was encamped at Jamrúd, and intended to proceed through the Khaibar on the following day; that, in consequence of various reports received, I had been deputed by my Government to ascertain from the Amír's officials at Ali Masjid whether they had received instructions, or were prepared to guarantee the safe passage and proper treatment of the Mission during its journey to Kabul, or not; and I hoped that, if there was any latitude for independent action in the orders he had received from Kabul, he would do all he could towards an amicable adjustment of affairs between the two Governments. Faiz Muhammad Khan replied that he had every desire to act in a friendly manner, and that, actuated by such motives, he had allowed Nawáb Ghulám Hassan Khan to proceed without any detention, but that his action in this respect had met with disapproval from the Kabul Durbár; that if he had not been friendly disposed, he would not have consented to the present interview, or have restrained his levies from firing on my party; that he had received no orders from the Amír to let the Mission pass his post; and that, without such orders, he could not let it proceed; but that, if the Mission would only wait for a few days, he would communicate with Kabul and ask for orders. I replied that my orders were distinct, and that I was instructed to say that the Mission would advance on the next day, unless I received a reply from the Amír's officials that its advance would be opposed; and I begged the Khan not to take upon himself such a heavy responsibility as to say he would oppose the advance of the British Mission, unless his orders were clear and distinct in the matter; for whatever his reply was, it would be considered as that of the Amír of Kabul. Faiz Muhammad Khan replied that he was only a sentry, and had no regular troops, but only a few levies; but that such as his orders were, he would carry out to the best of his ability, and that, unless he received orders from Kabul, he could not let the Mission pass his post. I rejoined, to this, that it did not signify what the actual strength of his post was, as the Mission was a friendly one and bent on peaceful objects, and I again urged him not to take such a grave responsibility if he had any option in the matter. He replied that it was a very heavy matter for him to decide upon; as, on the one hand, he could not act without orders from Kabul, while, on the other hand, he was told that his reply would be considered as that of the Amír of Kabul. He then began with much warmth to question the friendly intention of the British Government by stating that it was not a sign of friendship for the British authorities to negotiate direct with the Khaibar tribes, who were subjects of the Amír of Kabul, and in receipt of allowances from that ruler, and induce them to escort Nawáb Ghulám Hassan, and also some British officers (meaning my party) without the Amír's permission. I replied that there was no cause for dissatisfaction in what had been done in the matter. It was never anticipated that a friendly Mission would have met with any opposition, as such Missions are never opposed in any civilized country; and that the arrangements made with the Afrídís were merely to induce them to undertake the safe conduct ("badraqqa") of a peaceably-disposed Mission, which every independent Pathán tribe has a right to undertake in its own country. Faiz Muhammad Khan continued with increasing warmth to allude to the subject, and there was an uneasy sort of murmuring commencing amongst the people around, which appeared to me (and, as I afterwards ascertained, the same idea occurred to Colonel Jenkins and to some of the Native gentlemen with me) to indicate that, if the discussion was any longer prolonged, the movement alluded to might assume a more decided form, which might possibly be one which our small party could not deal with in a suitable manner. I therefore interrupted the Khan by saying that the subject was one which it did not behove subordinates to discuss, and that if the Amír considered what had been done as a grievance, I had no doubt that the British Government would give him a suitable answer. I then asked the Khan for the last time if I correctly understood him to say that, if the British Mission advanced as intended on the following day, he would oppose it by force; and he replied that such would be the case. I then got up and shook Faiz Muhammad Khan by the hand, and assured him that I had no unfriendly feelings against him personally, and that I hoped to meet him again on some future occasion. I then turned to the Native gentlemen who were with me, and asked them if they did not consider a clear and decisive answer had been given; and they replied that it was so.

12. In fact, there was scarcely any necessity for an interview to settle this point, as the hostile preparations made by the Ali Masjid garrison on seeing my party approach, notwithstanding that my object in coming, and the small strength of my escort, had been communicated to, and received by, the Commandant of the fort, and the Amír's representative, the Mír Akhor, would ordinarily have been quite sufficient to indicate pre-determined affront and insult; and I believe that, with any other of the Amír's officials but Faiz Muhammad Khan, who, from first to last, has behaved in a most courteous manner, and very favourably impressed both Colonel Jenkins and myself, a collision of some kind would have taken place. The general belief is that Faiz Muhammad Khan was acting under the direct orders of the Mír Akhor, who had been purposely deputed by the Amír to supervise Faiz Muhammad Khan's management of Khaibar affairs, and to see that, without orders to the contrary, he checked the advance of the British Mission. I have no doubt that Faiz Muhammad Khan softened down a great deal of the insult that was intended, though, short of actual collision, it is impossible to imagine what more could be done to effect the Amír's object.

13. The Khaibarís, as far as their conduct was tested, acted faithfully to their engagements, and but for their assistance, we should not have been able to bring matters to a definite issue with the Amír's officials without a great deal of trouble, expense, and delay.

14. The interview with Faiz Muhammad Khan being concluded, we returned to Jamrúd, and I returned to Pesháwar and personally reported to Your Excellency all that had taken place.

15. In conclusion, I would desire to bring to Your Excellency's favourable notice the ready and courteous assistance I received from Colonel Jenkins.

The Khaibar arrangements were managed by Arbáb Fateh Muhammad Khan, and I purpose bringing his services to notice in due course.

Dated Camp Pesháwar, 22nd September 1878.

From—LIEUTENANT-COLONEL F. H. JENKINS, Commandant, Corps of Guides (Q. O.),

To—CAPTAIN ST. V. HAMMICK, Military Secretary to SIR NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN.

I HAVE the honour to make the following report for the information of His Excellency General Sir Neville Chamberlain, G. C. B.

2. According to his orders, I marched from Pesháwar early on the 21st September, with the camp of the Kabul Mission, and reached Jamrúd soon after 7 o'clock.

3. About 8 o'clock Major Cavagnari arrived in camp, and told me that he was going up to Ali Masjid to get an answer from the Officer Commanding regarding the passage of the Mission through Ali Masjid, and its safe conduct to Kabul.

4. After a short delay, to allow the headmen of the Kuki Khel Afrídís to send some of their people ahead of us up the Khaibar Pass, to tell Faiz Muhammad Khan that Major Cavagnari was coming to talk to him, and that he had only a small escort with him, Major Cavagnari and I started from Jamrúd, having with us Captain Wigram Battye and twenty-four men of the Cavalry of the Corps of Guides.

5. We marched by the gun-road made by Colonel Mackeson in 1840; which we found in very good order, and, before noon, reached a hill, from which we could plainly see Ali Masjid, about three-quarters of a mile distant from the fort.

6. When the people in Ali Masjid saw our uniform on the hill they immediately made preparations to resist us. Some manned the walls of the fort, and some occupied a ridge, along the foot of which the road between us and Ali Masjid ran. At the same time, one or two signal shots were fired.

7. If we had advanced, then I am sure that we should have been at once engaged with 300 or 400 men under circumstances of great disadvantage, for we should have been fighting on the lower ground, with the enemy strongly posted on our front and right flank. Besides this, I am persuaded that the Amír's officers would have excused themselves from all blame for what might have happened, by saying that we had rashly come into collision with their troops without giving time for explanation.

8. Under these circumstances, Major Cavagnari, wisely I think, decided to remain on the hill, where we were, for a short time; but it was agreed that if Faiz Muhammad could not be induced to come and meet us, Major Cavagnari and I, with a couple of men, were to go towards the fort and get an answer to the question he had come to ask.

9. After waiting on the hill for about two hours, during which more than one message was sent to Faiz Muhammad Khan, Afrídi Khan, Arbáb of Malazai, came back to say that the Sardár was coming to meet us in the valley below, where we were standing. Shortly after this, we saw Faiz Muhammad coming with fifty or sixty followers, and Major Cavagnari and I, with two men of the Guides, went down and met him. Major Cavagnari had also with him Fateh Muhammad Khan, Arbáb Afrídi Khan, and a few of the Kuki Khel Afrídís who had come with us up the Pass; also Bahádur Sher Khan, the Bangash Chief.

10. After shaking hands with the Sardár, we crossed the stream, and sat down under a tree close to the village of Lala China. Directly we sat down, several more of the Sardár's followers turned up, and we had 150 or 200 of them close round us while we sat and talked.

11. Major Cavagnari began by saying that the British Government was sending a peaceful Mission to the Amír Sher Ali Khan, of which due notice had been given to the Amír, that the camp of the Mission was at Jamrúd, and that he came to ask for a passage through Ali Masjid, and a safe conduct to Kabul.

12. The Sardár replied that he had already written more than once to say that the Mission could not pass Ali Masjid without the Amír's sanction, which had not been received, and that we must wait, and that he would again refer to the Amír for orders on the subject.

13. Major Cavagnari said that the Sardár's letters had been received, but that the British Government would not believe that a peaceful Mission going to the Amír on business of importance would be refused a passage, and had, therefore, sent one of its own officers to ascertain how matters stood. Major Cavagnari added that, as the Amír knew that the Mission was on its way to him, if it was stopped at Ali Masjid the British Government would consider that the Amír had himself stopped it.

14. The Sardár owned that this was true.

15. Major Cavagnari then asked whether, under these circumstances, the Sardár would oppose the passage of the Mission; and the Sardár said that he would most certainly do so. In fact, the Sardár never flinched from first to last, but gave us distinctly to understand that he would oppose the passage of the Mission by force, and that it was waste of time to argue with him.

16. Major Cavagnari then said to the Sardár—"You are a servant of the Amír, and you take upon yourself to stop a Mission going to him from the British Government with which he has long been on friendly terms. How do you know that the Amír himself will not be very angry with you for doing this?"

17. The Sardár replied—"What friendship is there in what you are doing now? If the Amír had given me orders, I would have gone down to Jamrùd to meet you, and bring you up the Pass; but now you have come here on your own account, and bribed the Amír's servants to give you a passage. You are setting Afrídís against Afrídís, and will cause strife and bloodshed in this country, and you call yourself friends!"

18. The Afrídís who were standing round us applauded this speech; and it would not have been prudent to have continued to converse in this tone. Therefore Major Cavagnari said to the Sardár—"We are both servants—you of the Amír of Kabul, I of the British Government. It is no use for us to discuss these matters. I only came to get a straight answer from you. Will you oppose the passage of the Mission by force?"

19. The Sardár said—"Yes, I will; and you may take it as kindness, and because I remember friendship, that I do not fire upon you for what you have done already." After this we shook hands and mounted our horses; and the Sardár said again—"You have had a straight answer."

20. We returned to Jamrúd by the road we came, and reached camp about 5 o'clock in the evening.

21. I was very much struck with the behaviour of the Kuki Khel Afrídís who went with us up the Pass. Their conduct was excellent throughout the day.

22. I enclose a slight sketch of the ground about Ali Masjid to explain this report.

No. 5.

Dated Camp Jamrúd, 22nd September 1878.

From—HIS EXCELLENCY SIR NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN, G.C.B., G.C.S.I.,

To—FAIZ MUHAMMAD KHAN, Commanding H. H. the AMIR'S Troops at Ali Masjid.

A. C.—YOU are aware that the camp of the British Mission arrived at Jamrúd yesterday, with the object of proceeding to-day through the Khyber Pass on a friendly Mission to His Highness the Amír of Kabul. Major Cavagnari and two other British officers were deputed yesterday afternoon, under my orders, to hold an interview with you, in order to obtain from you, as His Highness's Commandant at Ali Masjid, the necessary assurances of safe conduct to enable the Mission to proceed on its journey.

The said officers were prevented from approaching the fort of Ali Masjid, as your pickets were posted commanding the road, and refused to allow them (the officers) to advance. After these British officers had sought and obtained an interview with you at a place (Lala China) some short distance this side of Ali Masjid, and after you had been warned by them that your reply would be regarded as that of His Highness the Amír of Kabul, you declared that you had received no instructions to permit the British Mission to pass your post, and stated that you would certainly oppose it by force if it advanced. I am therefore commanded by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India to inform you that your reply is considered as being that of His Highness the Amír of Kabul, and the British Mission is now returning from Jamrúd to Pesháwar. I again assure you that the British Government entertains nothing but friendly feelings and intentions towards the Chiefs and people of Afghánistán.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

The following information has been received from the Colonial Secretary, Cape Town, Cape of Good Hope :—

REPORT ON DANGER, OFF OLIPHANT'S POINT.

H. M. SURVEYING VESSEL "FAWN," TABLE BAY,
5th June 1878.

To

COMMODORE F. W. SULLIVAN, C.B.,

Senior Officer.

SIR,—I have the honor to inform you that on the 3rd instant I made an examination of the locality where the Union Mail Steamer Kafir struck, and was lost in February last.

2. The survey has not been exhaustive, as time would not allow me to fill up thoroughly the great blanks that have been left in the chart of the entire west shore of the Cape Peninsula, nor was there any occasion why a very close survey of the waters off Oliphant's Bosch should be undertaken.

The locality is well known to the fishermen, who spend great part of their lives there, and three visits that I have made by land from Simon's Town have convinced me that these men know of no danger outside the Rock, called by them the "Albatross," on which they one and all declare the Kafir to have struck, they having been eye-witnesses of her movements.

3. The result of my examination is that the "Albatross" rock is 1,200 yards from the shore of Oliphant's Point, or 500 yards farther seaward than previously shown on the chart.

4. The spot where the Kafir's remains now lie is 1·6 miles to the S.-E. by S. of this rock.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. J. L. WHARTON,
Commander in charge of Survey.

MARINE SURVEY DEPARTMENT, CALCUTTA, the 4th December 1878.

GENERAL.

Simla, the 4th June 1878.

No. 378.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to invite tenders for the lease of the Great Coco Island in the Bay of Bengal.

2. The lease will be for a period not exceeding 50 years: the exact proportion of gross produce payable as rent and the term, within the above maximum period, during which the rent offered shall be payable, are left to the tenderers.

3. In addition to the rent stipulated as payable, the lessee will be bound to defray the expense of maintaining peace in the island and on its coasts, and of the administration of civil and criminal justice. The amount of such expense cannot at present be stated; but the Government are prepared to fix a maximum of Rs. 20,000 annually, beyond which the lessee would not be charged with any expenditure on these objects. The Government will, from time to time, fix the cost of such establishments, and such cost the lessee will be required to defray quarterly in advance.

4. The Government reserve to themselves the administration of Civil and Criminal Justice, Customs, Excise, and other Departments of Government, and the lessee will be entitled only to the produce of the soil, and to an exclusive right of fishery for one mile from high water-mark, and to the use for local requirements, and not for sale out of the island, of such timber as it produces, and of stone, lime, sand, and other building materials.

5. The rent will be taken in kind and will consist of a fixed proportion not less than $\frac{1}{6}$th of the gross produce of the island. In the case of cocoanuts, the fixed proportion must be delivered free at Port Blair or any other place in the Andamans that Government may from time to time direct, in the husk, in good condition and of good quality, and must have been gathered in such proportions at the times most suitable for the manufacture of coir and oil, respectively, as the Superintendent of Port Blair may from time to time require. In the case of other produce, delivery of which will be taken in the island, the Government may at any time require the lessee to commute the produce in kind for a money payment calculated at a rate 20 per cent. below the rate then ruling in the Rangoon market for similar produce of similar quality.

6. The number of living cocoanut trees on the island when it is transferred to the lessee will be ascertained, and the lessee will be bound under penalty to maintain at least that number of living cocoanut trees, at once planting and rearing young trees in place of those that may die, be blown down, or otherwise destroyed from time to time. The lessee is prohibited from cutting down any cocoanut trees without the written permission of the officer to whom Government may delegate authority to grant such permission.

7. The Government also reserve the right to appropriate sites on the island for public buildings, including dwelling-houses for officials, sanitaria, &c., paying as compensation only the cost of any improvements effected on the site appropriated. Also to appropriate any timber of spontaneous growth, and any stone, lime, sand or other raw building materials existing in the island, required for such public buildings, enclosures, &c.

8. The Government also reserve a right to refuse their assent to any transfer of the lease of the island by the lessee for the time being. In the event of such power of refusal being exercised, the lessee will be entitled to claim that Government shall themselves take over the unexpired portion of the lease on a fair estimate of the value of the improvements effected by him or his predecessors.

9. Should the lessee in any way violate the provisions of the lease, or fail to pay the stipulated rent on the dates on which it falls due, or omit to take measures for the settlement and working of the island within a term of two years from the date of the lease, the Government will cancel the lease and re-enter on possession of the island, without compensation.

10. The Government do not bind themselves to accept the highest or any tender made in reply to this advertisement. Tenders should be addressed to the Local Government or Administration of the Province in which the persons tendering may live or carry on business, and will be forwarded by such Local Government or Administration, after such enquiries into the circumstances of the tenderer and his ability to carry out the terms of his tender as may seem proper, to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce. Tenders from persons in the United Kingdom should be forwarded through the Secretary of State.

11. The deed of lease to the tenderer whose offer may be accepted will be prepared at his costs and charges in all things by the Government Solicitor, and upon any questions arising between the tenderer and Government in regard to the form of the lease, the opinion of the Advocate-General shall be conclusive and equally binding on both parties.

12. Tenders must be sent in within a period of twelve months from the date of this advertisement.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Financial Department, are republished for general information:—

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8.—The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Order issued by Authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL.

No. 35, dated the 30*th November* 1878.

The Court has reason to believe that the provisions of Sections 179 and 180, Act X of 1877, are entirely disregarded in most of the Subordinate Civil Courts, and that the old practice continues unchecked of taking the whole of the evidence first, not always continuously, and then perhaps days afterwards letting the Vakeels begin the case over again for argument, which generally involves reading the evidence again. The proceedings are greatly simplified when, as the law intends, the party who has the right to begin states his case and is afterwards held rigidly to it. But under the old practice great facilities were afforded to a party to mend his hand as the case proceeded, so that, when the entire evidence on his side was taken, he was in a position to present an entirely new case to the Court. Such practices as these, wherever they exist, must be at once discontinued. Section 198 of the Code, while it allows of an adjournment for the Judge to consider his decision, in no manner warrants an adjournment to allow the Pleaders to prepare their arguments.

2. Civil Judicial Officers are required in future to insist strictly on the Pleaders conforming to the Code, and the Court will hold District Judges responsible for the observance of the practice prescribed by law in the Courts subordinate to them.

No. 36, dated the 13*th November* 1878.

Judicial Officers in the Lower Provinces of Bengal and in Assam are reminded that the Circular Orders* issued by the late Sudder Court to secure the better preservation of the books belonging to Courts in the interior are still in force, never having been formally rescinded, although omitted by oversight from the recent compilation of the Circular Orders in force. A copy of the Circular Orders in question is appended for reference, and it is expected that their provisions will be strictly compiled with in future.

* No. 20, dated 26th July 1855.
„ 3, „ 25th January 1856.

From the Registrar, to the Civil and Criminal Authorities in the Lower Provinces,—Circular Order No. 20, dated Fort William, the 26th July 1855.

With a view to ensure the better preservation of the books belonging to each of the public Offices under their control, the Court are pleased to issue the following rules which have been introduced in the Western Court:—

1*st.*—The Head Clerk of the English Office is to be appointed Librarian. He will be primarily responsible for the custody and preservation of the books composing the Office Library; but this will not relieve the Magistrate or other presiding authority from the general responsibility devolving on him as Head of the Office.

2*nd.*—Correct catalogues should be immediately made of the books in the Library. It might be useful to insert a column in the catalogue showing the date of receipt of each book. The catalogues to be of English paper, and strongly bound for permanent record.

3*rd.*—Each book should have a number labelled upon it corresponding to a number in the catalogue; and as fresh additions are made to the Library, they should be labelled and numbered in like manner. Each book should also be marked on several leaves with the Office stamp.

4*th.*—Whenever a book is required out of the Library by any Officer other than the Judge or Magistrate competent to require the same, the Librarian should send a receipt on a slip of paper, which the recipient will sign and return on getting the book, such receipts to be destroyed on the book being returned to Office.

2. The above rules, without going into further detail, will be sufficient to point out the object the Court have in view, viz. the due preservation of books which are the property of Government; and all Officers are requested to act at once on the above directions, and to mention the fact of their having done so in their next Annual Report.

From the Registrar, to the Civil Authorities in the Lower Provinces,—Circular Order No. 3, dated Fort William, the 25th January 1856.

The Court are pleased to direct that the principle of their Circular Order No. 20, dated the 26th of July last, respecting the custody and preservation of the Libraries attached to the English Offices of the Zillah Judges, be considered applicable, as far as possible, to the Courts of the Principal Sudder Ameens, the Sudder Ameens, and Moonsiffs under their jurisdiction.

2. Catalogues should be formed by each Native Judge of the Regulations, Acts, Gazettes, &c., furnished by Government for the use of his Office; and on receiving charge of any judicial post, the relieving Officer should satisfy himself that the Library of the Court to which he is appointed is complete and in good order, and the catalogue correct. Should any books be found wanting, or their condition materially damaged, he should report the fact without delay to the Judge to whom he is subordinate, or else he will be held answerable for the deficiency.

CAMP OPA, the 5th December 1878.

15.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1877-78, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1879, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 60,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

From the Executive Engineer, Cossye Division, dated 12th November 1878.

Since Mr.————————has joined this division he has given me entire satisfaction. He is an excellent mechanic, and does much credit to the training he received at Dehree. His management of the workshop for the last three months has been most satisfactory. He is industrious and obedient and a very cheerful worker.

From the Executive Engineer, New Delhi Branch Division, dated 30th October 1878.

Mr.————————is a steady young man, ready in his accounts, and does his work neatly, but might have more energy. The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

FANINDRA MOHUN BASU, Head Clerk,
For Offg. Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of November 1878.

Increases.

Coal ... ... Mds. 8,643

This is import traffic for brick-making, and the use of coal for fuel is being more generally adopted in the district

Food-grains ... ... Mds. 61,746

Food-grains during the month have come down with a rush from the Durbhunga end of the line and have exceeded my expectations. I am informed that the roads leading to Durbhunga from the north and east have been one continuous stream of country carts laden with grain.

Hides ... ... Mds. 1,215

The export of hides has been good, and has been diverted entirely from the river route.

Iron ... ... Mds. 696

Piece-goods ... ... „ 3,227

The increase in this staple of traffic is satisfactory.

Seeds, Indigo ... ... „ 104

This is exceptional and out of season.

Salt ... ... „ 15,068

The salt traffic is improving.

Saltpetre ... ... „ 4,028

Sugar ... ... „ 663

These are favorable increases.

Tobacco ... ... „ 3,094

Of this, one consignment was from Messrs. Begg, Dunlopp and Co.'s firm at Poosah.

Miscellaneous goods ... ... Mds. 7,270

This consists of both import traffic, such as wines, provision and stores, and also export goods, such as tamarinds, amut and other country produce, and the increase is due to quick despatch.

Decreases.

Indigo ... ... Mds. 254

The despatches are later this year than last, owing to the dull state of the market.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 4,813

Exceptional traffic, depending of course upon railway works under construction.

Seeds, oil ... ... „ 30,685

Due to the dull state of the market as compared with last year.

The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1877-78, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1879, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 60,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

TERRITORIAL WATERS JURISDICTION ACT, 1878.

[41 & 42 VICT., CHAP. 73.]

An Act to regulate the Law relating to the Trial of Offences committed on the Sea within a certain distance of the Coasts of Her Majesty's Dominions.

[16TH AUGUST 1878.]

WHEREAS the rightful jurisdiction of Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, extends and has always extended over the open seas adjacent to the coasts of the United Kingdom and of all other parts of Her Majesty's dominions to such a distance as is necessary for the defence and security of such dominions:

And whereas it is expedient that all offences committed on the open sea within a certain distance of the coasts of the United Kingdom and of all other parts of Her Majesty's dominions, by whomsoever committed, should be dealt with according to law

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Territorial Waters Jurisdiction Act, 1878.

Amendment of the law as to the jurisdiction of the Admiral.

2. An offence committed by a person, whether he is or is not a subject of Her Majesty, on the open sea within the territorial waters of Her Majesty's dominions, is an offence within the jurisdiction of the Admiral, although it may have been committed on board or by means of a foreign ship, and the person who committed such offence may be arrested, tried, and punished accordingly.

Restriction on institution of proceedings for punishment of offence.

3. Proceedings for the trial and punishment of a person who is not a subject of Her Majesty, and who is charged with any such offence as is declared by this Act to be within the jurisdiction of the Admiral, shall not be instituted in any court of the United Kingdom, except with the consent of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and on his certificate that the institution of such proceedings is in his opinion expedient, and shall not be instituted in any of the dominions of Her Majesty out of the United Kingdom, except with the leave of the Governor of the part of the dominions in which such proceedings are proposed to be instituted, and on his certificate that it is expedient that such proceedings should be instituted.

Provisions as to procedure.

4. On the trial of any person who is not a subject of Her Majesty for an offence declared by this Act to be within the jurisdiction of the Admiral, it shall not be necessary to aver in any indictment or information on such trial that such consent or certificate of the Secretary of State or Governor as is required by this Act has been given, and the fact of the same having been given shall be presumed unless disputed by the defendant at the trial; and the production of a document purporting to be signed by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State as respects the United Kingdom, and by the Governor as respects any other part of Her Majesty's dominions, and containing such consent and certificate, shall be sufficient evidence for all the purposes of this Act of the consent and certificate required by this Act.

Proceedings before a justice of the peace or other magistrate previous to the committal of an offender for trial or to the determination of the justice or magistrate that the offender is to be put upon his trial shall not be deemed proceedings for the trial of the offence committed by such offender for the purposes of the said consent and certificate under this Act.

Saving as to jurisdiction.

5. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to be in derogation of any rightful jurisdiction of Her Majesty, her heirs or successors, under the law of nations, or to affect or prejudice any jurisdiction conferred by Act of Parliament or now by law existing in relation to foreign ships or in relation to persons on board such ships.

Saving as to piracy.

6. This Act shall not prejudice or affect the trial in manner heretofore in use of any act of piracy as defined by the law of nations, or affect or prejudice any law relating thereto; and where any act of piracy as defined by the law of nations is also any such offence as is declared by this Act to be within the jurisdiction of the Admiral, such offence may be tried in pursuance of this Act, or in pursuance of any other Act of Parliament, law, or custom relating thereto.

No. 257*C.P.*—In continuation of Foreign Department Notification No. 86P, dated 30th November 1878, the following letter is published for general information:—

Translation of Amir's reply, dated 19th November 1878, to His Excellency the Viceroy's letter dated 29th October 1878.

Be it known to Your Excellency that I have received and read, from beginning to end, the friendly letter which Your Excellency has sent in reply to the letter I despatched by Nawab Ghulám Hassan Khan. With regard to the expressions used by Your Excellency in the beginning of your letter, referring to the friendly character of the Mission and the good-will of the British Government, I leave it to Your Excellency, whose wisdom and justice are universally admitted, to decide whether any reliance can be placed upon good-will if it be evidenced by words only; but if, on the other hand, good-will really consists of deeds and actions, then it has not been manifested by the various wishes that have been expressed, and the proposals that have been made by British Officials during the last few years to Officials of this God-granted Government,—proposals which from their nature it was impossible for them to comply with.

One of these proposals referred to my undutiful son, the ill-starred wretch Muhammad Yakub Khan, and was contained in a letter addressed by the Officials of the British Government to the British Agent then residing in Kabul. It was written in that letter that if the said Yakub Khan be released and set at liberty, our friendship with the Afghán Government will be firmly cemented, but that otherwise it will not.

There are several other grounds of complaint of a similar nature which contain no evidence of good-will, but which, on the contrary, were effective in increasing the aversion and apprehension already entertained by the subjects of this God-granted Government.

With regard to my refusal to receive the British Mission, Your Excellency has stated that it would appear from my conduct that I was actuated by feelings of direct hostility towards the British Government.

I assure Your Excellency that, on the contrary, the Officials of this God-granted Government, in repulsing the Mission, were not influenced by any hostile or inimical feelings towards the British Government, nor did they intend that any insult or affront should be offered; but they were afraid that the independence of this Government might be affected by the arrival of the Mission, and that the friendship which has now existed between the two Governments for several years might be annihilated.

A paragraph in Your Excellency's letter corroborates the statement which they have made to this Government. The feelings of apprehension which were aroused in the minds of the people of Afghánistán by the mere announcement of the intention of the British Government to send a Mission to Kabul, before the Mission itself had actually started or arrived at Peshawar, have subsequently been fully justified by the statement in Your Excellency's letter, that I should be held responsible for any injury that might befall the tribes who acted as guides to the Mission, and that I should be called upon to pay compensation to them for any loss they might have suffered, and that, if at any time those tribes should meet with ill-treatment at my hands, the British Government would at once take steps to protect them Had these apprehensions proved groundless, and had the object of the Mission been really friendly and no force or threats of violence used, the Mission would, as a matter of course, have been allowed a free passage, as such Missions are customary and of frequent occurrence between allied States. I am now sincerely stating my own feelings when I say that this Government has maintained and always will maintain the former friendship which existed between the two Governments, and cherishes no feelings of hostility and opposition towards the British Government.

It is also incumbent upon the Officials of the British Government that, out of respect and consideration for the greatness and eminence of their own Government, they should not consent to inflict any injury upon their well-disposed neighbours, and to impose the burden of grievous troubles upon the shoulders of their sincere friends; but, on the contrary, they should exert themselves to maintain the friendly feelings which have hitherto existed towards this God-granted Government, in order that the relations between the two Governments may remain on the same footing as before; and if, in accordance with the custom of allied States, the British Government should desire to send a purely friendly and temporary Mission to this country with a small escort not exceeding 20 or 30 men, similar to that which attended the Russian Mission, this Servant of God will not oppose its progress.

SIZE AND WEIGHT OF INDIAN TEA CHESTS.

THE following correspondence regarding the desirableness of securing for Indian tea chests such a uniformity of size and weight as is customary in China tea trade is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secy. to the Government of Bengal.

No. 12, dated Calcutta, the 30th November 1878.

From—A. O. HUME, ESQ., C.B., Secy. to the Govt. of India, Dept. of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I AM directed to forward copy of a despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 168, dated the 5th September last, with enclosures, and to request that, with the permission of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, you will cause copies of the papers to be circulated amongst persons interested in the tea industry in Bengal, with reference to the suggestion made in them for the adoption of chests of uniform size.

No. 168, dated India Office, London, the 5th September 1878.

From—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—The Government of India.

I TRANSMIT, for your Excellency's information, a copy of a recent correspondence* on the method of weighing tea, adopted by the English Custom-houses, and I beg to draw attention to the suggestion made in the concluding paragraph of the letter of 31st August, to Mr. J. Stalkartt, regarding the desirableness of securing for Indian tea chests such a uniformity of size and weight as is customary in the China tea trade.

* Letter from Mr. Stalkartt (without date).
" to " dated 31st August.
" from Board of Trade, dated 13th August, and its enclosure, dated 3rd August.

From—J. STALKARTT, Esq.,

To—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

I AM a tea planter, and in the name of all the tea planters of India, beg the assistance of Government on the following subject.

Great loss is sustained by the tea planter through the system of weighing tea carried out in Her Majesty's Custom-house in England, from 1 to 2lb per chest, or 2½ per cent.

This system is exposed in the Indian Tea Gazette, No. 21, page 97, volume II. It appears that the boxes are weighed and not the tea. The 2lb logs per chest is as much Her Majesty's as the planters.

This supposed loss had been brought to the notice of planters by buyers; therefore most planters put an excess into the chests, in some cases 1lb, and still there is loss of 2lb per chest. The English brokers tell us that this is not their fault, but the fault of Her Majesty's Customs, and they have no power to remedy it. I therefore, in the name of my brother tea planters of India, beg your most noble assistance, in that you will, of your goodness, bring this deficiency to the notice of Her Majesty's Board of Customs, as this is Her Majesty's loss as well as the planters, " so that the teas may be weighed and not the chests."

Also, that duplicate weights of Her Majesty's Custom-house be forwarded to all the tea districts of India, that each planter may have his weights tested and corrected yearly before the season commences. It is thoroughly absurd to arrive at the weight of the tea by weighing the chests. A broken chest can never weigh as much as a chest unopened. A great outcry is made, because the tare of the chests in England is less than the tare at the factory in India, where the tea is made and is carried down in all the invoices, for it would damage the teas to expose them to the damp air in Calcutta. The air of the tea districts is much more damp than the air of Calcutta, so that it is not possible to supply dry chests. Chests lose weight gradually upon the road, and on arrival in England the loss is from 1 to 2lb. This is deducted from the tea and not from the chest: hence a loss both to Her Most Gracious Majesty as well as to your humble servants, the planters. Again, all teas are thoroughly desiccated, or they would not keep, so that on opening the chests and bulking they are more likely to gain than to lose weight.

Furthermore, we object to our teas being bulked, as this exposure reduces the value of the teas: it is not a raw article like hides or corn, but more like preserved provisions, that would be spoiled if every pound tin was opened for examination.

If any doubt should arise respecting the contents of any invoice, a guarantee having been given, it can always be verified by a certain percentage being opened and tested by weighing tea, not the chest.

Dated India Office, London, the 31st August 1878.

From—The Under-Secretary of State for India,

To—J. STALKARTT, Esq.

I AM directed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, received on the 6th June last, addressed to Viscount Cranbrook, on the subject of the method of weighing tea at the English Custom-house, and to forward in reply a copy of a letter received at this office from the Board of Trade, enclosing one from the Commissioners of Customs, from which you will perceive that both those departments are opposed to any alteration in the direction suggested by you. I am to add that, from inquiries instituted by Lord Cranbrook, it would appear that great irregularity exists in the sizes and weights (when filled) of the Indian chests, and I am to suggest that, if the same uniformity in this respect were attained as has been secured in the China tea trade, there would probably be less ground of complaint on the score of delay and erroneous valuations.

Dated 13th August 1878.
" 3rd " "

Dated Board of Trade, London, the 13th August 1878.

From—The Secretary to the Board of Trade, London,

To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I AM directed by the Board of Trade to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th ultimo, transmitting, by direction of the Secretary of State for India, a letter from

Mr. J. Stalkartt, in which he complains of the method of weighing tea adopted by the English Custom-houses, and requesting the opinion of the Board of Trade thereon.

In reply, I am directed to state that the Board of Trade have been in communication with the Commissioners of Customs on the subject, and have received from them a letter, of which a copy is annexed, for Lord Cranbrook's information. In this letter the Commissioners state generally that the regulations now in force have the approval of the trade in this country, and they oppose any alteration.

Dated 3rd August 1878.

Under these circumstances, the Board of Trade are not prepared to express any opinion adverse to the practices of which Mr. Stalkartt complains, which appear to be primarily matters for the consideration of the Customs in their dealings with traders here, and which ought to be regulated by what is due to the revenue on the one side, and the convenience of the trade on the other. The Board of Trade are the more disposed to this view because of the interest the Customs would apparently have in agreeing to what Mr. Stalkartt suggests in order to get more duty than they now receive.

Dated Custom-house, London, the 3rd August 1878.

From—The Assistant Secretary to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Customs, London,

To—The Secretary to the Board of Trade.

THE Commissioners of Her Majesty's Customs having had under consideration Mr. Giffen's letter of the 2nd instant, transmitting copy of a letter addressed to the Board of Trade by the Secretary of State for India in Council, enclosing a communication from Mr. John Stalkartt, in which he states that great loss is sustained by the tea planters in India in consequence of the system of weighing tea followed at the Custom-houses in this country, and Mr. Giffen having signified the request of the Board of Trade to be favoured with the views of this Board upon the subject, I am desired to point out that the objections brought forward in Mr. Stalkartt's letter, and in the correspondence annexed to it, refer mainly to the process by which this Department arrives at the tare to be deducted for the chests in which the teas are contained, and to the draft of 1lb allowed to the buyer in this country, and as regards the first of these objections, I am to acquaint you, for the information of their Lordships, that Indian teas (like those from China) are weighed and tared to the even pound on importation into this country, the practice being to reject any odd number of ounces when taking the gross weight of the full chest, and to take the next complete pound beyond the actual weight when weighing the empty chest to ascertain the tare to be allowed. This system may operate to some extent to the advantage of the purchasers of the tea in this country, by giving the net weight of the tea for duty, and, as between buyer and seller, at somewhat less than the quantity really contained in the chest, but the arrangement having been in operation for many years, and being acquiesced in by the trade generally, the Board of Customs are not prepared to recommend that it should be altered.

If the practice of weighing to the even pound be observed at the gardens, and the teas are placed in dry chests, there should be no difference between the gross weights of the packages as taken at the gardens and this country; but it is stated in Mr. Stalkartt's letter that the air of the tea gardens is very damp, and that the packages dry in transit to Calcutta, and therefore some loss in the gross weights may reasonably be expected.

From enquiries which have been made, it is ascertained that 1 per cent. is about the average loss on garden invoices, so far as regards Customs weight; in some instances, however, there is a gain on the gross weight, tare, and net weight, showing that the weight taken at the gardens is not reliable.

As regards the 1lb draft allowed to the trade, and which accounts for half the loss complained of, I am desired to observe that it is a trade practice of many years' standing, applicable equally to Chinese as to Indian tea, and that it is not probable that the trade in this country would acquiesce in any proposal for its discontinuance.

Mr. Stalkartt requests "that the tea may be weighed and not the chests," but this arrangement could not be carried out without causing delay in passing the teas, and the alteration of practice would probably be objected to by merchants and others in this country, who regard the question from a buyer's point of view.

The bulking of the tea is an indulgence which is granted on the special request of the consignee or other person interested in tea in this country, but it is quite competent for Mr. Stalkartt to give what directions he thinks fit to his agents in England as regards this matter.

With reference to Mr. Stalkartt's suggestion that duplicates of the weights used by this Department should be forwarded to all the tea districts of India, that each planter may have his weights tested and corrected yearly before the season commences, I am instructed to point out that English weights and scales, such as are used by this Department, can be purchased at any of the scale-makers, &c., in this country, and most probably also in Calcutta, and that it is for the growers to make any arrangements they may deem desirable with the local authorities to test the correctness periodically of the weights in use at the gardens.

THE HEAVY RAINFALL OF 22nd SEPTEMBER AND ITS EFFECTS ON THE DANCOONEE DRAINAGE WORKS AND ON THE CROPS.

Government of Bengal.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT—IRRIGATION BRANCH.

Fort William, the 19th December 1878.

THE following papers relative to the heavy rainfall of the 22nd September 1878, and its effects on the Dancoonee Drainage Works in the district of Hooghly, and on the crops growing on that basin, are published for general information.

By order, &c.,

F. T. HAIG, Col., R.E.,

Joint-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, in the P. W. Dept., Irrigation Branch.

No. 3376, dated Calcutta, the 23rd October 1878.

Memo. by MAJOR J. M. HEYWOOD, R.E., Offg. Supdg. Engineer, South-Western Circle.

COPY, with memorandum, forwarded to Chief Engineer, Bengal, Irrigation Branch, for information.

No. 2156, dated Calcutta, the 21st October 1878.

From—J. W. WHITFIELD, ESQ., C.E., Executive Engineer, Northern Drainage and Embankment Division,

To—The Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle.

I HAVE the honor to forward a memorandum on the Dancoonee basin and drainage works after the unprecedented rainfall of 14 inches in about as many hours on the 22nd of September.

2. The memorandum might have been sent earlier, but I was desirous of seeing the state of the crops after their submergence and the water drained off, and it is very satisfactory to find that practically no injury has been sustained, of which I satisfied myself from personal observation on the 16th.

3. The height of the water is now 12 feet, a slight augmentation having occurred since the gates were closed on the 8th; and as there is a diversity of views among the ryots as to the height of water they wish to retain, some saying they do not wish it lowered, others that they want it reduced 9 inches (half a hât), orders have been given to reduce it to 11 feet 6 inches, the average level of former years, and the gates have been opened for a day or two to reduce it to that level.

4. In about 15 or 20 days the gates will be opened for the final drainage of the basin, as the crops after that will not require any more water, and by the end of November or middle of December the entire basin will be completely drained for the reaping of the crops, in itself an advantage of no small importance.

DANCOONEE DRAINAGE.

Memorandum on the heavy rainfall of the 22nd of September and its effect on the Dancoonee Works and Crops.

IN a memorandum dated the 3rd of September, a description is given of the effect of a rainfall of 6·06 inches in the Dancoonee basin on the 16th and 17th of August, and the rate at which the water was drained out. So heavy a rainfall is an unusual occurrence, but it is far short of the quantity that fell on the 22nd of September, which is unprecedented; at any rate there is no record of anything like such a heavy fall having occurred in so short a time. The rain commenced at about 3 A.M. on the 22nd, and ceased before 6 P.M. of the same day, but the largest portion fell between 7 and 12 A.M. There fell at the following places on the margin of the Dancoonee basin :—

2. The height of the water at Jheekaree, the middle of Dancoonee Jheel, on the 21st was 11 feet 4 inches, and the gates at Biddabattee and Bonderbill being closed, the level of the water was the same throughout ; 11 feet four inches is the normal height required by the rice crops at that date. On the morning of the 22nd the water level had risen to 11 feet 6 inches, and in the evening to 12 feet 6 inches. On the 23rd the water rose to 13 feet 6 inches, its highest at Jheekaree. At Biddabattee it was one inch higher, but at Bonderbill it never rose higher than 13 feet. This, as explained in the former memorandum, is caused by the greater part of the catchment basin being to the north of the jheel, and in flowing towards the jheel and Bonderbill through the rice crops, the water assumed a surface gradient of nearly an inch a mile, that is, the distance in a straight line from Biddabattee to Bonderbill is 7½ miles, and the level of the water on the 23rd at Biddabattee was 13 feet 7 inches and at Bonderbill 13 feet.

3. On the morning of the 23rd all the gates were opened for drainage and remained open until the 8th of October, when they were closed at the request of the ryots, the water being then reduced to 11 feet 11¾ inches at Jheekaree. It was represented by the ryots that, if the support of the water was further diminished, the crops would be likely to fall down and be greatly injured.

4. The following statement shows the daily height of the water in Dancoonee basin and the height of the river water outside the sluices. The rate at which the level of the water was lowered was very much retarded by the high state of the river caused by the coincidence of the spring tide which happened to be the highest of the year :—

5. It will be seen from the statement that on the 28th the tide outside the Biddabattee sluice was 18 feet 1 inch, and was within a few inches of that height for four consecutive days, and as this was in consequence of the high state of the river in conjunction with the tide, the low water level was high in proportion, and therefore little time left for drainage, as is seen from the slow rate at which the water in the jheel was lowered during the five days between the 26th and 30th. The supply in the Dancoonee basin was further augmented by the additional rainfall of 2·20 between the 22nd and the closing of the gates, as well as by the spill across the Sarsuttee from the accumulation on the low land extending several miles northward. This water being prevented by the tide and flood in the Hooghly from flowing out by the Koontee nuddee, and the Sarsuttee drainage being obstructed by bunds made across the channel, it overflowed into the Dancoonee basin and increased largely the quantity of water to be drained out, as was seen by the strong current flowing through the Hurripal road towards Biddabattee sluice.

6. At Bally sluice the tide was lower than at Biddabattee, and the out-flow by that gate was consequently of longer duration each day than at Biddabattee. At extreme springs the difference at high-water was 3 feet. At Biddabattee it was 18 feet 1 inch, and at Bonderbill 18 feet 1 inch. At neap-tides the difference on the 2nd of October was 9 inches, Biddabattee being 14 feet and Bally 13 feet 3 inches. In consequence of this difference in the height of the tides, the Bally sluice has a greater discharging capacity than the Biddabattee sluice but being more remote from the central gathering ground, the water level at Bally sluice is slightly lower than in the central and northern part of the jheel, as shown in the statement of daily level of the water; this somewhat diminishes the advantage from the lower tides.

7. The crops over the deeper and greater part of the basin being well grown and above the surface of the water are uninjured. Only those late in being planted, which are on comparatively high ground, were entirely submerged; their complete submergence lasted five to eight days, from the 23rd to the 27th and 30th of September. It was feared they would be completely destroyed, but such has not been the case, as it was found, on the water being drained off, they had suffered but little injury. Of the total area which at first was completely under water, only the plants on about 100 beeghas are destroyed, and on about 1½ square miles or 3,000 beeghas they have been deteriorated, as far as can at present be ascertained from inquiry on the spot, to the extent of about a quarter from what they would have been if the heavy rainfall had not occurred. Their recovery, however, since the water has been drained off, has been so rapid and so great that it may be, after a week or two more, there may be no trace of the injury left, except in the small quantity of 100 beeghas destroyed; where destroyed the ground is high, in some places over 15 feet above mean sea datum.

8. Assuming that the injury above estimated will be found to be correct (although that cannot be definitely ascertained until the crops are nearer maturity), it will amount only to a very small fractional part of the entire area brought into cultivation and improved by these works.

Area of crops destroyed, 100 beeghas.

Then $\frac{3000}{4}$ injured=750 beeghas destroyed and $\frac{750+100}{44,000}=\frac{850}{44000}=\frac{1}{52}=1{\cdot}92$ per cent. the quantity less than would have been the yield if this unprecedented rainfall had not occurred. If, however, the drainage works had not been constructed, the crops below the contour of 13 feet would have been destroyed, and those in the zone between 13 and 15 feet would have been seriously injured and not improbably destroyed, as the water would have stood at a height of 17 feet or more for 10 days at least. This is easily proved. The average height of the water in the Dancoonee basin in August and September, previous to the tide and Hooghly floods being excluded, was 15 feet. On the 22nd of September the water level was raised 2 feet in less than 24 hours by a rainfall of 14 inches over the basin, and remained at that height notwithstanding the drainage outflow through waterways of an aggregate area of 1,352 square feet. The old waterway through the old khalls formerly was not a fourth of this. The 2 feet accumulation in the central part of the basin would have raised the height of the water to 17 feet, and would have been daily increased by the in-flow from the outer edge of the basin and the spill across the Sarsuttee, as well as the in-flow from the tide, which for four consecutive days, 26th to 29th, rose at Biddabattee to close upon 18 feet; so that there would have been no chance of the water falling below 17 feet (and it might have been higher) till several days after the spring tides, probably till the 4th of October, that being the date on which the subsidence commenced in Howrah district. There can, then, be little doubt but that, as stated above, all the crops below the contour of 13 feet must have been destroyed, and those in the zone between 13 and 15 feet, if not destroyed, would have been very seriously injured. This, contrasted with the result of the unexpected test of the present season, is the strongest proof that can be adduced both of the advantage and sufficiency of the present works.

9. The places where the crops were entirely submerged were in the village of Monohurpoor, between the Bally channel and Ooterparah road; in the village of Beloo, on both sides of Jheekaree road; in the villages of Dirhango on the west side of the channel, north of Hurripa road, between Hurripal road and Biddabatee old road, and a portion on the east side of the channel, south of Biddabatee old road and in the village Hurreepoor, besides a few other places. A part of the submerged portion, amounting altogether to not more than 3,000 beeghas, has not yet fully recovered its condition. The places where the crops are destroyed are in villages of Dirhango and Hurreepoor, and it may be a few small patches elsewhere, altogether as already stated, not exceeding 100 beeghas. All of this is on high or comparatively high ground.

10. The question as to how far the benefit of these drainage works extend and the lands that should be made to contribute to the cost of the works receives an unexpected illustration from this heavy rainfall. It is contended on one side that only the lands below the irrigation level of 11 feet 6 inches are benefited, and that they alone should contribute to the cost of the works. On the other side, it is represented that all lands up to the flood leve contour derive advantage from the protection, and should pay proportionately. It has been shown that in the present season a large proportion of the crops below 13 feet would have been destroyed, and those between the contours of 13 and 15 feet, if not destroyed, would have been seriously injured; but owing to the drainage works that have been constructed they have had almost complete immunity.* This cannot be denied. It therefore follows that as the crops on the land up to the 15 feet contour have this season derived nearly as much benefit as those on the lower land, in fairness and justice to the others, the owners of these lands should contribute towards the cost of those works by which the crops have this year been saved, and it is believed are every year greatly benefited.

* Since writing this, Rajapore jheel has been inspected, and it is found that all the crops below the contours of 12 feet are completely destroyed, and it may be those even on a higher level. The highest rise of the water was 15 feet 3 inches on the 25th of September, and continued a long time at nearly that height. On the 21st of October it had only gone down 7½ inches. The average flood water level in Rajapore is 1 foot 6 inches lower than it was in Dancoonee. The former is 13 feet 6 inches and the latter was 15 feet.

J. W.

It may be too late to open up the question as regards the Dancoonee basin and works as the apportionment of charges have been already made, but in other works of a similar nature the fact should not be lost sight of.

11. It may not be out of place here to refer again to the water flowing across the Sarsuttee into the Dancoonee basin and increasing the quantity to be drained off, and to urge the necessity of removing the dams made across the Sarsuttee, whether made for cultivation of the bed of the river or for the retention and storage of water. This will give a passage for a much larger quantity of water to flow off and lessen the overflow into the Dancoonee basin, and besides this I would propose to embank those places on the edge of the river where the water escapes, and thus prevent a repetition of the overflow which has twice occurred this season. The embankment required will not be very extensive, and the cost may very well be included in the maintenance of the Dancoonee works to which it fairly and properly belongs.

12. The total quantity drained off between the 23rd of September and the 8th of October might have been very easily calculated if it had not been for the spill from the Sarsuttee. Had it been the rainfall only, the quantity would have been 16·20 inches, the total rainfall, multiplied into 56 square miles, the area of the catchment basin, which gives 2,108 millions of cubic feet, or a quantity equivalent to a discharge of 24,494 cubic feet a second for 24 hours; or if evenly distributed over the 16 days the gates were open, and allowing 14 hours a day of full discharge as the equivalent of the time the water could flow out, the discharge would be at the rate of 2,625 cubic feet per second during that time, and if to this be added 325 for the spill from the Sarsuttee, the discharge will be brought up to 3,000 feet a second, which was about the observed rate on the 23rd at low water.

13. Among the conclusions arrived at from the test of a rainfall of 14 inches in one day over the entire basin, are that it has proved the works constructed to be sufficient for all the requirements that are likely to arise, as it is hardly to be expected that a heavier fall of rain will ever occur, and at the same time to be coincident with the highest tide of the year which closed the drainage for an unusually long time. Another is, that the rice plants will remain submerged in clean water without material injury from six to eight days, and that, if only the points of the tops are above water, they will remain a much longer time without being much the worse. In other places, where muddy tidal water covered the rice plants and they remained under water not more than three days, they have been destroyed.

14. The sluices and channels of the Dancoonee works are uninjured.

No. 2537, dated Calcutta, the 3rd December 1878.

From—J. WHITFIELD, Esq., C.E., Executive Engineer, Northern Drainage and Embankment Division,

To—The Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle.

REFERRING to your No. 3810, dated the 29th ultimo, I have the honor to state that I have this day inspected that portion of Dancoonee drainage basin where, in the month of October, it was estimated about 100 beeghas of rice crops were totally destroyed and 3,000 beeghas injured to the extent of one-fourth of their value. The crops are now almost ripe and in process of reaping, and it is found that there are scarcely any totally destroyed, and that which was estimated to be injured, about one-fourth is hardly injured at all. In one of these latter fields a man had cut this crop and was gathering it in: he was asked how much it was, and replied about "fourteen annas," meaning it was fourteen-sixteenths of a full crop, and appeared quite satisfied. Another field was being reaped and the crop was "eight annas." In places where it was expected to have been totally destroyed, there are what are termed four to six-anna crops. The total amount of injury the crops have sustained will probably not amount to one per cent. In Rajapore basin, where there is no drainage, the loss is probably 80 to 90 per cent., and the Dancoonee basin would have been quite as bad, if not worse during the last season, had the present drainage works not been in operation; so that the benefit derived from them in this year alone is 80 to 90 per cent. of the value of the crops over 44,000 beeghas of land. The money value of this I leave to those benefited to estimate. It will probably be found to be not far short of five lakhs of rupees.
